

WILL DISCUSS R. R. PROBLEMS

Hines Calls Conference of Bankers on Tuesday at Washington

Washington, March 7.—Director General Hines determined to call a conference of leading bankers and railway corporation representatives in Washington next Tuesday to discuss possible solutions of the problem created by failure of Congress to appropriate funds for the railroad administration.

While regarding it as probable that no definite decision would be reached at the conference, officials believed the meeting might result in further negotiations. Reports reached Washington today that several bankers since adjournment of Congress, had discussed the advisability of establishing a bankers pool to lend as much as $100,000,000 to railroad interests. This plan, however, has not been presented to the railroad administration, it is said.

New York, March 7.—James Campbell, one of the seamen aboard the barkentine Puaka, which reached Cape Town last August after being four months out from Vancouver, B. C., with most of the crew in irons and Captain "Hell Fire" Pedersen and his two sons rilling from the poop deck with guns in their hands, told a story of cruel treatment at sea to United States Commissioner Hitchcock here. Campbell, 28, a native of Kingston, Ont., who never had bunked in a fo'c'sle before he signed in April as an able seaman for a voyage on the Puaka, testified under examination by R. L. Miller, Assistant United States Attorney, and Edward W. McDonald, counsel for the Pedersens, who are charged with flogging seamen. Campbell said that soon after the voyage began Captain Pedersen began the practice of summoning the men at one by one to the cabin, where they were beaten. He said the cruel treatment caused the cook, John Henry Stewart, to jump overboard.
