

MAJOR WILLIAMS TALKS OF RUSSIA

Describes Conditions Where Americans Are Facing the Bolsheviki

By Associated Press
New York, March 7.—Conditions in Northern Russia where American and allied forces are facing the Bolsheviki, were described by Major C. T. Williams, of Baltimore, a member of the American Red Cross relief expedition to Russia, and Captain Wynand Pyle, of Detroit, an army medical officer, upon their arrival here on the transport Mauretania.

Major Williams said he had traveled 1,500 miles by sled in Russia since last December, visiting all the fronts where American and allied troops are conducting what he described as "blockhouse warfare." Major Williams left New York last August with a cargo of Red Cross supplies for Archangel.

"The American troops," he said, "are occupying principally or solely the main points where fighting is occurring or is likely to occur with the Bolsheviki. They are working heroically under trying conditions." The Red Cross, in co-operation with army authorities, he added, had established a 100-bed hospital for the Americans at Archangel and is issuing a weekly paper edited by Captain Roger Lewis, of the mission, for the benefit of the men.

In addition to the work for the soldiers, he said the Red Cross had dispatched relief expeditions by pack sled to many isolated villages where natives were found to be near the point of starvation and was supplying mid-day meals to more than 10,000 school children in Archangel.

Sunday School League and Academy Stage Basketball Games

Basketball ruffled last evening at the Academy and in one game of the Sunday School League, where the Methodist trimmed the Hick-A-Thrift, 27-17. The Academy summaries were:

DAUPHIN COUNTY CHAMPS

The Alpha basketball team of Harrisburg, by trimming the Hershey Boy Scouts, are claiming junior championship of the county. Ten straight games is the record without one defeat. This remarkable success is due greatly to the clever work of Emmanuel, a member of the famous family on Allison Hill, which has turned out a number of athletes, Weidman and Leib. The manager is Hyman Williams, 1600 North Fifth street, telephone, Bell 3985. Score:

China Burns Drug

Worth Nine Times Its Own Weight in Silver

Washington, March 7.—It is announced that the opium purchased by the Chinese government from the Opium Combine to prevent the resumption of the trade, long China's curse, has been burned.

The destruction of the opium began January 17. A hundred cases of the terrible habit-forming drug were consigned to the flames each day at Pootung, just across the river from Shanghai. The opium cases were ferried over from the Shanghai godowns of the merchants dealing in the imported drug. Each cargo was worth its weight in gold, and nine times its weight in silver.

Japanese Exports For 1918 Two Billion Yen

Tokyo, March 7.—Japan did a two-billion yen business in her export trade for 1918. The export returns show goods shipped abroad to the value of Yen 92,700,258. This put the balance of trade in Japan's favor by a large margin, nearly 150,000,000 gold bars. The total imports amounted to Yen 1,668,138,135.

War finance and this favorable balance of trade have affected the exchange situation in Japan, presenting a problem for the government during the year.

Spring Suits That Look Good to Men Who Wore Khaki & Blue

Soldiers and sailors who are returning to civilian life need new clothes. Men who wore our clothes before they donned khaki and blue will find the same high standards of quality and style justifying a continuation of the same high regard for our Spring suits and top coats.

Hirsh-Wickwire, Hickey-Freeman and August Bros., have given us clothing that is a worthy successor to the uniform that earned the esteem of the civilized world.

The integrity of these splendid suits consists not alone in the fine things you see but also in the things that you don't see—in the long patient rows of fine hard stitches that underlie the collar, the lapels, the armholes, and the fronts, stabilizing shape and giving enduring softness and beauty to the lines.

Handsome Patterns and Rich Colorings Distinguish These Spring Suits

Models whose individual styling appeal to young men.

Models for men who like good looks without the extremes.

Models in grey, blue, greens, browns, mixtures, overplaids and checks, $25.00 to $65.00

The Ace Model

Rope Shoulders and Cord Seams

The ace is corded in the seams back and front, has two lower simulated welt pockets, an imitation cuff buttoning link fashion, and a suppleness of look and line which is within an ace of perfection. Especially created by Hickey-Freeman for college men who want city clothes and for city men who don't want college clothes.
