

WOULD PROTECT DYE INDUSTRY BY TARIFF LAW

Tariff Commissioner Culbertson Makes Address Before Chemical Society

Buffalo, April 8.—Enactment of tariff and unfair competition laws to protect essential and desirable chemical industries, such as the manufacture of dye stuffs, developed during the war, was favored by William S. Culbertson, member of the United States Tariff Commission, in an address he delivered here to-day before the American Chemical Society.

The tariff commissioner said he had not regarded with favor the plan adopted by Great Britain to provide state aid for her dye industry and an embargo on dyes, except where importations were permitted under special licenses.

During its development even the advocate of free trade would admit that the new industry is entitled to legislative consideration.

Mr. Culbertson said there were grounds for concern in unfair competition, commercial bribery, deceptive labeling and other practices directed by individuals in foreign countries beyond the jurisdiction of American courts.

Opposes Dumping of the law, said the commissioner, "should be supplemented by a law which would authorize the President to levy by proclamation additional duties on goods which are being systematically dumped into the United States or to prohibit their importation in case he has reason to believe that the result will be to injure, destroy or prevent the establishment of an American industry.

Secretary Glass Taking First Victory Loan Bond Off the Press

That's right the war is over but Uncle Sam has a lot of debts to pay because he had to go and help put the Kaiser out of business. The way that is to be financed up is to sell Victory Loan Bonds. This photograph shows Carter Glass, Secretary of the Treasury, taking the first bond of the new issue from the press in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington. To the right is James L. Wilmet, director of the bureau.

WESTMINSTER MEN BANQUET

Major John S. Spicer Gave Interesting Talk on "America in the War"

The Men's League of Westminster Presbyterian Church held a highly successful banquet last evening, the first since America entered the world war, in the lecture rooms of the church.

Major Spicer, who is connected with the Department of Labor and Industry of the state of Pennsylvania, was introduced by D. D. Hammebaugh, secretary of the league.

Major Spicer said that the men of the American army, while three thousand miles from its base of supplies, was the deciding factor in the war, and how it turned the fortunes of war to the side of the Allies.

Between the speeches, singing of patriotic and old songs which were led by the president, George W. Williams, formed an entertaining part of the program.

GERMANY'S WAR BILL WILL GO UP TO COMMISSION

Amount Will Be Determined After Peace Treaty Is Signed

Paris, April 8.—The council has heard the report of the reparations committee and accepted a proposition which provides for the formation of a commission to determine the amount of the reparations to be paid and the method of estimating them, but will leave to a commission sitting after the peace treaty is signed the determination of the full bill and the amount which can be collected from Germany.

After the question of reparations is settled the Rhine frontier and the Atlantic coast will remain as the chief obstacle.

That progress is being made is indicated in an announcement that a plenary session of the Peace Conference is to be held Friday afternoon.
