

Grocers Are Advised to Drop War Prices; Consumers Hold Off

Philadelphia, April 1. — Realizing that public sentiment has taken cognizance of the marked decrease in wholesale grocery prices since the signing of the armistice, while retail prices have remained virtually stationary, the Association of Manufacturers' representatives is instituting steps which members believe will give the consumer the benefit of the wholesale reductions.

THIS WAR WORKER GETS HELPFUL AID

Mrs. Sara Hall, 6707 Woodland ave., Philadelphia, tells of the relief that came to her through Tanlac. "I suffered from stomach trouble, gastritis and diabetes. My appetite would be awful, then I wouldn't eat or sleep. I soon began to look wan and thin like a shadow. I was in a sorry plight with little hope of ever being well again. I heard about Tanlac and my son had used three or four bottles with good results. I bought some and gradually improved after the first few doses. Later my recovery was quite rapid. I couldn't sleep at all until I took Tanlac." Tanlac is sold here at Gorgas' drug store.

mulation of goods at a loss. But, he added, the goods must be kept moving and regardless of the wartime prices paid by the retailer for his stock; that because the public is growing restive retailers might better sell at a loss now than retain it.

The association has sent out circulars to the manufacturers it represents urging them to impress upon their salesmen, who are personally acquainted with the retailers, the paramount importance of bowing to public demand.

OLD-FASHIONED LOVE FEAST IS SCHEDULED

An old-fashioned love feast will be held in Stevens Memorial Methodist Church to-morrow evening, the Rev. Clayton Albert Smucker announced to-day. The service will open at 7:30 o'clock. Old, familiar hymns will be used, and all details of the program will be old-fashioned.

Use "Joint-Ease," Then Jump With Joy and Tell Others—"It Touches the Spot!"

"JOINT-EASE" is the new, clean, scientific external preparation now taking the country by storm. It has a delightful odor and WILL NOT STAIN OR BLISTER!

When put up nostrils and inhaled, it carries a cleansing, clearing, antiseptic vapor to nasal cavities, head and throat—a remarkable preventive against germs of grippe, influenza, pneumonia and other diseases.

BIG CHANGES IN STATE'S OFFICES

Star Independent Building Becomes a State Property Today; More Will Follow

The Star Independent building to-day passed into possession of the State on a lease and the Labor and Industry Department will move in a short time to the four lower floors, the two upper being occupied by the engineers of the Department of Health. The quarters vacated by the Labor and Industry Department will be taken charge of by the Highway Department.

On the first floor of the Capitol, Legislative committees are using rooms vacated by the engineering end of the Department of Health and a change is being made in the quarters of the Bureau of Statistics. Room will also be made for the Accounting Division which is being brought here from Philadelphia.

The Agricultural and Public Service Laboratories will go to the Enquirer building in a few weeks but nothing definite has been decided regarding the future location of the Department of Public Instruction and Mines.

Mr. Brunner Here—Arnold W. Brunner, the noted architect in charge of the Capitol plans, was here to-day for consultation with State officials regarding the work. He went over the Memorial bridge plans and some details of the new office building. A handsome picture of the approach for the new bridge has been completed.

Board Meeting—The State Water Supply Commission is meeting today to consider a number of applications for improvements in streams.

Not Many Quail—Not many quail are expected to arrive from Mexico this month by the Game Commission. The difficulties south of the border may interfere with shipments and the stocking of preserves as planned this summer.

Going to Highest Court—According to Pottsville people an appeal to the United States Supreme Court is to be taken in the most important workmen's compensation case in recent months. The Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company will appeal from the decision of the local referee giving Mrs. John Hancock $5,800 compensation for the death of her husband, which occurred near Locust Gap. Hancock was employed upon a trip between the Locust Gap colliery and the road at Locust Summit, over which the coal from the colliery is shipped to Shamokin scales. It is contended by the company that Hancock was engaged in interstate commerce in his employment, whereas the attorneys for Mrs. Hancock claim the coal was not in interstate commerce until it was reclassified at the scales at the Shamokin yard. This is a very fine legal point and thus far every Court, including the State Supreme Court, and the State Compensation Board has decided in favor of Mrs. Hancock.

Agree on Cox Bill—What amounts to approval has been placed by the State Highway Department on the bill introduced by Representative Edwin R. Cox, of Philadelphia, to provide a system of licensing dealers in second hand automobiles and will be incorporated in the proposed new motor legislation. Representative Cox, Representative W. Hebery Dittmer, of Pittsburgh, and Senator Clarence J. Buckman, of Bucks, will confer with the heads of the Highway Department on the measure. Messrs. Buckman and Dittmer are sponsors of bills to revise the motor laws and a compromise will be effected by picking out the best features in the two measures which they have introduced.

Representative Cox's bill was drafted by David J. Smith, former director of Public Safety in Philadelphia, with the co-operation of Captain Souder of the Detective Bureau.

Appointments—Harry J. Paul has been appointed justice for Upper Tulpehocken, Berks county, and William Whilden, of Lansford, a trustee of State Hospital at Coaldale. Named as Notary—Edwin M. Hershey, of this city, has been appointed a notary public.

Rates Approved—In announcing its approval of the new rates of the Springfield Consolidated Water Co., for supplying thirty-six municipalities in vicinity of Philadelphia as a result of the litigation following the establishment of a fire hydrant and main service charge the Public Service Commission says that the service must be paid for either by the municipality itself through taxes or by those who use water through rates. If the municipality refuses to pay what are considered just charges for the service which it performs for its citizens the commission is compelled to include the charges in the rates. It is held that the refusal of the municipality to pay the charges jeopardizes the efficient service of the company and that before the litigation recently started could be determined the company would have claims amounting to over half a million dollars.

"The Live Store"

"Always Reliable"

They're Making a Hit

We made no mistake when we predicted that there would be a greater demand for new "Spring Clothes" than ever before. The Happy Spirit of the coming Springtime dictated a greater dress-up time. Business is on very good terms with this "Live store" and is finding its way to Doutrichs as never before. We have just finished March with a thirty per cent. increase over the same month last year, so you see Business is very, very good at Doutrichs.

One of the causes for our increased business is the growing popularity of the Doutrich service and the greater values obtained Here. Then to see the vast number of men "coming back" from the victorious conquest in which they so nobly won honor for their country, who favor this "Live store" as a trading center in this community. Wish you could count the boys in Khaki and Navy who exchange their clothes for civilian dress at Doutrichs every day in the week—you'd see where a big part of our business is coming from.

Since the announcement of our spring opening, this "Live store" is more lively than usual because it is filled with lively, enthusiastic crowds who are coming here to buy the new Spring clothes we are showing. The new waist-seam models that we are having such a rush for are making the biggest hit. All you need do is try one on, a glance at the mirror and it's sold. You've heard a lot about this popular style, but the season is just beginning; so you will hear a great deal more about these Doutrich styles in the next few weeks.
