

ALLIED ARMY IN ARCHANGEL FINDS SUPPLIES TAKEN

Warned by Von Mirbach, Bolsheviks, Chinese and Conscript Labor Did Work

Archangel, April 15.—When the Allied force first landed here on August 2, 1918, they found that most of the military stores which had been transported here for the use of the Russian imperial government had been removed by the Bolsheviks. The Germans and the Bolsheviks knew of the Allied intention to land there to protect the stores and Count Von Mirbach, the German ambassador at Moscow, told the Bolsheviks the Germans would occupy Moscow and Petrograd if they did not get the stores away before the Allies landed.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART; IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ills afflicting people today can be traced back to the kidney trouble. The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the tissues by the blood are not eliminated through the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim.

Volgoda-Archangel railroad from the farthest point south the Allies have been able to reach. Last July the correspondent saw acres after acres of these supplies—shells, guns, motor trucks, airplanes, heaps of iron and steel—under wooden roofs at Sukona.

Task Finished in Four Months He told the correspondent that with Chinese and soldier conscript laborers, the Bolsheviks removed all the stores they wanted in four months from Bakurita, across the Divina from Archangel, safely to Sukona. The work was completed by July 1, a month before the Allies set foot in Archangel.

GERMANS MUST PAY FOR WAR LOSSES TO CAPACITY ALLIED POWERS DECIDE

Special Commission Is Authorized to Exact Payment to the Utmost Within Limitation of Country's Indebtedness

Paris, April 15.—One hundred billion gold marks is the amount Germany must pay the allied and associated governments for losses and damage caused in the war, plus other billions to be determined by a special commission on which Germany is to be represented.

As Much More as Needed In addition to the foregoing payments, Germany will also be required to deliver additional bonds to the allied and associated governments. The commission determines that this should be done. These three payments of twenty, forty and forty billions of gold marks to one hundred billion gold marks.

Beyond this total, the commission is empowered to fix anything further that may be required to cover Germany's indebtedness.

Responsibility General Germany is at the outset held generally responsible for losses and damages in accordance with President Wilson's fourteen points and the allied response at the time the armistice was concluded.

thirty years, beginning 1921, with a sinking fund beginning in 1926. These forty billion marks draw 1-2 per cent interest from 1921 to 1926, and 5 per cent interest after 1926.

In other words, "concluded the eminent American authority who writes after weeks of negotiation the foregoing summary," the commission is set up with power to collect from Germany to the utmost of her capacity to pay, within the limitation of her indebtedness.

It is in the gold mark that all payments are expressed in the final terms. This excludes depreciated paper money, but a standard and payment in gold.

The allotment of the 100,000,000,000 marks among the allied and associated powers has not yet been made. It is estimated that the arrangement makes the allotment of France about 55 per cent of the total.

Great Britain's allotment between twenty and thirty per cent, and the allotment of the United States between two and five per cent.

The text of the opening clause of the terms whereby Germany is held generally responsible, reads substantially as follows: "The allied and associated powers affirm, and Germany admits responsibility for all losses and damages of the allied and associated governments and their nationals from the unjust and illegal warfare waged by the enemy power against the allied and associated governments."

"They follow a provision for the commission on the part of the allied and associated governments of the operations of the commission.

High Deathrate in England During Last Quarter of 1918

London, April 15.—Coinciding with the publication of the report showing that during the last quarter of 1918 the number of deaths exceeded the birthrate for the first time in the history of civil registration in this country, the War Office has announced the release in one week of 700 physicians from the army.

Influenza caused the great increase in the deathrate, the number of victims from that disease being 99,998, or 41 per cent of the total deaths for the period. Lack of physicians is held responsible for the failure to curb the epidemic. At the beginning of the year, although 1,750,000 men of the army had been demobilized, only 1,500 out of the 11,000 physicians had been released.

Plans to Celebrate Day as Campaign Against Bolshevism

New York, April 15.—As part of a campaign against Bolshevism, a nation-wide celebration of America will be held on May 17 by the American Defense Society. It is planned to designate the day as America Day and through patriotic celebrations throughout the United States to call the attention of loyal Americans to the need for preserving America against the menace of anarchy and lawlessness. Other patriotic organizations will take part in the celebration and from letters received from the Governors of many of the States, it is expected that America day will be officially recognized.
