

Is a Man Shaped by His Will Power?

"H. M." who seems blessed with a meditative mind, would like to know whether a man's life is shaped by his own will power, or by some supreme power of the universe.

of light rays in general, and the effects of rays of different colors and qualities in determining the movements of animal life, have been profoundly studied, and the results go far to suggest that, at bottom, vital phenomena are merely mechanical responses to environment.

hit on the bill is the clever team, Davis and Greenlee, who furnish lively entertainment by singing some comedy songs and injecting a lot of fun into the act.

Another episode of "The Lure of the Circus," with "Eddie" Polo, is also being shown.

The war has proved that the day of the mechanical flying machine is here. Aerial routes are being established and companies are being formed to operate airplane passenger service between the important cities of the United States.

Not so long ago a man in a hankering to see his sweetheart, he not made the trip to see her at the allotted time.

But something went wrong. Just as he was ready to descend the ladder, a rather ungraceful landing on the roof of the girl's home, he escaped injury, but his machine was badly damaged.

It was the first time an airplane had been used during a courtship, but not by any means the last time.

Girl Swimmer Breaks the American Record

Philadelphia, April 4.—Anna Wright, of the Philadelphia Turners, made the fastest time ever recorded in this country in a 100-yard back-stroke swimming race for women here last night, but the time, 1 minute 22 1-5 seconds, will not stand as a new American record because she made it in an exhibition match.

D. Leopold, of the Meadowbrook Swimming Club and a University of Pennsylvania star, won the 100-yard Middle Atlantic A. A. U. championship for men in 1 minute 15 1-2 seconds.

The Middle Atlantic A. A. U. fancy diving championship for women was won by Elizabeth Becker, Philadelphia; Catherine Murphy, Philadelphia; and second, Mabel Arklie, Philadelphia, third.

The picture is a glimpse at the divorce problem from a new angle. Beautiful women, richly gowned, elaborate scenery, lavish settings and a strong cast are features of this greatest De Mille production.

It is a magnificent story, rich in heart-appeal, realistic in action; a story that tugs at the heartstrings as few stories do.

Elsie Ferguson, beautiful, talented queen of the screen, is scheduled to appear next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in her great new picture, "His Parisian Wife."

The Black Devil Band to Appear at Orpheum Soon

The Black Devil Band, of the 350th Field Artillery Regiment, will appear at the Orpheum theater on Wednesday afternoon and evening, April 9, at which time "Mr. Jazz Himself" in the person of Lieutenant J. Jim Brymn, will introduce the very latest kinks in syncopation.

This extraordinary combination of some seventy colored musicians, arrived from overseas but a few days ago, and made their first appearance in America at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia on March 19.

The program to be rendered at the Orpheum theater will consist largely of jazz in all of its infinite variations. There will be a number of classical and standard selections however, including a medley of several of Lieutenant Brymn's best known songs such as "Please Go 'Way and Let Me Sleep," "Josephine My Joe," "My Zulu Babe" and "La Lumba."

The Black Devil Band will appear in Harrisburg in full uniform, having just been mustered out of the service and the number of wound stripes, service chevrons and decorations for bravery is indicative of the great service that these colored men have rendered the world in the fight to make the Globe safe for democracy.

Overseas the Black Devil Band occupied an important sector before Metz, where the regiment established a record for speed by their expert manipulation of the French 75's. In spite of the strenuous duties of the 350th Field Artillery Regiment, the band leader, Lieutenant Brymn kept his men up to the mark by having band rehearsals every day, no matter how severe the bombardment of the enemy.

The band was a sensation in France and proved to be a positive riot when it reached home after nine months abroad. Several offers to go on tour were made to the Black Devil Band, but they could only be persuaded to leave New York upon the assurance that Captain Carl Helm would handle their engagements. As a result, Harrisburg will have an opportunity to see the Black Devils in all their glory, and hear them "rag the scale" in every style of jazz.

TO STUDY SOUTHERN ROCKS

(From the Christian Science Monitor.) Dr. Joseph Singewald of Johns Hopkins University expects to sail about the middle of April for South America on one of the most important geological expeditions this country has yet sent out. He goes especially for research work of the University, but his investigations will be watched keenly by Washington and the results, upon his return, some time in the fall, will be at the disposal of the government.

It is not generally known that before the sailing of the envoys sent by this country to the peace conference now meeting in Paris, the carefully tabulated results of Doctor Singewald's first South American trip were asked for and were placed in their hands. They are now in Paris as a part of the basis for guidance in negotiations.

The first trip of exploration was undertaken four years ago, and at that time Doctor Singewald sailed for Rio de Janeiro, going thence to the diamond fields of Brazil, then through Argentina, returning to cross the Andes to the Pacific Coast to study the silver mines, the nitrate fields and the many mineral deposits.

On his second trip Doctor Singewald will make directly for the western coast, and his first landing point will be Callao. He starts with two main things in view: prospecting over some points which especially interested him on his first journey and investigating the fossil deposits found in the Andes on his previous trip.

Doctor Singewald, after careful investigation, has been compelled to guess the age of the range hastily and without thorough investigation. These deposits, which were come upon unexpectedly in his first trip and which were then studied hardly, will now claim thorough investigation.

WASN'T IMPRESSED

A pompous gentleman happened to stray on to the grounds of Lord Blantyre one day and was ordered off by the Scotch gamekeeper in language more forcible than polite.

"Sir," said the pompous one, "do you know who I am? I am the Falls of Aedgeriff."

"I dina care if ye are the Falls of Niagara," said the gamekeeper, "ye're soon out o' this."—From the Boston Transcript.

"Upon seeing a rash on my face recently, said, 'Bill, you need Tanlac,'" said William H. McCool, Sr., 1140 Paul street, Philadelphia, a retired shoemaker. "At first I was in doubt as to whether Tanlac would do me any good, but after taking a few doses I was soon convinced that I was on the mend. My face to-day is clear as crystal, as Tanlac purified and cleaned out all the poisons in my blood. It also regulated the circulation, as blood, no longer rushed to my head, and my eating, which caused an increased heart action, no longer forms, as my food digests well."

RESENT HOSTILE ATTITUDE

London, April 4.—The Metropolitan of Athens has sent to America a strong protest against what he regards to be a hostile attitude on the part of American missionaries in respect to the rights of Greece in Northern Epirus and Asia Minor, says an Athens dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph.

COHAN & HARRIS

PRESENT THE FUNNIEST AMERICAN COMEDY OF RECENT YEARS A TAILOR-MADE MAN BY HARRY JAMES SMITH

At the Orpheum will be seen the most colossal spectacle ever produced on any stage "The Wanderer" when the great Biblical drama "The Wanderer" with the parable of the Prodigal Son as its theme, will be presented for an engagement of three days, beginning Thursday, April 10, with a matinee Saturday. It is being presented by the enterprising firm of young managers who have scored many successes of late, William Elliott, F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest. David Belasco staged it, Maurice V. Samuels wrote it and Anselm Goetzky composed special music for it.

With the magic name of Belasco attached to it, "The Wanderer" would be expected to reveal not only a work of rare excellence, but stage realism in the highest degree. It is said the curtain is only raised a few minutes when the audience is fairly electrified, for there in the poetic quietude of a large flock of sheep wandering their way down the low hillsides, the fold at eventide and the friendly baying of the shepherd dogs heard, as well as the soft grinding of the hand-turned millstones which provide flour for the festival bread. Truly a Belasco effect.
