IGNORANCE IS BASIS OF BOLSHEVIK RULE

Count Tolstoy Tells How Kerensky Betrayed Korniloff and Russian Army and How Germany Financed Lenin to Bring Ruin to One-Sixth of the Earth

"How can we avert Bolshevism in America?" Count Ilya Tolstoy was asked following the public meeting held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce in the Chestnut street auditorium last night when he addressed a large audience on "Bolshevism."

"I will now explain to you what the word Bolsheviki means, Count Tolstoy continued. It is derived from the Russian word meaning 'more.' It is a narrow doctrine made in Germany. The uneducated peasants hear the word Bolsheviki meaning more, and they think it means more of everything. If you ask them, 'Are you a Bolsheviki?' they say 'Yes.' They think they'll get more boots, more food, more money. They do not know. We all want more. In that respect we are all Bolsheviki."

He told of the growth of the Social-Democratic party, how it was separated into two parties, one of which was known as the Bolsheviki. Here he interpolated one of the reasons for Russia's collapse during the war, saying it was because only one part of the industry is developed in Russia.

"Before the revolution the peasant lived a very miserable life, but if he had money he could buy something," the count said. "Now he has pockets and even boots full of money but he cannot buy anything. The only industry now working in Russia is the printing press, and it is busy printing money. They print it by the sheet and they don't have to tear it apart so they pay by sheets of money instead of only by small bits."

At the opening of the meeting Abner W. Hartman led in committee singing. J. Stewart Black at the piano and the Municipal Orchestra played. The Verdi quartet, consisting of Ralph E. Stever, G. W. W. Watson, J. Frank Myers sang several numbers.
