Phoenix, Ariz., March 11.-Voicing his personal performane to "eat a little dirt rather than to have another war," and declaring with regard to the League of Nations that since the day of Washington's stand against entangling alliances "times have changed." Session of the Arizona legislature.

Vice-President Marshall disclaimed any intention to campaign for the league, but asserted that America was faced with the choice either of Johning in some plan to prevent future wars or of preparing immediately for the next outbreak.

"While I would be forever against anything which would besmirch the honor of our flag or lessen the grandness and glory of the American people, yet I am convinced that we are facing a new era and that things must be different in the future," Mr. Marshall said.

"We have piled up an enormous debt; spent billions on useless engines of war to kill our fellowmen, and for myself I have seen so many of our boys come back shattered and know of so many others who will not come back, that I would rather eat a little dirt than have another war. On the other hand there are certain great questions for which it would be better to fight, and if I thought there was anything in this League of Nations to lower the self-respect of the United States, then I would rather fight; but I do not think there is."
