War Lecture
Friday Evening
The tide of battle, fighting shoulder to shoulder with the French, British and others of the allied countries.

When Ethel Barrymore, whom we are to see at the Orpheum Theater for the first time, Saturday, in "The Off Chance," became fifteen years old, she encountered a dramatic situation rather common and not a novelty to most of us. It was, in fact, a press shortage on money. Life and Barrymore was at a convent school in Philadelphia, when this worldly stage ancestor, numerous Dews and Barrymores, she determined to meet the difficulty face to face and persuade her uncle, Life, to award her a small role in "The Bauble Shop," in which he was appearing at the time.

Rose Coghlan, now a featured player in the cast of "The Aftermath," which comes to the Orpheum, is the most remarkable of the twenty years for her twenty years she has held and justified the dictum of the dramatic writers of the United States that she is about the best actress that England has sent us. Certainly she is the most remarkable of those who have remained with us, for after starting in her own and her brother's plays, she has since then stands at the top of the list of the versatile character actresses and grand actresses of the metropolitan theater. The Coghlan of the theater have all been artists in one or several branches of artistic endeavor and for five generations the family has included painters, musicians, playwrights and actors (always in actor or more) who have gained notable success.

The ever-popular colored company, "The Smarter Set," with Salem Tutt Whitney and J. Homer Tutt, presenting their latest musical comedy, "Darkest Americans," which is a combination of melody, song and dance, will be the attraction at the Orpheum next Monday and Tuesday, with daily matinees.

Salem Tutt Whitney is seen in the principal role, while J. Homer Tutt, in the role of a conspicuous factor in the success of the entertainment. In the musical program are to be found twenty-five numbers, written expressly for "Darkest Americans," among which are: "I Want to Be a Soldier," "The Old-Fashioned Way," "Fanny What Love Will Do," "My Jewel of the River Nile," "Sammy Got His Gun," "When You're Dreaming in the Moonlight," "This Creole Flower Garden of Mine," "Since the Sammies and the Sambo's Got Through Fight."

Groundhog Proves Theory; Pet Vanishes at His Shadow

Hazleton, Pa., March 20.—Persons who doubt the groundhog theory regarding weather conditions are having their curiosity satisfied by consulting Andrew Capes, a Cranberry miner. Two years ago, while hunting for groundhogs in the woods, he captured several young ones and brought them to his home. One survived and became a great pet. The little fellow shares equal honors with the family dog and is a big favorite with Capes and his nine children.

Last October, when the weather began to get cold, the groundhog disappeared and it was feared that he had returned to the wild life. On February 2 it returned to the Capes home, but the day was bright and sunny and the groundhog saw its shadow it vanished a second time. Six weeks later, to the day, in accordance with tradition, it came back and has remained ever since.

20-cent package—Larger sizes. Buy only original Bayer packages.

KOREANS NEED JAP CONTROL

Better Off Than if Independent, Says the Rev. Dr. E. D. Soper

Madison, N. J., March 20.—The revolution in Korea was described as "wild fire agitation by a people as yet unfit for self government," by the Rev. Dr. E. D. Soper, a professor in Drew Theological Seminary here, who has just returned from a seven months' tour of the Far East, part of which he spent in Korea. Dr. Soper was born in the Orient, the son of a Methodist missionary.

What promises to be one of the most important speaking engagements of the year is Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen," which comes to the Orpheum, Wednesday, matinee and night. This comedy of youth and love and summer fun, just completed an engagement of eight months at the Booth Theater, New York, fourteen weeks at the Plymouth Theater, Boston, and six months in Chicago. The cast is headed by Booth Tarkington, who is teamed with Stuart Walker, has been loaned to the Samuel Wallack management by the Metropolitan Theater, New York, for Mr. Walker's Portmanteau Theater, New York, for his portrayal of "Willie Baxter" in "Seventeen." He is supported by ten other notable actors, including: Leal Davis, Florence Hart, Leah Temple, Richard Cullitt, and John P. Garber, who is playing the role of "Willie Baxter" in "Seventeen." The comedy is presented with a complete and very elaborate scenic production, and is under the personal direction of Stuart Walker and George Barnum.

MISSIONARIES SENT TO SIBERIA

Heavy Drafts Being Made on the Forces in the Orient

New York, March 20.—Heavy drafts on the missionary forces in the Orient, especially in Japan and Korea, have been made by the American Red Cross Society and the Y. M. C. A. for war relief work in Siberia. When the civilian relief department of the Red Cross issued an urgent call for workers in Siberia there was an immediate response from missionaries in the Orient. The same day the Y. M. C. A. issued its call. Mission work was seriously curtailed by the absence of leaders, and is now being largely carried on by native converts. Constructive work in Siberia was recognized as one of the best ways of cementing Russian and American friendship, even if it meant temporary slackening of missionary enterprise.

THE MEN IN CLASS A1

A sound, healthy man is never a back number. A man can be as vigorous and able at seventy as at twenty. Condition, not years, puts you in the discard. A system weakened by overwork and careless living brings old age prematurely. The bodily functions are impaired and unpleasant symptoms appear. The spot is generally the kidneys. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you will generally find yourself in Class A1. Take GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules periodically and your system will always be in working order. Your spirits will be invigorated, your muscles strengthened, your nerves and your body capable of hard work.
