MANN IS SILENT RULER OF HOUSE

With His Vested Power He Will Supervise All . Committees

Washington, March 14 .- The comletion of the standing committees the next House of Representatives, with the exception of a few changes to be made in the minor committee, placed Representative James R. Mann, of Illinois, who was defeated for the speakership by Representative Frederick H. Gillett, of Massachusetts, in the position of virtual dictator of the lower House the Sixty-sixth Congress.

Mr. Mann, who directed the foration of the committees, declined to accept membership on any of them, and even withdrew from the em, and even withdrew from the the last Congress.

the last Congress.

His action leaves him in a position that is unique in the history of Congress. With Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, floor leader: Representative Knutson, of Minnesota, Republican whip, and other personal followers placed as chairmen of the important committees of the next House, Mr. Mann unencumbered by any routine committee work, will exercise a supervisory control over the work of all committees and of proceedings on the floor of the House.

Tomorrow, Saturday Will Be the Biggest of Our Three Introductory Selling Days

Our specialized values in women's and misses' new Spring Suits at $22.50, $25 and $29.50

Has caused the greatest buying in our store's history

These specialized values are the result of intensive merchandising methods. We started out to get the very best garments possible, to sell at these prices. True, they cost us more than other stores would pay for the same grade of merchandise, but we are going to prove beyond a question of a doubt that Kaufman's specialized values are positively unsurpassed.

Those who think it is necessary to pay exorbitant prices for new Spring suits will find, when they see these garments that they are very much mistaken. Our famous underselling prices give you direct savings on merchandise of the better grades. It matters not to us whether the suits are the finest suits obtainable, whether they be low-priced garments or higher priced. Our small profit basis of pricing merchandise and the fact that we pay more to get better merchandise is the reason why you should buy your Spring suit at Kaufman's.
