

BORAH WOULD PUT LEAGUE UP TO PEOPLE'S VOTE

Demands Question of America's Entry Be Decided by Plebiscite

By Associated Press
New York, March 7.—Opposition in varying degrees to the League of Nations, as outlined in the tentative covenant brought home by President Wilson was voiced by Senators Borah, of Idaho; Reed, of Missouri, and Thomas, of Colorado, in addresses before the Society of Arts and Science here last night.

Senator Borah, declaring that "those who have wrecked Europe for 300 years have absolute control of the proposed league of nations," demanded that the question of America's entry into the league be decided by a plebiscite of the people.

Senator Thomas urged that the formation of a world league be postponed until after the conclusion of peace and that a league plan then be worked out "calmly and in the light of experience gained from the peace settlement."

Call It Automatic
Senator Reed declared that the construction of the league was "essentially automatic," that the American people have been misled regarding it, and that it was "high time patriots aroused themselves to the hidden and sinister purposes of the undertaking."

Calling attention to the fact that the United States would have but one vote in the executive council of the proposed league, while Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan each would have one vote, Senator Borah declared that "if there arose a conflict between European policies and American policies, three European votes and but a single American vote."

"The power of war or peace," he declared, "would rest with five diplomats, three of them European, sitting behind closed doors."

Asserting he had been asked what he would offer in place of the league, he declared he had to offer "the intense nationalism of Washington, of Monroe, of Lincoln, of Theodore Roosevelt."

Should Live Own Life
"America should live her own life," he continued. "I would be willing to take Woodrow Wilson's arm and walk arm in arm with him, but I would not let him lead me down the path of the League of Nations."

Senator Thomas said he had studied the proposed league plan, proposed to himself in the favor, but had found himself unable to do so.

He was in favor, he said, of some plan which would "make war more infrequent, if not impossible," but he regarded the proposed league as filled with dangers to peace.

"This is a commitment to a new national policy, more wisely made than abandoned," he asserted. "I believe in the sanctity of treaty obligation."

Opposed to Japan
One of the most serious drawbacks in the proposed plan, he declared, was the fact that Japan, which he characterized as a charter member, although the question of lifting immigration restrictions had been dropped by Japan, Senator Thomas predicted that the question would continually be revived in the league with embarrassment to the United States.

"Japan's ideals are not our ideals," he declared. "With such mixed membership, I can see only disaster ahead."

Another provision which Senator Thomas held forth as "dangerous" was that for international labor settlements.

STARVATION HAS "RED RUSSIA" IN GRIP; CATS AT $3

British Refugees Report Terrible Situation in Petrograd and Moscow

London, March 7.—Starvation prevails throughout Bolshevik Russia and is killing off the population by thousands. Diseases due to under nourishment are rampant and food is so scarce in Petrograd and Moscow that cats sell rapidly for $3 each.

The undertakers cannot cope with conditions as there is not enough wood for coffins. These reports have been brought to the attention of the British government within the last week by British subjects recently returned from Russia.

Several of the Britishers have lived nearly all their lives in Russia and left Russia because of the intolerable conditions. They are unanimous that the food situation is indescribably terrible and that if means are not found to alleviate it the inhabitants of Bolshevik Russia may starve to death.

The Britishers say that the plight of Russia is a direct result of the reign of anarchy and terror instituted by Lenin and Trotsky. They say the Russian problem has ceased to be a political question and has become a question of common humanity.

Thousands are dying daily in the great centers of population like Petrograd, Moscow, Kiev and Odessa. In Petrograd alone the deaths from famine, typhoid and cholera numbered 200 daily. Three hundred "hunger tipus" is carrying off young and old everywhere and in Moscow glanders is epidemic.

There is no fuel for lighting and millions live in pitch darkness after nightfall. The troubles of the Russians are further aggravated by lack of coal and wood, which can be obtained only by the very rich or by the favorites and parasites of the Bolshevik government.

PROHIBITION TO GET LITTLE RUM IN WAREHOUSES

Big Buying Movement of Consumers, Even Under Tax, Is Probable

Washington, March 7.—National prohibition next July 1 will find only about 50,000,000 gallons of liquor in bonded warehouses, barred from disposition for beverage purposes, if the present demand for whisky continues during intervening months.

Officials who have observed the effect of high taxes in the past believe, however, that withdrawals from bond will decrease under the new revenue law, and that between 60,000,000 and 75,000,000 gallons will be left in warehouses July 1.

It is conceded that it is impossible to force the effect of approaching prohibition on the demand for liquor to be stored away by consumers, and officials say a big movement of buying even under the increased tax, may develop and leave the quantity of liquor left in bond, is smaller than the advance estimates.

Doesn't Include All
The estimates do not take into consideration liquor which may be stored in cellars or attics of prospective consumers. Nor do they include any stocks which wholesale or retail dealers may not sell before the prohibition wave catches them. These are not measurable by any official reports.

Revenue bureau officials calculate that at present bonded warehouses connected with distilleries, but under lock and key of government agents, hold less than 90,000,000 of the 200,000,000 gallons in stock when manufacture ceased September 9, 1917 under the food conservation act. Withdrawals in January and February have been less than the 10,000,000 or more gallons in December, according to indications based on preliminary reports from revenue agents.

On January 1, 412,000,000 gallons of distilled spirits were reported in bond, including 6,600,000 gallons not available for beverage purposes. Most of these figures were obtained by deduction of allowance for leakage and evaporation from barrels.

On December 1, the latest date for which itemized figures are available, the stock of distilled spirits in bond was distributed as follows: Whisky, 108,846,000 gallons; rum, 696,000; gin, 2,338,000; alcohol, 5,760,000; refined alcohol or "high wines," 3,744,000; and brandy, 2,316,000.

Normal Rate of Demand
The normal rate of demand, measured by withdrawal from bond, had been between 4,500,000 and 5,000,000 gallons a month until late October, when withdrawals jumped to 8,258,000. In November they were 9,190,000, and in December it is estimated they ran over 10,000,000 gallons, while in January and February indications are that the demand probably was nearer 9,000,000 gallons.

Most of this liquor was taxed when taken out of the bonded warehouse at the rate of $3.20 a gallon. Under the new revenue act, the rate is doubled amounting to $6.40. Consequently the price of liquor is $3.20 a gallon or 80 cents a quart, and the aggregate tax per quart is $1.60.

By terms of the pending bill providing for enforcement of prohibition under the constitutional amendment effective next January 16, the President would be empowered to appropriate for government purposes, the stock of liquor left unused in warehouses. The price to be paid for this would be determined by agreement or by a special commission.

YANK ENGINEERS SPEED WORK FOR OUSTING SOVIET

Brave Rigors of Severe Winter Weather to Build Roads and Blockhouses

With American Troops in North Russia, March 7.—Beginning at Archangel and extending to the furthest point south in the forests where the Northern Russian expeditionary force is operating against the Bolsheviks, the work of American engineers is evident.

The work went into almost impassable swamps in the early autumn and built roads, blockhouses, barracks and bridges, to say nothing of a corduroy road or a railroad switch track now and then. In the dead of winter, when the thermometer has gone far below zero, they have done the same thing in the snow.

Wood Close at Hand
Fortunately for the engineers, their most needed supply wood, has been close at hand. The British officers commanding the expedition have never ceased to praise the speed with which these Americans have frequently gone into a forest and transformed some of its trees into livable barracks or blockhouses within a couple of days' time.

The country through which the aid and Russian troops are operating is, for the most part, very sparsely settled. At some points the American engineers have doubled the existing number of houses in a village. They have built, built and are still building.

One of their jobs on the Volodga railroad sector of the front has been to transform rough little Russian boxcars into habitations for troops.

They have double-walled them against the cold and in a company train one can find bath cars, kitchenettes, dormitory cars, hospital and nearly every kind of a commissary store or canteen, all built from boxcars and, for the most part, lighted by electricity.

Report of Committee on Fire Hazard Held Up

No report from the committee which investigated the fire hazard conditions at the Camp Curtin school where an addition is being built, was expected at the meeting of the board of directors this afternoon. It is understood the committee members will submit their findings at the meeting March 21.

Superintendent F. E. Downes in his report to the directors recommended the appointment of Miss Elizabeth Baker as principal of the Camp Curtin building, dating from February 24; election of Mrs. M. H. Thomas as a regular grade teacher; Mrs. Anna A. Capell, substitute grade teacher.

He also suggested that the board authorize holding an open session at the Technical High School Friday evening, May 16. A committee may be named to prepare resolutions in honor of George S. Maehen, late principal of the Camp Curtin building.

George W. Kelly, who has been appointed as a member of the board, is expected to be present at the meeting and take the oath of office. His term extends until the end of the present year.

WOULD MAKE MILITARY TERMS MORE SEVERE

Captain Tardieu Believed to Express Official French View

Paris, March 7.—What may be regarded as the official French view of the military terms was expressed by Captain Tardieu, when he said to the peace delegates: "It is almost unanimous that the terms should be even more severe than those proposed."

Captain Tardieu also said that the commission on Belgian affairs had agreed on the revision of the treaty of 1839. It is understood that the commission favor the addition of Malmedy (in Ithenish Prussia) and Moyasnet (on the Belgian-Frussian border) to Belgium.

With regard to possible alterations, Captain Tardieu explained that various objections made not only by the United States but by other nations, would be considered, first, by the drafting commission and, later, by the council.

"This work will be resumed," he said, "immediately after the return of President Wilson."

To the slight dissatisfaction displayed by the smaller powers over their allotment of five members to the recently created Economic and Financial Commissions, Captain Tardieu appeared to attach little importance. Some surprise was expressed today, however, when the announcement was made that the smaller powers had chosen as their representatives delegates from Brazil, Portugal, Panama, Bolivia and Ecuador.

Reports of Syndicate Forming to Finance Requirements Result in Big Buying

New York, March 7.—Rails led the active and strong opening of today's stock market, heavy buying resulting from reports that banking interests are likely to form a syndicate to finance their requirements.

The advance was not restricted to that division, however, shippings, equipments, motors, oils, leathers, metals, tobacco, distilling and food shares participating in equal or greater measure. Kelly-Springfield life was the sole exception, reacting three points on publication of the company's plan of capitalization.

Although confirmation of the railway money pool was lacking, the market yielded none of its strength and very little of its activity. Standard rails rose 1 to 1-1/2, leading shippings 2 to 4, and oils, motors and accessories one to two. Advances of one to three points accompanied the buying of coppers, tobaccos and numerous peace industrials. U. S. Steel made a new maximum for the present movement at 95 3/8, but fur-
