Central Pennsylvania Body Selects This City For 1920 Meeting

By Associated Press.
Sunbury, Pa., March 24.—Harrisburg was selected as the next place of meeting of the Central Pennsylvania Methodist Episcopal conference, which is holding its forty-first annual session here. The commissions to act upon selecting sites for a Methodist Home for the Aged and the Methodist Home for Dependent Children, were ordered continued until the next conference. It was also decided to merge these commissions, and the new corporation will render a report at the next meeting in 1920.

Four young men were accepted into the ministry. They are C. A. Fasic, Tyrone, but now in the U. S. Army; I. R. Duvall, of Burnt Cabins; E. T. Covert, of Mapleton, and J. E. Bassler, of Birmingham.

VIEWS DIFFER AS TO POLAND

Wide Range Is Expressed in the Council of Great Powers

By Associated Press.
Paris, March 24.—When the council of great powers met Saturday it was in an atmosphere of considerable apprehension over Poland which is in the chief subject of discussion. This is not on account of Poland itself but because of differences which have arisen affecting the fundamental question of nationality to which President Wilson has given his strong approval and also his thirteenth "point" which called for an independent Polish state with access to the sea.
This last clause has introduced an issue on which there is a wide divergence of views. A committee under the chairmanship of Jules Cambon, with Sir William Tyrrell as its British member and Dr. Robert H. Lord as the American, has reported the plan giving Poland this access to the sea by means of a "corridor" sixty miles wide running across East Prussia. But the effect of this concession is to place about 5,000,000 Germans within the new Poland and to detach the eastern most part of Prussia from Germany.
Premier Lloyd George has taken the view that this denationalization

Wilson Right, Says Observer

His Stand For League Beyond Question, Is Paper's Opinion

By Associated Press.
London, March 24.—In the last phase of the Paris congress the issue is whether the adoption of a League of Nations shall be definitely incorporated in the preliminary peace declares the Observer a weekly newspaper.
"President Wilson's stand for that method is one of the strongest things in his career," says the paper. "His attitude is full of moral shrewdness. If he is to give some of the allies what they most want—America's signature to a guaranteed peace—the allies must give him what he most wants—the league and the main articles in its covenant.
"There is no question that he is right. No league—no peace for long. Without some new principle of association between peoples the settlement as usually projected would not last five years. It becomes more and more evident in our judgment that President Wilson speaks for an increasing majority of the American people.
"Much mischief and futility would have been saved had it been plainly realized months ago by the allies, without exception, that either Europe

President Sees Battle Scenes

Visits Regions Where Some of the Heavy Fighting Took Place

By Associated Press.
Paris, March 24.—President Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, Miss Benham, Mrs. Wilson's secretary, and Rear Admiral Grayson, spent Sunday visiting Soissons, the Chemin Des Dames, Coucy Le Chateau, Chauny, Noyon, Montdidier and the neighboring regions. The President followed with the greatest interest the movement of arms in those regions, and received a very vivid impression of the havoc that had been wrought there. On his return to Paris he said: "The day has been very instructive to me. It has been in many ways exceedingly painful, because what I saw was deeply distressing. But it has enabled me to have a fuller conception than ever of the extraordinary suffering and hardships of the people of France in the baptism of cruel fire through which they have passed."
At one place a pleasant incident occurred. The President's car stopped to get oil, and a little group of people of the village, together with some who had driven out from Montdidier, gathered around the car and chatted. The President and Mrs. Wilson were presented with several bouquets of flowers brought by children.
The party had lunch at a half repaired inn at Soissons, where a great crowd of Polius gathered to greet the President. The party also visited the site of the "Big Bertha," which a year ago yesterday opened fire on Paris.
FUN FOR THE CONDUCTOR
"Is this a fast train?" asked the traveler of the guard.
"Of course it is," was the reply.
"I thought it was. Would you mind my getting out to see what is so fast to?"—Pearson's Weekly.

New Suits of Ultra Smartness
Moderateness of Price A Strong Feature
Tailor makes and new box styles are outstanding incentives for the selection of the Spring wardrobe this week, for at first glance there is a note of newness that is captivating in the many new garments that will be found on display beginning tomorrow.
Smart Styles at $30 to $45
Even with prices at so interesting a range the style of each suit is developed in the highest fashion. The uncommon use of buttons and the unique manner of braid bound touches, represent a degree of exclusiveness that is to be found generally only in garments of a higher price.
Spring's Finest Fabrics Employed
The suits at $27.50 to $35.00 are fashioned of tweeds and serge of excellent grade, while those at $39.50 to $45.00 are made of serge, tricotine and heather cloths.
New Capes and Dolmans: $15 to $55
Large collars are brought into use on many of the capes, and on many of the Dolman wraps are to be seen novel sleeves and turn back cuffs. All carefully tailored.
Practical Undergarments of Silk
When silk first came into occasional use in undergarments the average woman considered it too delicate a weave to withstand hard wear and frequent laundering.
How conditions have changed since then!
Experience has shown that silk undergarments are long wearing in reality. And besides there's a luxury to that makes of their wearers true devotees to such beautiful pieces as are now to be seen in the lingerie section.
The Artists Who Design Silk Patterns Have Evolved A Rich New Cape and Dolman Satin---Llama de Soie
It's a weave that partakes of the charm of both a lustrous satin and a soft woolly velour—a combination that serves the two-fold purpose of fabric and lining.
This new arrival in the Silk Section is shown in five beautiful combinations—
Black with Pekin blue satin back Pearl grey and Grey satin back
Black with Wistaria satin back Pekin blue with lighter blue satin back
Black with black satin back
The width is 40 inches, yard ..... $8.50

A Mere Matter of Taste
Many women are as careful in selecting the creams and sachets and perfumes they use as in choosing a new frock, and while the use of toilet preparations is a mere matter of taste every woman who visits the Drug Sundries Section will find that the store offers the highest quality in each of these important items.
A special display of sachets and perfumes is being featured this week.

Gingham A Spring Favorite

An Exhibit Well Worth Seeing

Even the luxuriousness of silk is not greater in some instances than the ginghams that come to us from the mills of Scotland. And of almost equal loveliness are the wonderfully evolved patterns from America's own mills.
From Scotland are the world-known D. & J. Anderson and William Anderson plaids and from "Down East" are the most fetching designs imaginable including checks and stripes and fancy plaids.
Without the advantage that the present displays give one would scarcely believe that designers could develop so many different combinations of colors.
Prices range from 14¢ to $1.25 a yard.
Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart, Street Floor and Basement.

The Appealing Value of Furniture

Good furniture is bound to have a good effect upon the home into which it goes; of necessity it will make the home happier, for furniture, next to clothes, in our daily lives is in closer association with us than any other inanimate object.
The satisfaction that comes of a visit to the special Spring display that is now so complete on the fourth floor will be appreciated more and more as the price tickets upon the various groups are inspected.
Genuine quality appears in each individual piece — and upon each is a mark of fair pricing.
