

NOMINAL AWARD IS AFFIRMED

State Compensation Board Hands Down Decision on Question

The practice of making a nominal award in compensation where injury has been sustained and disability caused, but which is not at present reflected in the earnings of the claimant, has been upheld by the State Workmen's Compensation Board in a decision by Commissioner John A. Scott in Adams vs. Roxford Knitting Company, a Philadelphia appeal.

The Board has granted new hearings in Green vs. Hill and Company, Philadelphia; Graeber vs. North American Company, Philadelphia; Allen vs. Inquirer, Philadelphia; Davis vs. Jones and Laughlin Steel Company, Pittsburgh; set aside final Service!

LANE'S COLD & GRIP TABLETS GUARANTEED

Piles and Rupture Treated By Philadelphia Specialist

Every person so afflicted should investigate our famous, dissolving method of treating these troublesome affections. This dissolving treatment is one of the greatest discoveries of the age and no person has any excuse for suffering with Piles while this treatment is so easy to obtain.

It is not necessary for you to wear a truss all your life and to be in constant danger of having a strangulated rupture, which is nearly always fatal. Our method of treating rupture gives results in eight out of every ten cases. It closes up the opening permanently and you can throw your truss away and again feel like a cool man. Our fees for these treatments are very small and are within the reach of every one.

DR. W. S. YODER, PHILADELPHIA SPECIALIST AT HOTEL BOLTON, Wednesday, April 23rd, from 2 to 9 p. m.

FINDS STRONG HELP IN AN OLD FRIEND

Jacob Roller, retired shoemaker, 245 East Oxford street, Philadelphia, found strong help when he returned to his old friend Tanlac. "I had been suffering from nervousness and sciatica, and I had a form of gastritis that left me weak and I ran down. I bought Tanlac several years ago and found it a great remedy then. Now it seems to be better than ever. I'm careful to get the genuine article, and now that I'm taking it again my health has become better and I'm free in saying it helps my sciatica."

The genuine J. I. Gore Co. Tanlac is sold here by Gorgas, George's, Kramer's, Kennedy's and Steever's and other leading druggists in every community.

PENROSE CALLS FOR MORE ACTION

Says That Time Enough Has Been Lost in the Legislature; Coming Back Monday

United States Senator Boise Penrose, who came to Harrisburg last night for his first visit to this legislative session, declared that weeks enough had been spent in discussing legislation and that it was time for action. He was particularly interested in Philadelphia bills and teachers salary bills and said that he expected to stay here until Wednesday evening and would return Monday of next week. The Senator indicated very clearly that he meant to insist upon some things and the talk was that there were going to be some understandings reached on a good many subjects before the Senator goes home.

Almost as soon as he reached Harrisburg the Senator said "The time has passed for discussing legislation. It should be expedited. I have come here to make an effort to get action on bills and will remain until Wednesday at least and come back Monday."

The Senator remarked that he had appointments with men from all over the State for Harrisburg, this week, and expected to see them here. "I shall visit the Hill and call upon some heads of departments no doubt and will also see Senator Crow and other Legislators," said he in discussing his plans. "I did not come here to speak to the Legislature especially," replied the Senator, when asked if there was anything to the report that he might address the two Houses as he has done on previous visits. "However, I may do so, but I am here to get some action on the so called Philadelphia bills and others."

"Does that include the Brady bills?" was asked. "For Teachers Increase" "Yes, and the school teachers' salary bill and a dozen others on what not much progress has been made," answered the Senator who went on to say that he had been appealed to by teachers inasmuch as he had added to the deficiency bill an increase for the teachers of the District of Columbia. Unless teachers are given adequate salaries, he pointed out, there will not be teaching staffs in some of the districts.

When asked if he had heard that a one mill tax on manufacturing capital had been suggested as a means of raising money to pay the teachers, the Senator said "Yes, that has been mentioned, but there is no definite plan. I think the State has enough revenue without additional taxation."

The Senator said that he had heard the suggestion that local districts should bear half of the cost of the increased salaries, if the State met fifty per cent, and continued "Ever since 1885, there has been a sentiment in this State against taxing manufacturing capital. It has grown to be strong because it has brought many industries to Pennsylvania, and I think we should loath to disturb the situation in that respect. The United States and this State—the whole country in fact—have been taxed to the point of strangulation, and if pushed much farther it might result in paralysis of industry."

The Senator said that he expected an effort to be made to get the Woodward bills out of committee as soon as possible and that District Attorney, Samuel P. Rotan, and his associates would be here Tuesday morning on the district attorney bills, which he said should be acted upon without any more delays.

In reply to questions he said that he thought if the Police Commission bill went in, the Woodward bill could be amended so as dovetail with it, and that minor amendments which would not make any radical changes to the Woodward bill might be offered. These, he said, would be presented in the House as the bill is now in the Senate.

When asked if he expected to see the Governor, he said that he hoped to do so, but that he could not speak for the Governor on the Philadelphia charter bills. "The Governor will speak for himself. I can only refer you to what he said at a banquet in Philadelphia on that subject," replied the Senator.

The Senator said he had not given much thought to the bill for an elective school board. In a formal statement as to reasons for his visit to Harrisburg is to lend his influence in support of the Woodward charter revision bill and other legislation having for its object the attachment of municipal good government. Months ago I gave my public pledge to the citizens' committee, formed for the purpose of framing this legislation, that I would do what I could to favor its adoption, and I shall re-deem that pledge to the best of my ability.

"The Woodward charter bill is, I believe, a very meritorious measure. It represents the thought and work of a large number of public-spirited citizens of all shades of opinion, men who have given years of study to the problems of municipal government. It has received the indorsement of the city's principal business and civic organizations, of church, labor and fraternal bodies, and undoubtedly is in accord with overwhelming public sentiment in favor of bettering civic conditions."

"With the framing of this legislation, I had not the slightest part, having been entirely occupied by my duties in the recent session of Congress. But it is entirely in line with the position I have maintained for many years in reference to municipal affairs in Philadelphia and the defects in the Bullitt bill. As long as fifteen years ago I publicly declared my conviction that the misuse of despotic powers placed in the hands of the Mayor by the present charter, particularly the abuse of the police in politics, was a public evil that should be corrected. Time and again I have reiterated these convictions and on more than one occasion have given my personal influence to corrective measures in the Legislature. "I had my own personal views embodied in a bill to revise the governing laws for Philadelphia. I will state very frankly that such a measure would have gone very much further than the Woodward bill or anything that has been prepared. I would favor an entire change in the municipal structure, and give the city the most business-like form of commission government that could be devised. If Philadelphia's business affairs were entrusted for a period of years to a commission of seven, nine or eleven high grade, efficient men, and were absolutely divorced from politics, either of the Mayor or independent parties, this city would have a tremendous impetus in business, commercial, industrial and civic affairs. I should be very glad indeed to leave the selection of such a commission, and of

PENROSE CALLS FOR MORE ACTION

Says That Time Enough Has Been Lost in the Legislature; Coming Back Monday

United States Senator Boise Penrose, who came to Harrisburg last night for his first visit to this legislative session, declared that weeks enough had been spent in discussing legislation and that it was time for action. He was particularly interested in Philadelphia bills and teachers salary bills and said that he expected to stay here until Wednesday evening and would return Monday of next week. The Senator indicated very clearly that he meant to insist upon some things and the talk was that there were going to be some understandings reached on a good many subjects before the Senator goes home.

Almost as soon as he reached Harrisburg the Senator said "The time has passed for discussing legislation. It should be expedited. I have come here to make an effort to get action on bills and will remain until Wednesday at least and come back Monday."

The Senator remarked that he had appointments with men from all over the State for Harrisburg, this week, and expected to see them here. "I shall visit the Hill and call upon some heads of departments no doubt and will also see Senator Crow and other Legislators," said he in discussing his plans. "I did not come here to speak to the Legislature especially," replied the Senator, when asked if there was anything to the report that he might address the two Houses as he has done on previous visits. "However, I may do so, but I am here to get some action on the so called Philadelphia bills and others."

"Does that include the Brady bills?" was asked. "For Teachers Increase" "Yes, and the school teachers' salary bill and a dozen others on what not much progress has been made," answered the Senator who went on to say that he had been appealed to by teachers inasmuch as he had added to the deficiency bill an increase for the teachers of the District of Columbia. Unless teachers are given adequate salaries, he pointed out, there will not be teaching staffs in some of the districts.

When asked if he had heard that a one mill tax on manufacturing capital had been suggested as a means of raising money to pay the teachers, the Senator said "Yes, that has been mentioned, but there is no definite plan. I think the State has enough revenue without additional taxation."

The Senator said that he had heard the suggestion that local districts should bear half of the cost of the increased salaries, if the State met fifty per cent, and continued "Ever since 1885, there has been a sentiment in this State against taxing manufacturing capital. It has grown to be strong because it has brought many industries to Pennsylvania, and I think we should loath to disturb the situation in that respect. The United States and this State—the whole country in fact—have been taxed to the point of strangulation, and if pushed much farther it might result in paralysis of industry."

The Senator said that he expected an effort to be made to get the Woodward bills out of committee as soon as possible and that District Attorney, Samuel P. Rotan, and his associates would be here Tuesday morning on the district attorney bills, which he said should be acted upon without any more delays.

In reply to questions he said that he thought if the Police Commission bill went in, the Woodward bill could be amended so as dovetail with it, and that minor amendments which would not make any radical changes to the Woodward bill might be offered. These, he said, would be presented in the House as the bill is now in the Senate.

When asked if he expected to see the Governor, he said that he hoped to do so, but that he could not speak for the Governor on the Philadelphia charter bills. "The Governor will speak for himself. I can only refer you to what he said at a banquet in Philadelphia on that subject," replied the Senator.

The Senator said he had not given much thought to the bill for an elective school board. In a formal statement as to reasons for his visit to Harrisburg is to lend his influence in support of the Woodward charter revision bill and other legislation having for its object the attachment of municipal good government. Months ago I gave my public pledge to the citizens' committee, formed for the purpose of framing this legislation, that I would do what I could to favor its adoption, and I shall re-deem that pledge to the best of my ability.

"The Woodward charter bill is, I believe, a very meritorious measure. It represents the thought and work of a large number of public-spirited citizens of all shades of opinion, men who have given years of study to the problems of municipal government. It has received the indorsement of the city's principal business and civic organizations, of church, labor and fraternal bodies, and undoubtedly is in accord with overwhelming public sentiment in favor of bettering civic conditions."

"With the framing of this legislation, I had not the slightest part, having been entirely occupied by my duties in the recent session of Congress. But it is entirely in line with the position I have maintained for many years in reference to municipal affairs in Philadelphia and the defects in the Bullitt bill. As long as fifteen years ago I publicly declared my conviction that the misuse of despotic powers placed in the hands of the Mayor by the present charter, particularly the abuse of the police in politics, was a public evil that should be corrected. Time and again I have reiterated these convictions and on more than one occasion have given my personal influence to corrective measures in the Legislature. "I had my own personal views embodied in a bill to revise the governing laws for Philadelphia. I will state very frankly that such a measure would have gone very much further than the Woodward bill or anything that has been prepared. I would favor an entire change in the municipal structure, and give the city the most business-like form of commission government that could be devised. If Philadelphia's business affairs were entrusted for a period of years to a commission of seven, nine or eleven high grade, efficient men, and were absolutely divorced from politics, either of the Mayor or independent parties, this city would have a tremendous impetus in business, commercial, industrial and civic affairs. I should be very glad indeed to leave the selection of such a commission, and of

"The Live Store"

"Always Reliable"

Society Brand Clothes

How We Can Serve

There are many ways for a good clothing merchant to serve; in the quality of the merchandise he buys, in the variety he offers, in the styles, in the service. Some are satisfied to give as little advice as possible as long as they sell goods. We want to serve you to the utmost; we want to sell you goods because you feel that our merchandise gives you what you want.

That's why we carry only the best, you can feel certain when you buy anything at this "Live Store" that you are getting full value for your money—unless you are satisfied with your purchase we are not satisfied with our service.—It's a great deal easier to give you service if we sell you clothes that will bring you back again, for that reason we prefer to sell.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Kuppenheimer & Society Brand Clothes

The Easter season has just finished, but the spring season is just about started. The clothes buyers are overjoyed with the excellent creations that this "Live Store" is showing, and it's very gratifying to us to see the many "new customers" who are coming to DOUTRICH'S this season, telling us they have heard so much about the "new style clothes" we have, and the greater values their friends have been getting, that they were anxious also to try this "Live Store."

It's wonderful what a reputation this "Live Store" is enjoying; our customers are scattered all over Pennsylvania, but we started to build a reputation "around home" first. Living up to our claims is bringing most of the clothing buyers Here, and once they come Here they become a part and parcel of this great institution, for we treat our customers as one of our family. We would appreciate having you numbered with this big family.

Try the Dependable Doutrich Service That Everybody Is Talking About

Doutrich's Always Reliable

304 Market St. Harrisburg, Pa.

MUNYON'S Paw-Paw Pills

Strengthen digestion, stimulate the liver, regulate the bowels and improve one's health by assisting nature. All druggists, 30c.

Stop Itching Eczema

Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop burning, itching eczema quickly by applying Zemo furnished by any druggist for 35c. Extra large bottle, $1.00. Healing begins the moment Zemo is applied. In a short time usually every trace of eczema, tetter, pimples, rash, blackheads and similar skin diseases will be removed. For clearing the skin and making it vigorously healthy, always use Zemo, the penetrating antiseptic liquid. It is not greasy and does not stain. When others fail it is the one dependable treatment for skin troubles of all kinds. The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

Fruit-Juice Essences

Jiffy-Jell desserts carry real fruit flavors in essence form, in vials. A wealth of fruit juice is condensed for each dessert. So you get a fresh-fruit dainty, healthful and delicious. This is the new-type quick gelatine dessert—five times as good as the old kinds. Loganberry and Pine-apple are two of the best flavors. Try them only. They're found only in Jiffy-Jell

10 Flavors, at Your Grocer's 2 Packages for 25 Cents

Check that cold at the start

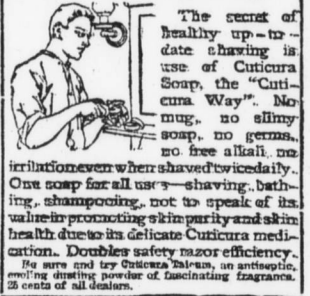

Remember, an unchecked cold leads to more serious ailments. Prompt action is half the battle. Have ready a box of

DILL'S La Grippe and Cold Tablets

Take them according to directions on the box, at the first sign of a cold, chills, headache, feverish condition, or influenza. Made by the Dill Co., Norristown, Pa. Also manufacturers of the reliable Dill's Balm of Life Dill's Cough Syrup Dill's Little Liver Pills Dill's Kidney Pills Ask your druggist or dealer in medicine. The kind mother always kept

CUTICURA SOAP

For Shaving, Bathing and Shampooing

The secret of healthy up-to-date shaving is use of Cuticura Soap, the "Cuticura Way." No lather, no stinging, no smarting, no free alkali, no irritation, even when shaved twice daily. Use soap for all uses—shaving, bathing, shampooing, not to speak of its value in promoting skin purity and skin health due to its delicate Cuticura medication. Doubles safety razor efficiency. No harsh or irritating action on skin. Contains soothing powder of fascinating fragrance. 15 cents of all dealers.

WHY RUN-DOWN PALE EXHAUSTED WOMEN SHOULD TAKE IRON

There can be no beautiful, healthy complexion at any time without iron. When the iron goes from the blood of women, the roses of their cheeks—their charm and attractiveness—depart. Always insist that your medicine is Nuxated Iron—(not metallic iron which often corrodes the stomach and does more harm than good). Nuxated Iron is easily assimilated, does not blacken nor injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It will increase the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, irritable, careworn, haggard women in two weeks' time. It is a true tonic. I have used it in my own practice with most surprising results. Ferdinand King, M.D., well known New York Physician and medical expert, writes: "Nuxated Iron is a good medicine or money refunded—On sale at all good druggists."

NUXATED IRON