The armistice has been signed and repeatedly extended. "The Dogs of War" have been properly muzicle—in some sections they have obeyed the command when the sections are considered to be a wasted accompliament, an unproductive development of art and energy? On the session, with problems and puzzles confronting them from every angle. A condition without precedent to work from. A League of Nations has been proposed, if adopted there will be a period of general peace, which will be demanded and endorsed and maintained (laugh?) if we have to fight for it. If a peace compact is consummated, it will not be the lion and the lamb, which will led down together but the puring of the British Lion, will be sweet music to the ears of the American Eagle. The lion prowling continuously with one ear to the ground, while our eagle will scout the skies, a position of general observation, essaying dips and dives for general entertainment, while his eagle eye is carefully locating commercial quarry, with a semi-understanding that all finds be divided on a 50-50 basis. Don't tell me there is no chance for the millenium, it seems to be at hand. The Allied Nations will gather with us to participate in the national carnival of universal contement, scattering the lilles of the valley—popples and red roses over the grave of the entente's errors.

Tex Rickard says Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey are going to fight for the championship of the world, also that he will find the place and everything necessary to put on a real battle. Here is Willard jumping over a hurdle to show how good he is. This to refute allegations that he has been in retirement so long that he is a "has been." Here also is Dempsey, photographed several days ago, showing how he is going to land the real

The Pennsylvania Apprentice Basketball Team have booked the Commonwealth Five for Monday, March 10, to be played on the Motive Power Athletic floor, corner Seventh and Boyd streets. These teams are composed of local stars, and now that they are about to come together a good game is assured. Gordon Ford, manager and guard of the Harrisburg Independents, will referee the game. Dancing will be indulged in after the game. The Sourbeer-Myers orchestra to furnish the music. As an added attraction "Nat" Isaacman, one of the city's most popular dancers, with Miss Dorothy Bodenborn, will demonstrate some of the latest steps.

Tech Brings Out Much Talent

The freshman class of the Technical High school entertained the student body at chapel yesterday morning with an entertainement that was not surpassed by any of the three other classes, it was the fourth and final entertainment given by the four classes and much latent talent was discovered in the school. The "Freshies" opened their program, in charge of Carl Gingrich, with a selection by the Freshman orchestra of fifteen pieces. Each class had a musical organization of its own, but none of the four classes presented as well rounded out an organization as did the first-year lads.

Emphatic Encore

After the opening selection Edward Elscheid played a piano solo with such skill that he was encored by the student body. Then the Freshman Glee Club of twenty-five voices sang as only the Freshmen can sing. Samuel Krebs and Carl Gingrich gave the school a taste of chamber music, playing a cello and violin duet. Charles Keller accompanied them.

DeGray Proved to be the star performer of the morning, as well as being chosen as having given one of the best numbers rendered during the series of entertainments. As an encore he played the "Marsellaise." Another well-received number was a vocal duet by Clarence Brownewell and Harry Etter. They were encored twice. Paul Vennie concluded the performance with solos on an altohorn and the cornet. He, too, was encored.

Six-Cylinder Orchestra

The orchestra was composed of the

Six-Cylinder Orchestra

The orchestra was composed of the following plapers: Violins, Carl Gingrich, Donald Millar, Robert Hoffsommer and Edgar Spotts; cornets, Paul Vennie: Lawrence Einzig and William Goldstein; cello, Samuel Krebs; drums, J. Bogar; traps, Shuey; piano, Julian DeGray; saxaphone, Donald Slothower; trombone, Kenneth Hoffman; clarinet, Edward Begelfer; fife, Joe Klinedinst.

Catching Up

Make-up classes for students who failed on subjects in the mid-year examinations have started at 8.30 in the morning in charge of members of the faculty. This opportunity will give students a chance to make up back work.

Gordon Ford's prompt response to the Altoona challenge brings here to-night one of the fastest teams in the State, promising a hard contest. The Altoona team claims the championship of several western counties and also the championship of the entire Pennsivania Railroad system. If the locals can annex this game in the victory column they will have a good hold on the Central Pennsylvania championship.

Several stars of the western part of the State will appear in the visitors' line-up, including "Dick" Boldt and Knepley, who are a fast combination at the forward positions; Richards, one of the best centers around Blair county, will hold down the pivot position; Schlegel and Epple, the grands for the visitors, are considered one of the best defense around Blair county. Dancing will immediately follow the game.
