SHOULDER INSIGNIA

NEARLY everybody has been puzzled by the insignia of soldiers returning from France.

Distinctive insignia is now worn on the left shoulder by all members of combat divisions and by corps and army troops.

There is an interesting story behind the adoption of almost every design. State traditions, early military achievements, symbolical beasts, all have furnished inspirations for the insignia.

Other drawings and histories will be printed in later issues until the list is complete.

ANOTHER EPIDEMIC

THERE are very distinct signs that the influenza epidemic will soon be a matter of history entirely.

Spring fever is an old malady. Nobody ever has been able to find a specific for it.

posed to be very good for spring fever and other complaints peculiar to the season, and perhaps it was, for it must have been a very hardy germ that would have remained in the same human system with such a vile concoction.

But older folks partook of something more pleasant, generally taking the form of a "spring tonic" that usually had concealed about its person a "kick" that would have made a beaker of Jersey Lightning resemble by comparison a drink of sassafras.

Ladies who never indulged at any other time of year used to key themselves up for the housecleaning orgy that way, which leads to the thought that may be next year, with the country "dry" and the old-fashioned spring tonic toned down to the strength of strong tea, women will not be able to get up energy enough to houseclean with the usual energy.

More of the administration legislation is being whipped into shape and will be introduced next week when various measures will be reported out of committee in the Senate and sent along to the House.

MORE INCONSISTENCY

STRICTLY in line with the apparent purpose of the American peace delegates not to hold out for too severe penalties to be imposed upon Germany, comes the startling announcement from Paris that if the Germans refuse to accept the peace treaty as presented to them America will not join with the allies in enforcing its terms.

There is wide discussion among the allied peace commissions as to what course will be pursued in case the Germans do not consent to the hard terms that are being prepared for them.

It is admitted that in such a contingency Germany will not attempt to renew the war, but will simply defy the allies to compel disarmament, to recover loot stolen from Belgium and France and to collect the indemnities that will be demanded.

If that situation presents itself it will be necessary for the allied troops to occupy the whole of Germany, take possession of administration centers, and direct the conduct of affairs until the provisions of the peace treaty have been satisfied.

Now a special dispatch from Paris, censored and passed by the officials in charge of news items from the Peace Conference, gives us the following information: "American delegates to the Peace Conference have again made it plain in renewed suggestion that American forces would not participate in any such venture."

Where, may we ask, did our delegates receive their authority to say that the United States would not co-operate with its allies, or "associates" if you please, in forcing upon Germany the peace that we have assisted in winning at the cost of 100,000 lives and 200,000 maimed?

It is stated in this inspired cablegram from the French capital that "the American people at home never would approve of indefinite participation of American troops at the expense of billions."

By thus throwing responsibility upon the "people at home" our delegates are doing their utmost to upset any plans the allies may have to impose terms upon Germany commensurate with the enormity of her crimes.

How preposterous is all this! The only satisfaction the American people will get from the war is to see Germany suffer somewhat in proportion to the sufferings she has brought upon other nations.

We want no territory or money indemnity except for property destroyed contrary to international law, but we do want to see Germany placed in a position where her menace to civilization will be permanently removed.

A nation that has given of her men and money as has the United States is not going to stop when the fruits of victory are almost within her grasp, and the American delegates are putting their countrymen in an entirely false position by alleging the contrary.

And how inconsistent with the proposed league of nations is the stand of our peace commissioners in this matter. Under the terms of the constitution of the league the United States, if a member, will be required to furnish troops, in conjunction with other nations, to enforce the decrees of the league.

Yet, in the very first question of that nature to arise among the powers that will control the league, the United States flatly refuses to be a party. If we are not ready to assist in the enforcement of a peace already won, what may we ask, is to be our attitude when America is required by the league to enter upon a new war, in the result of which we have no national interest? "Consistency," sang the poet, "thou art a jewel."

CONSTRUCTIVE REPORT

THE annual report of Commissioner Hassler, outlining the needs of the city water department, should receive the early attention of Council.

His recommendations for additional filter beds, increased pumping capacity and double mains in North street are matters with which it will not do to trifle.

Politics in Pennsylvania

By the Ex-Committeeman

Pretty strenuous efforts to prevent a clash over the Brady primary election bill and its companion legislation are being made by legislative leaders and they are indulging in hopes that there will be some agreement to have the bills go back to the elections committee for study.

More of the administration legislation is being whipped into shape and will be introduced next week when various measures will be reported out of committee in the Senate and sent along to the House.

OFFICIAL GOLF

Capitol Hill is considerably interested in whether golf will be the official recreation as it has been since 1911, when John K. Tener learned the game on the links of an exclusive club in the State Government into devotees of the driver and the putter.

A new claimant for golf honors is presented in recently-appointed State Public Service Commissioner Samuel G. M. Clement, Jr., who, as a member of the Philadelphia Country Club, the Aronimink Golf Club and the Germantown Cricket Club, has figured on a number of golfing expeditions to various parts of the State.

Howard M. Hoke, secretary to Attorney General Schaffer and author of a number of short stories and poems which have been printed in the magazine, has a rival for activities in the arts on Capitol Hill.

Thomas Blaine Donaldson, designated for State Insurance Commissioner, spent yesterday with Charles A. Ambler, whom he succeeded and who has been very ill at Atlantic City.

It is further announced on reliable authority that the "drys" will make no effort to put a right of search and seizure clause in the bill, considering the opinion of the Department to such a clause which would permit the constituted authorities to enter a man's home to search for liquor and confiscate any intoxicants found.

How preposterous is all this! The only satisfaction the American people will get from the war is to see Germany suffer somewhat in proportion to the sufferings she has brought upon other nations.

LABOR NOTES

The Carney Point (N. J.) plant of the DuPont Powder Company, which during the war employed over 15,000 men and women, has reduced its working force to less than 3,000.

The total cost of erecting the American Federation of Labor headquarters in Washington, which included the cost of the ground upon which the building stands, was $189,317.68. Of this amount $66,740 has been paid, leaving an indebtedness of $122,577.68.

Tax Free Covenant Bonds

By JOHN G. HERNDON, JR., Tax Specialist

FROM the standpoint of the income tax law, bonds may be divided into four general groups: (1) tax exempt bonds; (2) United States obligations issued since September 1, 1917; (3) tax-free covenant bonds; and (4) other bonds.

The first of these classes includes bonds issued by any of the States of the United States, or political subdivisions thereof, all United States Government bonds issued prior to September 1, 1917, all bonds of possessions of the United States, and Federal Farm Loan Bonds.

I SHALL EASY A CARELESS MANNER AND LOOK THE AUDIENCE OVER... NOT A BAD HOUSE—NOT BAD.

NOW FOR A LITTLE FANCY WORK. I'LL BET THE AUDIENCE WATCHES ME AS MUCH AS ANY OF THESE BUM ACTORS.

I WONDER WHO CAMILLE IS FLIRTING WITH IN THE AUDIENCE. I'LL GIVE HIM A NASTY LOOK AND SQUELCH 'IM.

WELL I'VE PUT THAT ACT OVER AGAIN. I DON'T KNOW WHAT THEY'D DO WITHOUT ME—
