

THE WANDERER LAST NIGHT

First of Four Harrisburg Performances; Story of the Prodigal Son

Those who last night went to see the first Harrisburg performance of "The Wanderer," witnessed a stage version of the story of the prodigal son which they will not forget for a long, long time.

Staged by Bolasco, one tells in a few words that the scenic effects are all worked out in that careful detailed manner which leaves nothing to the imagination and which brings into being many of the things which are ordinarily left undone because of the trouble and expense.

FRECKLE - FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine, as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

ing to the imagination and which brings into being many of the things which are ordinarily left undone because of the trouble and expense. Typical of this are the dogs and the sheep which troop across the stage early in the first act. Just typical, but what could give more life, color and realism to a setting in the Judean hills? The second act is the most spectacular and elaborate in detail, setting forth as it does the palace whither "his friend" has brought Jether, the son who is impetuous; enthusiasm has asked his portion that he might see the world, and realize his dreams of what places beyond Judea's hills. Here Jether falls in love with the beautiful daughter of Nadina, and for love of her and upon her promise of love in return commits the unpardonable sin of his fathers when he forswears his father's God. Dramatic as this portion of the act is, it is exceeded by the portion when penniless, caught in cheating at dice in order to recuperate his loss he sees his father for whom he has forsaken his God leave him to go with another. A curse has been set upon the house by a prophet, and Jether, rubea eve not his clothes that his hostess might have some compensation for her hospitality, is spared when a bolt of lightning strikes the goddess worshipped by the house. That moment brings him to his senses, and he sees the error of his ways and decides to return home. "The Wanderer" will be shown again to-night and to-morrow matinee and evening.

Rabbi From New York's East Side Is Chosen Chief Law Giver of Orthodox Jews in America

By a special congress of more than three hundred rabbis, Abraham Aaron Yudelovitch, of New York, has been chosen chief law giver of all the Orthodox Jewish congregations in the United States. He is recognized as the chief authority in this country on Talmudic law. He will act as the final arbiter in matters of a spiritual nature. Rabbi Yudelovitch was born in Russia sixty-nine years ago, went to England twenty-two years ago and twelve years later came to New York. This photograph was taken in his East side home.

CHAUTAQUA AT MOUNT WOLF

Mount Wolf, Pa., April 11.—The date for the Mount Wolf, Manchester and York Haven Chautauqua has been set for the week of June 25 to 30. The attraction will be headed by the famous Native Indian Orchestra from the Haskell Government Institute at Lawrence, Kansas. The Indians will wear their native tribal costumes for this part of the program. A violinist of the Quapaw tribe, and a soprano singer, Sarsa Carney, a native of the Cherokees, are both artists of repute. The Keller sisters will be another attraction. A male quartet, made up entirely of returned soldier boys, known as the Doughboys' Male Quartet, will entertain with trench songs and stories, together with high-class repertoire.

OX ROAST FOR SOLDIERS

Mount Wolf, Pa., April 11.—Franklin Bahn has been elected president of the organization effected by the citizens of Springettsbury township for the purpose of welcoming home all the boys of the district who had been in the service. An ox roast has been planned to be held some time in July, when it is thought all the boys will have returned. The enterprise will be financed by citizens of the township. The other officers are: Secretary, J. M. Innerst; Pleasureville; treasurer, S. A. Diehl; publicity committee, J. M. Innerst and C. K. Baumeister.

York Haven, Pa., April 11.—Mrs. J. E. Shearer, chairman of the eleventh district for the fifth, or Victory, Liberty Loan drive, has made the following appointments as sub-district chairmen: York Haven, Mrs. H. O. Meads and Mrs. Charles Bare;

COUNTIES WILL SPEND HEAVILY

Over $25,000,000 Is Already Pledged For Secondary Roads

Commissioner Lewis S. Sadler in a letter to Luzerne county men, who informed him that their county might arrange for bond issues to construct secondary highways and asking the plans of the State. Mr. Sadler says that he has heard from a number of counties that bond issues will be voted on at special elections.

The Commissioner has ruled that under the law, the State cannot join in construction of dirt roads, this ruling being made in an Armstrong application and on advice of the Attorney General has declined to make any changes in a contract let for improvement of the road from Beaver Falls to New Castle, so that the width could be increased from sixteen to eighteen feet. Lebanon county commissioners have been informed, as this department in all cases is following the preference of county commissioners as to which highway proposition will be taken first under the State aid plan. This matter is one for decision of local officials.

Assurance has been given that improvements will be made to the old York road as soon as possible. A line of policy in regard to signs along State highways was given to U. H. Berghaus, Jr., of the Publicity Committee of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, by the Commissioner, who held that placing of signs for the purpose of directing traffic and deterring travelers of location, cannot be placed on State highways, but that "signs may be legally placed after an understanding is had with owners of private property and the signs placed inside the lines of these owners."

CONFERENCE GOES OVER

The conference on compensation amendments scheduled for Tuesday has been postponed until the following Tuesday, April 22.

Clearfield in Line

Clearfield county commissioners have assured Highway Commissioner Sadler that they will go before their people with a million dollar bond issue for highway improvement, including both secondary and dirt roads. More Companies Answer—Almost all of the smaller telephone companies have replied to the notice of the Attorney General to stop charging rates above those approved by the Public Service Commission by agreeing to comply.

Wheat Crop Will Break All Records

If estimates made to-day at the State Department of Agriculture are borne out, the Keystone State will have a wheat crop that will break all records and represent almost $75,000,000 in value to the farmers. The present estimates are for a wheat crop little short of 33,000,000 bushels which will distance anything known by over 3,000,000 bushels. The estimates are based upon an increased acreage, freedom from bad weather and pests and general reports showing condition of wheat the best of a ten year average in almost every county, except some in the northern tier.

An average yield of from twenty to twenty-one bushels to the acre is forecast. Last year's total yield was 26,923,674 bushels, but the farmers and wheat growers were not discouraged and planted more wheat than ever known, raising the total from 1,420,000 to 1,588,279 according to reliable estimates. Like conditions for rye are forecast at the Department. The acreage is 27,450 against 27,388 last year. The forecast is for a crop of 5,420,000 against a yield of 4,676,000 last year.

GLOSSING OVER THE FACTS

"Pa. what is a euphemism?" "I'll have to explain that by giving you an example, son." "Yes, pa." "The dictionary says a euphemism is a figure of speech by which a word or phrase more agreeable or less offensive is substituted for one more accurately expressive of what is meant, as in the case of the society reporter who states that a widow who has been married three or four times is 'led to the altar' by a wealthy old codger who never had the slightest notion of getting married until he faced the preacher."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Postpone Trial of Boys Who Shot Gettysburg Merchant

Gettysburg, Pa., April 11.—The cases against John Miller and Fred Moore, charged with the shooting of Abner Mills, the Gettysburg merchant, on the night of February 22, with the intent to rob him of his day's proceeds as he was closing his store late at night, will not be tried at the April term of court.

The condition of Mr. Mills has so far improved that he is able to walk down street and go for a short time to his place of business, but it is believed to be unwise to try the case at this time. Physicians and attorneys believe that the injured man should undergo an X-ray examination before going into court, so that the case can be handled with a more certain knowledge of the man's condition. The two boys will probably be kept in the county prison until the August term.

SURVEYING LUMBER

Mount Wolf, Pa., April 11.—Lieutenant G. A. Miller, of the claim department, Washington, is in town, taking a survey of the lumber in possession of the Keystone Table Company, which was bought up for the purpose of making gunstocks for the Government. Lieutenant Miller and Manager W. O. Knaub have been traveling over the country the past few days, taking a survey of the logs which have not been delivered.

MARRIED AT LEBANON

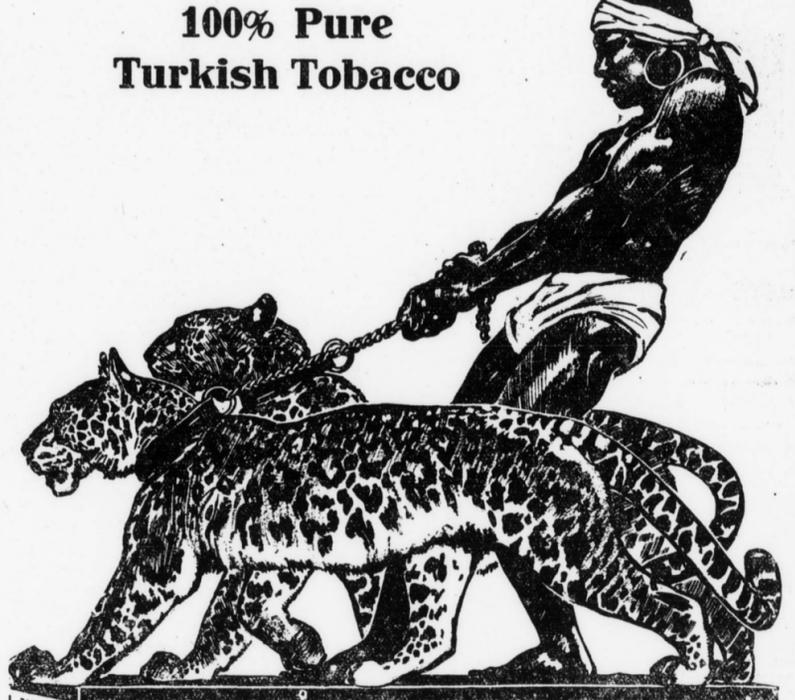

Mount Wolf, Pa., April 11.—Clyde Gross, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gross, of Mount Wolf, and Miss Mary Zerbe, of Lebanon, were recently married at the home of the bride's uncle, Charles Linebaugh, at Lebanon.
