Overruling a motion for a new trial in the case of Albert Koenig vs. Harrisburg Railway Company, the court gave permission to the plaintiff to amend the original statement of claiming increasing the amount of damages asked. In the first statement $1,000 had been asked but the jury awarded $1,200 and in order to collect the larger verdict it was necessary to have the amendment authorized.

Weak, Discouraged Wife

Advised by Friends to Try Vinol—What It Did For Her. Florence, S. C.—"I was in a weak, nervous, run-down condition, took cold easily, could hardly keep around and do my work—and was all discouraged. I had taken cough syrups and tonics without benefit, until a friend asked me to try Vinol. I gained rapidly by its use, so I am now in good health."—Mrs. Addie Wilkerson. The reason Vinol was so successful in restoring Mrs. Wilkerson to health is because it is a constitutional remedy, which enriches and revitalizes the blood and creates strength. George A. Gorgas, druggist; Kennedy's Medicine Store, 321 Market St.; C. F. Kramer, Third and Broad Sts.; Kitzmiller's Pharmacy, 1325 Derry St.; J. Nelson Clark, and druggists everywhere. P. S.—For any skin trouble try our Soral Salve. Money back if it fails.

FINDS RELICS OF WAR

Mayor Daniel L. Keister to-day received a letter from Miss Lucy L. Cummings, Purcellville, Va., in which she tells of finding a cup, a sleeping roll, a cartridge box a belt and a sword in an attic. The roll bears the name of "Harv Brenizer" and at one end, the name of W. Barfield. The sword has the initials "M. T." cut on the handle, presumably by a pen-knife. Miss Cummings believes that the articles belong to a Harrisburger, and in her letter writes that anyone in the city who has any information, writes for the articles may have them upon application.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in few moments. Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For a few cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderrine. Also this most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderrine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

And such wonderful tea—it's pleasant to drink and it just does regulate the stomach, liver and bowels without any distress or hardship. Ask your druggist for a package to-day. Take a cupful every night for two weeks—it's one good sensible way to give the entire system a good spring cleaning. Children love it.

KEMP'S BALSAM Will Stop that Cough GUARANTEED. This is the sort of care and thoughtfulness and honest desire to produce the best in the best way that has made the slogan "The Wilson Label Protects Your Taste" a statement of fact rather than a happy advertising phrase. Sincerely, William C. Freeman, 250 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

DEAR FOLKS:

This is a most important week in the history of Wilson & Co. Everybody in the whole organization is enthusiastic, "up on his toes" and proud. This is the week that Wilson & Co. announce that they are producing Certified Ham and Bacon. All over the country the dealers are putting up window signs telling the news. Incidentally, I am coming to believe that the dealers who handle Wilson products are imbued with the same pride and confidence in the Wilson institution as are the 25,000 workers in the various plants and branches.

All these Wilson & Co. men and women are pleased as pleased can be this week because they have known for a long time that the company would put Certified Ham and Bacon on the market at this time. They have known of the care and skill and exactness with which these products were being perfected to deserve the Wilson Certified label. That "Certified" label is the new plus ultra for any Wilson product. When it is placed on something it means that that particular food product is just as fine as it can be made, as pure as purity itself and as good as anything ever can be good to eat.

The name and fame of Wilson & Co. Certified products has grown up in the past two years. It started when the company brought out its line of canned fruits, vegetables and table specialties, giving them the name "Certified" and placing upon them a guarantee that the user would find them of the highest possible quality.

In their smoked meats "Majestic" was the label of their top-notch quality. Majestic Ham and Bacon were, and are, mighty well known and liked. Mr. Wilson saw the great popularity won by the "Certified" fruits and vegetables, and he said:

"We must have Certified Ham and Bacon. Can we make them good enough to deserve the Certified label?" "We can and we will," was the prompt answer.

So there is a bit of history. It wasn't merely a question of curing and smoking ham and bacon of the most excellent quality. It was a matter of knowing at every step along the line that this ham and bacon was going to be good enough to be honored with the name of "Certified." This means selecting the porkers themselves. They have to be porkers of excellent breeds, they have to be in the pink condition, they have to show to the practiced eyes of the experts who select them that the quality is there. I have watched the production of Certified Ham and Bacon—watched the careful, skillful choosing of these hams and bacon sides. I have seen how precisely a ham is chosen, how exactly a bacon side is selected. There must be just such a proportion of fat and lean, the fat must be smooth, the ham or bacon must be visibly perfect. Then it is carefully trimmed and sent on through the curing and smoking departments. Nothing is hurried, for the men who have charge of this work tell me that hasty curing and smoking do not create the sweet, appetizing flavor and the hunger-satisfying taste that must characterize a fine piece of ham or bacon.

All the way through I noticed that these meats—as, indeed, are all other Wilson products—were handled with the greatest care and respect. "Respect" is a fixed principle in the Wilson plant, and when you come to think of it, it is a pretty good idea to respect it if they are destined for your table, and the Wilson folks know this and show respect toward them.

I have told you in my previous letters how the spirit of good will and loyalty pervades the whole Wilson organization. I have tried to suggest that this spirit of pride and of fellowship is a guarantee that the products of Wilson & Co. will be all the better for it. Every worker in the Wilson plants feels that way about it, and that is why this week every one of them is so hugely glad and proud that Certified Ham and Bacon are being announced. Each of them feels—and knows—that here is another proof of what the heart and spirit of the Wilson organization means, and that once again their good faith and good will and loyalty are being put to the test and recognition—and approval—and that recognition and your family as well as from the responsible heads of the Wilson institution.

It is just because of this pride and loyalty and integrity of purpose that Wilson & Co. are able to offer to you Certified Ham and Bacon and to back them up with the highest guarantee honor and that of their associate workers. "Certified" is more than a name. It is a standard. And it is a standard that must be maintained. A special committee of eight men carries the responsibility of determining that the product meets the Certified standard. And this standard includes everything in connection with the product—selection, preparation, wrapping, packing—even the style of the package and the labels. This is the sort of care and thoughtfulness and honest desire to produce the best in the best way that has made the slogan "The Wilson Label Protects Your Taste" a statement of fact rather than a happy advertising phrase. Sincerely, William C. Freeman, 250 Fifth Avenue, New York City.
