

BISHOP ASKS THAT SABBATH BE KEPT HOLY

In Pastoral Letter Read in All Churches Obedience of Law Is Urged

Bishop Philip R. McDevitt, of the Diocese of Harrisburg, Roman Catholic church, in a pastoral letter read in all Catholic churches of the diocese yesterday, protested against the disregard for the Sabbath day. Coming on the eve of the hearing of the Rorke bill which authorizes Sunday entertainments, musicals and motion picture shows of an educational nature with certain provisos, the letter is regarded as an expression of the church's attitude in regard to the proposed legislation.

The bishop opens his letter with an explanation of how the Sabbath originated. He explains the observance of the Jewish Sabbath, how it changed to the Christian Sabbath, and continues with an outline of the kind of work which is permitted on Sunday. He gives his definition of the meaning of the Sunday precept and explains what is servile work, continuing with an explanation of the kind of work which is permitted on Sunday. He says that the law of the Lord's Day, which makes Sunday a day of rest, for attacks against the day of rest are not simply against the law of Mt. Sinai, but against the best interests of humanity and of the health and manhood of the nation.

"Those who desecrate the one day of the week that is set aside for worship and rest by divine ordinance," he says, "are guilty of a crime which God is indifferent to their scandalous conduct. No employer or employee may violate with impunity the rest of the Lord's Day. Neither individuals nor nations shall engage in the violation of the divine wrath that follows the profanation of Sundays. 'Your festival days,' says Holy Writ, speaking of those who desecrate the day of rest, shall be changed into lamentations and mourning. On the other hand, the same inspired writings declare: 'Blessed is the man' who keepeth the Sabbath, from profaning it, that keepeth his hands from doing evil."

While the Church proclaims the sanctity and commands her children to observe the day in a Christian manner, she has ever protested against the narrow, intolerant view of the Sunday observance which have no warrant either in Holy Scripture or in common sense. She has always had some notions in observance of the narrow, intolerant view of the Sunday observance which have no warrant either in Holy Scripture or in common sense. She has always had some notions in observance of the narrow, intolerant view of the Sunday observance which have no warrant either in Holy Scripture or in common sense.

More Than 13,000 File Tax Returns With Uncle Sam; Some Stragglers in Line

That 13,000 income tax returns have been filed by residents of Harrisburg and surrounding territory, is a conservative estimate, is the opinion of deputy internal revenue collectors at the offices in the post-office building today.

More than 5,000 persons have come to the deputy collectors who have been busy at the local offices for almost three weeks, for assistance in filing their returns. No definite figures are given, however, since the returns were bundled daily and sent to the Lancaster office and no record as to figures were kept here.

But these figures are in addition to those sent directly by the taxpayer to the Lancaster office. Most of them are of persons who paid tax on their income for the first time this year.

More than a score of persons who had thus far failed to file a return on their income of 1918, appeared at the offices this morning and filed their returns and paid the tax. Just what will be done with such returns the collectors here are unable to say. Whether the filers of these late returns will be subject to penalties provided for those who failed to file their returns on time, they have no information, they say.

$500,000,000 Mortgage Filed at Recorder's Office Against Bethlehem Steel

William F. Housman, attorney, filed at the office of Recorder James E. Lentz, a mortgage for $500,000,000 held by the Guaranty Trust Company against the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. It is said the amount represented in this mortgage is a consolidation of all the other debts of similar nature against the larger one for $500,000,000 is to be entered in all the counties in which the steel corporation owns properties. County Recorder Lentz said it will require at least one volume to copy the mortgage and place it on record here.

White Hill Roundhouse Abandoned by P. R. R.

The old White Hill roundhouse, operated for many years by the Cumberland Valley Railroad, closed down for all time on Saturday night as a result of the merger of the Pennsylvania and Cumberland Valley Railroads.

The engines of the Cumberland Valley Railroad, formerly housed at White Hill, will henceforth be sent to Enola and Harrisburg. The newly erected transfer building will no longer be used as a transfer, the buildings having been removed to the Penn's headquarters in Division street.

KIWANIS CLUB TO BE GUESTS OF PETER MAGARO

Members of the Kiwanis Club of Harrisburg will be the guests of Manager Peter Magaro, at the Regent Theater this evening, when they will see the humorous play, "The Little Women." Soldiers, sailors and marines will accompany the members of the club on their visit to the theater. Each member is asked to bring a man in the service as the guest of Mr. Magaro.

PARTY HARMONY NOW IN LINE OF MANS

Washington, March 17.—Representative James M. Mann, defeated for Speaker of the next House, yesterday issued a statement in which he praised the composition of committees, and arranged Representative Nicholas Longworth for characterizing him as a "man of the party."

Mann said he intended to forget his personal disappointment and work for harmony in the Republican party.

RAINBOW TROOPS HEAR PERSHING'S FAREWELL WORDS

Commander Wishes Fighters Good Luck Before Departure For U. S.

By Associated Press.
Coblenz, March 17.—General Pershing said good-by to the boys of the Forty-second Division yesterday. In a farewell address to the troops of the Rainbow unit, who are preparing to start for home the first week in April, the American commander-in-chief wished them all good luck in the peaceful occupations into which they will go on the other side of the Atlantic.

The inspection and review of the division took place in a great field near Remagen, on the west bank of the Rhine. General Pershing spoke to more than 20,000 after the Rainbow Division passed the reviewing stand in massed formation.

From the heights across the river hundreds of German civilians assembled and watched the review through field glasses. General Pershing spoke from the rear end of a wagon, with the soldiers gathered about him.

Before his address the commander-in-chief presented one Congressional Medal of Honor, two Distinguished Service Medals and forty-six Distinguished Service Crosses to officers and men of the division.

Pins Medal on Corporal

The Medal of Honor was pinned by General Pershing on Corporal Sidney Manning of the One Hundred and Sixty-seventh Infantry, for leading his platoon during an attack on the Oureq after its commanders had fallen. Despite wounds he had received, Manning led the men forward and gained and held an important position in the face of a terrific enemy fire. All but seven members of the platoon were killed or wounded. Manning himself was wounded nine times in this attack. When the United States entered the war Manning was a farmer boy near Brewton, Alabama.

The Distinguished Service Medals

were given to Brigadier General Douglas MacArthur and Colonel William Hughes, Jr.

Sunday morning General Pershing inspected the troops of the Third Corps near Vallendar.

Central Iron Employee Killed Under Train

Milan Melocovich, an Australian who boarded at 527 Race street, a brakeman at the Central Iron and Steel Company, was badly injured this morning that he died before he reached the Harrisburg Hospital to which institution he was rushed.

Melocovich, when found was lying on the ground near a string of cars. He had been struck by a train. He had been injured when dragged a considerable distance by the cars. It is not known how he came to get beneath them.

CHURCH HOLDS LUNCHEON

A Business Men's Luncheon is being served at the Market Square Presbyterian church every day this week at 12 o'clock noon. Dr. W. Orr, noted evangelist, will speak at very luncheon and Harry P. Armstrong, evangelistic chorister will sing. The luncheons are planned as opportunities for the members of the church to meet Dr. Orr, who is conducting a series of meetings for the congregation and friends.

RUMMAGE SALE TO AID HOSPITAL WORK

Old Post Office Annex to Be Used For Sale of Wares Collected From the City's Homes

"The time has come," the Walrus said, "to talk of many things: Of short-term notes, spring hats and coats, And Rummage Sales and things."

While the annual Rummage Sale for the benefit of Harrisburg Hospital will not be held until the week beginning April 7, preparations are already being made for it—not alone by those who will have the affair in charge, but by those who expect to profit by it.

For a long time the first floor of the old post office building has been a loading place for tons of blankets and other supplies prepared for use of the selective service boards of Pennsylvania. The sudden termination of the war rendered this mass of material useless; and it is to be removed during the next few days so that the Rummage Sale will have plenty of room.

Last year the event was held in the Board of Trade hall, which was found much too small. The old post office building is much larger and more convenient.

On April 7, 8 and 9 goods will be received for the sale. Everything is desired—clothing that is wearable, household utensils, furniture and supplies, jewelry, pictures, everything that can be sold. All of the proceeds go to the Harrisburg Hospital.

The sale proper begins April 10 and continues for three days.

Marshall Furnace at Newport Closed Down

Newport, Pa., March 17.—Marshall Furnace, operated by the Juniata Furnace and Foundry Company, has been indefinitely closed, due to the fall in the steel business. Slightly less than 100 men are affected by the closing of the establishment.

The plant had been idle for some time before the opening of the world war, but was again "blown in" when the steel business boomed. Some of the employees have gone to Coatesville where they have found employment. Manager C. W. Raudenbush, Superintendent S. H. Heiders and one night watchman are the sole employees retained here at this time.

Plan Reorganization of Adjutant General's Dept.

Bills for the reorganization of the department of the Adjutant General and amending the National Guard officers' retirement law will be presented to the Legislature tonight as administration measures.

The Adjutant General's Department will be divided into four bureaus—administrative, accounting, records and supplies. The latter will include the State Arsenal and have five divisions—administrative, accounting, manufacturing, mechanical and utility.

It was stated to-day that the bill will make permanent places for emergency, contingent and war funds, especially in the Arsenal and property work. It will also abolish dual officeholding and it will be stated in the bill what attaches shall be connected with the State Armory Board, for whose work they have been receiving small salaries in addition to their regular pay.

The amendment to the retirement law will permit of officers in continuous service for ten years being retired. They now have to serve fifteen years in the same grade or forty continuously.

Celebrate St. Patrick's Day by Wearing of the Green

Sons and daughters of Erin and all friends of the Emerald Isle are today wearing the green in celebration of St. Patrick's Day, Ireland's national day, sacred to the memory of her patron saint.

Among the annual events which mark the celebration of the day is that of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, to be held in Cathedral Hall tonight. This celebration will consist of an entertainment and dance.

Greek Team Carries Off Honors in Annual Debate Between Academy Students

The Greek team carried off the honors in the annual Greek-Roman debate held at the Harrisburg Academy Friday evening. The E. J. Stackpole prize was won by William H. Snyder.

The question debated was, "Resolved, That There Should Be a Large and Immediate Increase in the United States Navy." The Greeks took the affirmative side of the question, and the Romans were on the negative. On the debating teams were:

Greeks, affirmative, Harry V. Lester, James L. Homire, Clyde W. Rife; alternate, Thomas R. Wickersham. Romans, negative, Henry R. Douglas, Jr., Edward M. Green, 3d, William H. Snyder; alternate, Ernest Earnest.

The judges were the Rev. H. W. A. Hanson, Warren R. Jackson and B. Frank Nead.

In connection with the debate, an interesting program was presented. The Academy orchestra played, Franklin G. Wilson rendered a solo and the first round of the debate followed. Music was given by the Mandolin Club and following was the rebuttal. The judges' decision was then given and prizes were awarded. Jacob E. Rudolph rendered a solo and the Rev. H. W. A. Hanson, pastor of the Messiah Lutheran Church, delivered a stirring address.

The Greek-Roman debate is an important annual event at the Academy. There is strong rivalry between the two teams and the outcome of the contest is regarded as a decisive victory for the winning side. Friday evening's debate was the seventh annual contest. The Romans held four victories to their credit and the Greeks follow with a total of three.

UPSETS LOWER COURT FINDING

Washington, March 17.—Federal court decrees holding that the Kansas Natural Gas Company and its subsidiaries are engaged in interstate commerce and enjoining Missouri and Kansas state and municipal officials from interfering with rates fixed by the court for the distribution of natural gas were set aside to-day by the Supreme Court.

So many claims are made by so many people about the merits of clothes that a man is puzzled to come to a conclusion as to what clothes he should buy.

That's perfectly natural.

Claims are easy to make.

It comes as easy as rolling off a log—with some people.

Making good is quite another matter. Not so easy, unless—

The concern has the goods before the claims are made.

Take Schleisner clothes, for instance. They are tailored so perfectly, so stylish without being freakish, so fine in quality—we don't have to make any wild statements about them in order to interest you.

You are well aware that you want good clothes. You know that right down in your heart you are looking for the best.

You are a good judge—really the best judge you will find—for your own apparel.

Oh, yes, we prepare for you—prepare so that all you have to do is to come in and select your spring suit and top coat—and then you do the judging.

Fine suits and top coats here at $30 to $60.

"There's a Reason"

No--- We are not going to tell you what it is ---just yet!

It's a little secret of our own that we can hardly hold---but it's bound to come out---for it's too good to keep.

Everybody is interested in it---we know, for everybody really needs it!

Every family will be the happier for it. Every man, woman, boy and girl are waiting for it!

There's a fine reputation of years standing back of it.

You'll know it the minute you see it. You'll like it immensely.

What is it then? you are asking yourself. We'll TELL you very soon.

Maybe we'll tell you what it is, in this paper, tomorrow, maybe not!

Read this paper tomorrow, so you won't miss it, if it should be revealed.

That's all for today
