CROSMAN WITH BELL 25 YEARS

Well-Known Telephone Man Passes Quarter Century Mark in Service

The Telephone News of current issue contains a picture and sketch of J. Heron Crosman, Jr., of the Bell Telephone Company, formerly a resident of Harrisburg, a veteran of the Spanish-American War and well known throughout Pennsylvania. The sketch is published in connection with Mr. Crosman's twenty-fifth anniversary of his connection with the Bell. He is now general commercial superintendent of the company with theadquarters in Philadelphia.

The News has this to say of him: "In March of 1894, the Pennsylvania Telephone Company found itself without a secretary-treasurer.

It will be remembered that that Company, the predecessor of the Bell-of-Pennsylvania in the central portion of the State, with headquarters at Harrisburg, was one of the more flourishing units of what was in 1894 taking form as the national Bell Telephone System, a system which then loasted of something like three hundred thousand telephones throughout the country and a daily traffic only a bit larger than the present combined The Telephone News of current is-the country and a daily traffic only a bit larger than the present combined Philadelphia and Pittsburgh volumes on a busy day.

A few miles down the river at Steelton, one of the open-hearth furnaces of the Pennsylvania Steel Company was at that time under the Ocharge of a young fellow who shortly before had turned from the campus at New Haven and set forth westward to grapple with his first business venture.

"A contact was eventually brought about between the telephone job and the steel man, and J. Heron Crosman, Jr., was established as financial officer of the Pennsylvania Telephone Company just on the eve of a period of years that marked the redly critical epoch of the business throughout Pennsylvania and the entire East.

"Since that time Mr. Crosman has been one of us, without even a temporary break in his period of Bell service save during the Spanish War, when as member of the U. S. Volunteer Troop, Pennsylvania Cavalry, he was with the Colors for the period of hostilities, participating in the Porto Rican campaign.

"Many of us vivilly recall the wave of telephone competition that swept over this territory in the late nineties—and central Pennsylvania was the very hotbed of the movement.

"During this period the treasurer of the Pennsylvania Company was continuously "in the saddle." Life with the Bell leaders was both strenuous and exciting. It was a veritable battle for existence. That splendid up-hill fight is green to-day in the memory of Pennsylvania telephone men.

"In 1992 Mr. Crosman was elected secretary and auditor of the Company of the phone men.

"In 1902 Mr. Crosman was elected secretary and auditor of the Company, and in 1908, at the time of the Bell-of-Pennsylvania consolidation, as division manager of Harrisburg division assisted in the remodeling of the organization in Ceutral Pennsylvania to the so-called functional type. No better evidence of the fruits of that work and of his broad, Vigorous administration of commer-cial policy are to be found than in the striking growth that marked this period despite obstacles that are now period despite obstacles that are now historic with us.

"In 1912 Mr. Crosman came to Phil adelphia as general commercial superintendent of our associated companies, and in that office celebrates his twenty-fifth anniversary with the Bell system.

"In expressing to him our congratulations, the Telephone News, speaking for the whole crowd of us, pays very hearty tribute to him on many scores. Above and beyond his splendid accomplishments for the business and correlatively for us all—he is and correlatively for us all-he is

Did you lose that job through a poor skin

There's many a person whose chances in life are limited simply because of a skin that is blotchy and un-presentable. Pimples, rough, red, ugly skins—skins that chap and burn easily—are usually most successfully treated with Resinol Ointment.

The joint use of Resinol Soap with Resi-nol Ointment usually produces the best results where facial blemishes are concern-ed, and is equally successful in treating other skin affections on limbs and body.

setting a mighty fine example for everyone, an example which embraces unstituted loyalty to the system, fine faith in its policies, prodigious industry, ever-forward thinking, keen enterprise and courage. His leadership in the commercial department has been most inspiring, and is a leadership that will always carry on.

"Again, Mr. Crosman, we congratulate you on your twenty-fifth anniversary."
