Joe Barrett's Boxing Bouts on April 23 to Go Ten Rounds

Joe Barrett, Steelton's boxing promoter, is rapidly getting his show together for Wednesday night, April 23, and the veteran says it will surely be worth twice the price charged. It will be the first ten-round bout held in this section for several years. Two ten and two six-round bouts will complete the bill, the top liner being between Sammy Schiff, Harrisburg's best lightweight pitted against his bitterest and cleverest rival for Central Pennsylvania lightweight honors. Any one who says the two six-round whirlwind bouts between these two battlers will appreciate what thrills the longer route will furnish as the pace they set in their shorter bouts is entirely too fast to last the longer distance, and it is not improbable that one or the other will take the count before the end, anyway, it is sure that a real sport will lose the chance to be in at the finish. There is the ten-round bout between Nate Isaacman and Eddie Gran...

EXPRESSMEN GET INCREASE

Average Raise of $15 a Month Is Granted to 69,000 Employes. Washington, April 15.—Wage increases averaging about $15 a month for approximately 69,000 employes of the American Railway Express Company, are announced by Director General Hines. The increase represents an advance of $25 a month above the wage scale in effect January 1, 1918. The Director General also raised the wages of 12,000 sleeping and parlor car employes $25 a month above the basic minimum in effect January 1, 1918. Since approximately half of this sum was awarded by the general wage increase of last year, the net addition to this order will be the remainder, or about $12.50 per month. Wages of 10,000 dining car employes were advanced $25 above the basic minimum in effect January 1, 1918. This will yield approximately $8 a month additional to each employe, since two-thirds of this $25 increase was taken up in the general wage advance of last year. These minor wage orders for railroad employes which were included in the estimate of $67,500,000 in increases announced in connection with the wage order affecting the country trainmen and engineers' brotherhoods several days ago, complete finally the "war cycle" of wage advances. The wage orders are to become effective at once.

SIBERIA HOME OF MANY TRIBES

Descendants of Mongolian Invaders of the Thirteenth Century. Correspondence of The Associated Press. Omsk, Siberia, Feb. 12.—Siberia, which has forced the world attention, by reason of the important political events there, includes all the Asiatic possessions of Russia with the exception of the trans-Caspian and trans-Caucasian regions and the government general of Turkestan whose capital, Tashkent, was captured by the Bolsheviks and whose American vice-consul, Roger C. Tredwell, was arrested and left to languish in prison. Since the Mongolian invasion in the thirteenth century, Siberia has been the home of many tribes, descended from that race. To the foreigner the Tartars are perhaps the most interesting. Their great center is Kazan though the national Tartar council, which like Ukraine and other regions of Russia, seeks the developments of its "national aspirations," is now located at Petropavlovsk, not far from Omsk. This is an account of Bolsheviki terrorism.

The Kirghis Tribe. An important nomadic Mongolian tribe is the Kirghis who live in the steppe regions of Akmolinsk and Semipalatinsk. They aggregate more than a million of both sexes, speak a Turkish dialect and are devout Mussulmans. They are chiefly cattle raisers. The Yakuts inhabit the region of Irkutsk, near Lake Baikal, and speak a language principally Turkish but partly Mongolian. They are idolatrous and live by the hunt and by the raising of cattle. In the province of Tobolsk, and generally in the north, even up to the Arctic ocean, are found the Voguls and the Ostiaks. They descended from ancient Finnish branch. Although in principle converted to Christianity, they have no real idea of the Christian religion and, as in ancient times, practice Shamanism, the religion of their ancestors. Still other tribes are the Telouets on the plateaus of the Altai, the Buriats in the Amur, and the Samoyedes on the Arctic borders where they engage in the raising of reindeer. In the large cities like Harbin, Irkutsk and Omsk, Americans are struck by the large number of Buriats and Tartars who are drivers of public droskies. They seem to speak the Russian language indifferently and apparently hardly know the street sand different quarters of the city. They are distinctly Mongolian in type and have flat noses. The present population of Siberia is estimated at ten million, as against a total Russian population of perhaps 150,000,000. Despite the numerous races and tribes mentioned above the population of Siberia is mainly Russian, formed of peasants who migrated from European Russia when Siberia was reconquered and to some extent of the descendants of the unhappy people who were exiled to the frigid zone for political conspiracies and crimes.

Prepare American Airplanes to Fly Across the Atlantic. By Associated Press. New York, April 15.—Two and possibly three N. C. airplanes will take part in the Navy Department's attempt to win for America the honor of being first to make a trans-Atlantic flight. It was stated by Lieutenant Commander Scofield, naval aid for aviation. Three machines are being got ready at Rockaway Beach, but tests are still in progress to decide whether they shall be equipped with three or four twelve-cylinder Liberty motors and other details of equipment. While the Navy is bending every effort to complete its preparations, Commander Scofield explained that haste to beat British or other competitors would not be allowed to interfere with all possible precautions to make the flight "as safe and sane" one. It is not likely that a start will be made until early in May.

Golf Demon Makes an Unheard-of Record at Whitmarsh Links

Traveling steadily from 6:10 a. m. to 7:45 p. m., Frederick W. Knight completed eight rounds at the Whitmarsh links yesterday, playing a total of 144 holes. With the well known methodical determination usual to a Quaker citizen, this golf ghoul started out to make seven rounds with an average of 85 and he only missed by an eyelash. He had been urged by the effort by the wager. It is estimated Knight walked 35 miles during the day; taking 689 strokes for an average of 86 1/2. Some records: The last round was also the longest as to time, it taking an hour and forty minutes. His shortest round was the fourth, he completing the eighteen holes in one hour and twenty minutes and having a card of 83. Knight did not stop for rest or luncheon, but drank two egg and milk drinks during the morning and one during the afternoon. His complete stroke record was as follows: Second Round Started 7:45; finished 9:11. Time, 1 hour 25 minutes. Out ... 4 4 7 5 5 5 5 5 4 4 In ... 4 6 2 4 5 4 4 6 5—40—84 (One stroke behind schedule.) Telegraph Typos in First Try-Out Game. The Island diamond yesterday was the object of determining the makeup of one representative team which will be on the job all season. Two nines, night and day forces, tussled for nine sessions, the former winning, 17-9, with Shoaff umpiring. Young George Wymer, "Chubb" Kelly and DeWitt Wohlforth pitched for the day side with considerable skill, but not enough to keep the ball from the night side sluggers. Wymer lasted one inning, Kelly six and Wohlforth two, finishing the game. Schiman and Dougherty made up the battery for the day side. The fielding and base-running of both clubs was up to the standard of first-of-the-season games. There were no thrills, the official scorer reported after the game, but a lot of young men were late for supper. There was plenty of clouting, the pitchers not being warmed up properly and the batter caught a good many and he will probably be the final score for the Telegraph club. Uchtman looks like an able finger when he has more practice. The fatalities were: DAY SIDE R. H. O. A. E. Army Stations Are Enlisting Many Men

Major W. E. Shipp, of the local Recruiting Station, 325 Market street, has returned to the headquarters of the Army recruiting service, established in Allentown, Allentown, Pa., to make a number of men responding to the recent call for 50,000 volunteers for service overseas with the American Expeditionary Forces. Almost as many are enlisting for service in the United States, China, Hawaii or the Philippines. The majority of those enlisting desire either to obtain vocational training, to live a life in the open, or to see the battlefields of France and Belgium. Many former soldiers who studied French at the training camps are going overseas to see the fighting "as safe and sane" one. It is not likely that a start will be made until early in May.

Orpheum Fights Tonight

Minus Nate Isaacman, the Orpheum boxing show will swing open to-night at 8:30 with Frankie McGuire and Mike Uraine in the star set-to. Isaacman sent Frank Erne a telegram this morning that a fractured nose would prevent him from appearing against Young O'Leary, of Philadelphia, and at the last moment Erne hooked Young Mahoney as a substitute. This had made a hit at the last show when pitted against Isaacman, and promises to be a feature to-night. Erne was confident to-day that the Jack Wolpert-Chick Hayes encounter would be thrilling, Wolpert being by far the best 110-pound lad turned out from Lancaster. He called that he knocked out the doughy, goose-fighting Dick Conlin of Altoona, proves that he is there with everything. Hayes recently distinguished himself in a six-round draw with Battling Murray at Philadelphia. Frankie McGuire fought here the last Orpheum show and had little chance to show his ability for he knocked Jack Andrews cold with his first blow, Mike Uraine is a policeman at Washington, D. C., and a very tough customer, who will put up no faco like Andrews. The fight starts at 8:30 sharp with general admission 50 cents; reserved seats 75 to $2.00.

AROUND THE BASES

London, April 15.—Eddie Shevlin, champion welterweight boxer of the United States Navy, yesterday afternoon defeated Fred Newberry on points in a twenty-round bout. Joe Lynch, the American bantamweight, started for the United States last night. His departure caused some surprise, as he had several matches in prospect. BIG LEAGUERS ARRIVE New York, April 15.—Grover Cleveland Alexander, crack pitcher of the National League, was among the soldiers who returned home yesterday from overseas on the Rochambeau. He is a sergeant in the Three Hundred and Forty-second Field Artillery. He said a contract with the Chicago Cubs was awaiting him. Another star of the diamond to set foot in New York yesterday was Walter (Rabbit) Maranville, shortstop on the Boston Nationals, who came into port with the Atlantic fleet. He was a coxswain on the flagship Pennsylvania, but received his discharge papers before leaving the ship. Soon after landing he took a train for his home in Springfield, Mass., where he will remain a few days before joining the Braves.

West Chester, April 15.—The Rookwood five, of Philadelphia, won the closing game of the season here when it defeated the Ex-Champs by the score of 29 to 2. Mack, guard of the home team, was severely injured when, it is alleged, Van Auston struck him in a scrimmage, and a general mixup was narrowly averted when spectators took a hand.

SHIPPENSBURG ON THE JOB

A strong team will again represent Shippensburg on the diamond this season. Would like to arrange games with teams of the Valley.
