DR. CLARK GIVEN BIG RECEPTION

Founder of Christian Endeavor Speaks at Meetings in Cumberland County

Carlisle, Pa., March 24.—Hundreds of people crowded the opera house yesterday afternoon to hear the Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, of Boston, founder of the Christian Endeavor movement.

Chaplain Moffitt, of the base hospital, No. 21, Carlisle, offered the invocation. Harold Learn, president of the Reformed Society, read the Scripture after which the Rev. A. H. Steek, pastor of First Lutheran church, introduced Dr. Clark.

Dr. Clark arrived on Saturday evening and was greeted with a reception. He delivered addresses at Allentown and other cities, and will speak at New London, Conn., and Montreal, Canada.

In his address Dr. Clark emphasized the fact that Christian Endeavor is moving forward with greater progress than ever in the history of the society under the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

At the Chambersburg United Brethren church last evening 1,500 people crowded the large auditorium. Dr. Clark and many local pastors and prominent Christian Endeavor workers took part in the program.

Prof. J. Raymond Hemminger had charge of the singing and Gordon Johnson presided at the organ at both places.

A new city union was organized and the new officers include president, Lewis Gartside; recording secretary, Miss Janet Fry; corresponding secretary, Miss Dorothy Eilner.

SUIT AGAINST HEAT COMPANY Carlisle, Pa., March 24.—An equity action was begun before Judge Sadler by the firm of D. C. Beeten & Son, against the Carlisle Light, Heat and Power Company.

It is claimed that the latter concern contracted to furnish steam for heating at twenty-seven cents per thousand feet, payable quarterly, but later raised the rate to thirty cents and sent bills monthly, refusing to furnish steam if the higher bills were not paid.

Judge Sadler has granted a temporary order for steam to be furnished at the old rate until a hearing is held.

FARM BUREAU ORGANIZES Chambersburg, Pa., March 24.—The directors of the Franklin County Farm Bureau met here on Saturday afternoon and chose an executive committee for the coming year.

The executive committee, in turn, elected officers, retaining those who served in the offices of the bureau last year. The officers are: President, John O. Craig, of Greenastle; vice-president, J. B. Crawford, of Guilford township; secretary, R. J. Gillan, of St. Thomas; treasurer, I. M. Shields, of Orrstown.

The order received is for 150 pairs of stockings and 100 sweaters, all of which must be finished and ready for delivery by May 15.

DELEGATION TO VISIT SADLER

Franklin County People Will Request Highway Commissioner to Make Haste

Chambersburg, Pa., March 24.—A big delegation of citizens from Franklin county will visit State Highway Commissioner Lewis S. Sadler at his office at Harrisburg on Wednesday. The delegation will ask the commissioner to hurry construction of the proposed road known as Route 264-B, running from Chambersburg to Huntingdon by way of Orrstown and Roxbury and to improve the road known as Route 240, running from Chambersburg to Roxbury, by way of Pleasant Hill and Uppr Strasburg, as to make it passable in winter.

Pleasant Hill, Uppr Strasburg and Roxbury are in the northern section of Franklin county and most of the citizens who will visit Commissioner Sadler because at present they have no good road by which to come to Chambersburg.

Route 240 is a dirt road and is often so bad as to be almost impassable. It is a State aid road, Route 264-B is a road to be built by the State Highway Department. The citizens decided to make a call upon Commissioner Sadler in a conference here with representatives from the Chambersburg Motor Club and the Chambersburg Chamber of Commerce. They will travel to Harrisburg by automobile and will meet at 2.45 o'clock in the office of M. K. Burgner, resident clerk of the House of Representatives.

It will now be strengthened by the insertion of iron girders and will be opened up to traffic as soon as completed.

MEMORIAL HELD FOR DEAD SON

Chambersburg Woman Reported to Have Died From Shock Is Now Improving

Chambersburg, Pa., March 24.—It was mistakenly reported here on Saturday evening that Mrs. Emma Kyle, a well-known woman, had died from shock on receiving the report of the death of her son, Corporal William R. Gochenauer, from bronchial pneumonia in France.

Many inquiries came to the home of Mrs. Kyle, as it was known that she was very ill and that her brothers and sons had been summoned to her bedside but to all queries there came the response that "Mrs. Kyle was not dead, but seemed to be improving."

A memorial service was held here yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Kyle for her son, Corporal Gochenauer, whose death in France on March 5, was reported by the War Department last week. Mrs. Kyle was prostrated by the news of the death of her son, whom she was daily expecting to arrive home.

When her condition became serious, her brothers, the Rev. R. H. Taylor, of Hervey, and the Rev. P. E. Taylor, of Gettysburg, and her son, Bruce Gochenauer, of Mowersville, were summoned to her home. Her condition improved, however, and she was able to have the memorial service at her home yesterday.

Cut Out Butter! "I would," says the saving housewife, "if you could suggest anything besides the old-type Oleomargarine. We can — Benefit Brand 'Sweet Nut' made entirely from the nutritious part of the creamy white meat of ripe coconuts churned with pasteurized milk, a product that is identical with butter in flavor and nutritive properties, but only costs 24c a lb. An old law, passed before 'Sweet Nut' was dreamed of, demands that the word 'oleomargarine' be placed on the package, although it contains no 'oleo' or animal fat whatever. When served, nobody can tell it from the finest butter. It makes a delicious bread spread, light, crispy pie crust, flaky cakes. You can buy Benefit Brand 'Sweet Nut' Margarine only at Tamms Tea Co., yellow front store, 42 North Third Street, Harrisburg, where Benefit Brand Teas, Coffees and Grocery Specialties are retailed at wholesale prices.
