

TRIES TO SETTLE STRIKE OF THE PHONE WORKERS

First Assistant Postmaster General Goes to Boston

By Associated Press. Boston, April 17.—John C. Koons, First Assistant Postmaster General and chairman of the Wire Control Board, is in this city to-day to attempt to settle the strike of operators and other telephone workers in New England.

When the telephone strikers' committee was informed that Mr. Koons was coming, Miss Julia S. O'Connor, the strike leader, said that if he sought a conference he would have to meet with representatives of the New England joint council of electrical workers, as the strike was no longer simply an operators' strike, but a general walkout of telephone workers.

Members of local 104, who are employed as linemen, voted to strike at noon to-day. The cable splicers and inside workers went yesterday and union leaders estimated that by to-night 20,000 telephone workers in New England would be on strike.

Pickets at Milton Exchange, in the metropolitan district, reported that Mrs. William R. Driver, Jr., wife of the general manager of the New England Company, Mrs. John Balch, wife of the treasurer of the company, and other women, who were taken to the building in their automobiles, worked at switchboards yesterday.

In reply to a telegram from a physician in Greenfield, Miss O'Connor said that the strike committee would authorize emergency service for police, health and fire departments in exchanges where it was possible to put the emergency lines on the board. She said this would not be possible in the exchanges in the metropolitan district, where multi-trunking switchboards are used.

Double Income Tax in Great Britain Drives Yanks to Citizenship

By Associated Press. London, April 17.—That a man should pay more money for income tax than the total of his income seems the limit of taxation. This is said to be the plight of a well-known British peer, who was born an American and became naturalized in England some years ago. His property is in the United States. Being a British subject, he is compelled by British law to pay income tax on all his revenues from all sources, and the American law compels payment of income tax on all his income from American property.

Being a multi-millionaire, his income is subject to heavy super-tax by both governments, and the taxes are said to amount to more than 100 per cent. of the income. Thus, the unfortunate nobleman must pay out all of his receipts and dip into his capital to defray current taxes, and, after defraying this first charge, use more of the capital for living expenses.

The double income tax of the war period has hit well-to-do Americans who live in Great Britain, very hard. In former days very few of the large colony of American business men living in Britain had ever given up their American citizenship. But many of them have found this draft on their patriotism too heavy, and have reluctantly changed their allegiance, and taken out naturalization papers. As for those Americans who lived here because they found the social atmosphere of England more congenial, and the scope for spending money on pleasures greater than at home, most of them seem to have disappeared.

BLAST DAMAGES HOUSE

Marietta, Pa., April 17.—Recently the home of Charles E. Seaman, corner of East Front and Pine streets, was badly damaged by concussion resulting from a heavy blast. Mr. Seaman purchased the double house from Mrs. J. M. Wheeler, and has made a number of improvements to the property. A large tree was cut down directly in front of the houses and dynamite was used to extricate the roots. The impact ruined the front of his house and caused considerable damage to the interior. No one was injured.

U. S. - JAPANESE RELATIONS ARE STILL CORDIAL

Viscount Ishii's Return Does Not Forecast New Developments

Tokio, April 17.—The announcement that Viscount Ishii, the Japanese ambassador to the United States, is returning to Japan, which is accompanied by a continuation of the anti-American campaign in the Japanese press, has had the effect of centralizing interest in Japanese and American relations. Several of the newspapers insist that Viscount Ishii is resigning on account of a divergence of views with the home government.

The newspapers assail American and American for alleged activities in Siberia, Korea and China. Some of the newspapers find the United States aggressive and hypocritical.

Investigation shows no existence of serious diplomatic questions between Japan and the United States. In Siberia, where some differences in view developed between the United States and Japan, it now appears that the two countries are working in close co-operation, especially in connection with the control of the trans-Siberian railway. The recent incident at Tientsin between Japanese and American troops is not considered important here.

Japan's appointment of Baron Yoshitiro Sakatani as financial adviser to China seems not to have been approved in the United States, though it is said Japan had the impression that the United States was favorable to it. It is believed this question is one of the causes of Viscount Ishii's return home for a consultation.

Notwithstanding the adverse criticisms of the newspapers, responsible Japanese opinion continues solidly in favor of friendly co-operation with the United States as the fundamental principle of Japan's foreign policy.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Acting Secretary of State Polk has authorized the statement that no serious questions were pending between the United States and Japan, and that the indications were that minor issues arising from the situation in Siberia and the recent trouble at Tientsin as well as Peace Conference problems soon would be amicably settled without in any way straining the relations between the two countries.

LOSE SOCIAL STATUS IN DOMESTIC SERVICE

One Reason Why English Girls Fight Shy of This Work, Committee Finds

London, April 17.—There are three reasons why English girls fight shy of domestic service. Loss of social status, long hours of duty and lack of companionship.

These are the findings of one of the numerous committees which, on behalf of the government, are trying to find a solution of the servant problem in this country. "The fact cannot be denied," says the report, "that domestic workers are regarded by other workers as belonging to a lower social status. The distinctive dress they are required to wear marks them out as a class apart, the cap being generally resented."

"It is sometimes stated that the differentiation in the quality of the food for the dining room and that for the servants' hall or kitchen is another class distinction which leads to a spirit of bitterness. The custom of dressing domestic workers by their Christian name or surname is one of the causes of the superior attitude adopted by other workers recruited from the same or even from a lower social status."

"Further, the attitude adopted by the press and the stage is usually an unfortunate one, as servants are frequently represented as comic or flippant characters and are held up to ridicule." An advisory committee of the Ministry of Labor has laid down the first official minimum wage scale for domestic servants. It ranges from $10 a year for a housemaid of 18 years or more up to $150 for a cook or a housekeeper, in addition to board and washing. Hours of leisure are fixed at two hours daily, a half-holiday every week, part time on Sundays, and two weeks' holiday each year with wages.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

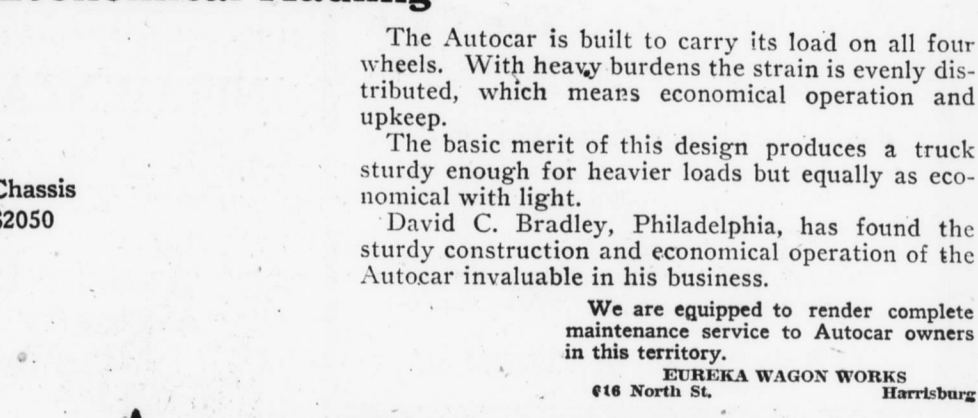

Stop this!
