MYSTERY IN DEATH OF TYRONE BOY IN FRANCE

Soldiers of Similar Names Set Town Guessing as to Which One Is Really Dead

By Associated Press. Tyrone, April 24.—A peculiar circumstance has developed in Tyrone over the identity of a soldier who is reported as having died of disease in France. From Tyrone went forth John Glenn Robinson and also John George Robinson, and both went to France. Now the War Department records the death of John Glenn Robinson. Either the name has become twisted in the government files or an error has been made in the transmission of the message.

The parents of John George were notified of the death of their son, but they have reason to believe that he is well, as they had a letter from him dated but two days before he was presumed to have died, and he made no mention of the fact of being sick. The parents of John Glenn have not heard from him for several months, and the conjecture is that this must be the one who has died. No word has been received in the meantime from either boy, so that the parents are in doubt.

BIG TRANSPORTS BRING MEN OF 28TH DIVISION

to be on the high seas are members of Companies D and I of the 112th Infantry, formerly the Eighth Regiment of the old Pennsylvania National Guard. Others are with Company C, Eighth Regiment, the old Chambersburg unit which was recruited to full strength by the addition of men from Harrisburg and surrounding community. Others are scattered throughout other units aboard the two ships, the Minnesota, Kronland and others that are now on their way home with units of the Keystone Division.

Company I will be the first of the local units to land, it being scheduled to disembark from the Pohontas at Philadelphia next Thursday. Companies D and I took passage on the transport Mercury which is expected to reach home soil on May 4.

The War Department's cable from General Pershing, lists the following troops of the Keystone Division aboard these two transports in which Harrisburg is primarily interested: Pohontas—Detachment of Machine Gun Battalion, four officers, 19th Infantry Headquarters, Headquarters, Medical Detachment, Headquarters Companies E, F, G and H; Medical Detachment Sections I, K and L; M, Medical Detachment; Third Battalion, 66 officers, 2,228 men; detachment 129th Infantry; six officers, detachment 128th Machine Gun Battalion, nine officers; Casual Detachment No. 30, Ordnance Company, one officer, two men.

Mercury—Detachment Headquarters Troop, 23rd Division, four officers, 109 men. Headquarters Detachment, 28th Division, 138 men; 112th Infantry, Headquarters First Battalion Medical Detachment; First Battalion Companies A, B, C, D, 20 officers, 1,020 men.

One Hundred and Seventh Trench Mortar Battery, 4 officers, 181 men; 110th Trench Mortar Battery, 4 officers, 162 men; 112th Trench Mortar Battery, 2 officers, 163 men. Company C, 114th Supply Train, one officer, one man; 303rd Trench Mortar Battery, 4 officers, 141 men; 103rd Train Headquarters, Sanitary Ordnance Detachment, 5 officers, 29 men; 103rd Mobile Ordnance Repair Shop, 2 officers, 75 men.

Finney on Mercury Colonel Maurice E. Finney and his troops are aboard the Mercury. Colonel Finney is from this city as are a number of officers of his staff. War Department officials have no definite information as to the present location of the 108th Field Artillery and the 103rd Supply Train. The former unit includes many men from Harrisburg and surrounding territory, most of whom served with the Governor's Troop of the old Pennsylvania National Guard. Company A of the Supply Train is made up almost exclusively of men of this city.

The War Department statement is taken by Adjutant General Beary to mean that the unit has either already returned to transports for home and have failed to get out of French waters as yet or are awaiting at a port of embarkation in France. The situation it means also of the 108th Field Artillery is true also of the 103rd Supply Train, including the 107th, 108th and 109th Field Artillery; the 103rd Sanitary Train; the 103rd Ammunition Train and the 103rd Supply Train. Some Harrisburg men are in both the sanitary and ammunition units.

Plan Big Reception While there is no definite assurance that any of the local units will come home in a body, the Home Folks Victory Association is nevertheless proceeding with their plans to provide a suitable reception for the men. A parade and luncheon are included among their tentative plans.

Through the emphasis placed on the desirability of having as many troops of the Keystone Division as possible land at Philadelphia, General Beary has succeeded in having at least 5,000 additional overseas veterans scheduled to land at that port. This considerably brightens the plans for the holding of a big victory pageant in honor of these men.

England and France Stand by Wilson

London, April 24.—With reference to the Italian claims The Associated Press learns that under the Treaty of London Italy was entitled to Trieste, Pola and part of Dalmatia, but Fiume was to go to Croatia.

Great Britain has advised Italy in her own interests to forego some of her claims, but if the Italians insist on their rights under the treaty, Great Britain and France are prepared to honor their signatures, in which case, as pointed out to Italy, Fiume must go to Croatia.

Angry Workmen Duck Two "Reds" in River Philadelphia, April 24.—Two Bolsheviks who attempted to hold a mass meeting at noon yesterday at the new government pier, foot of Snyder avenue, were rushed by 1,000 workmen, dragged from a platform and marched to the end of the pier where ropes were made fast around their necks.

Only the pleading of the foremen saved them from being lynched. Finally the men abandoned their plan of hanging the "Reds," but refused to let them go unpunished. Instead of stringing the men up to the piling the ropes about their necks were lowered to their waists and as a score or more firsts found their marks the radicals were kicked over the side of the pier into the cold waters of the Delaware, twenty feet below. Five good duckings were given the Bolsheviks while suspended from the ropes.

When the frightened radicals began to lose consciousness they were dragged from the river. Bricks, stones and tools followed them; they ran from the pier out to Weccacoe avenue.

PROHIBITION AIDED BY SODA FOUNTAINS to be the greatest function in educating the public to prohibition. It used to be 'beer or water.' The soft drink eliminated this.

Opposed to Tax Harrisburg soda fountain proprietors are very bitter at the Government for its method of taxing. One owner declared to-day that it costs him an even $1,000 to collect these taxes in his three establishments. Dealers say that Uncle Sam justifies himself by saying the end justifies the means. Money was needed at the moment, and instead of taxing all sorts of business, discrimination was made against soft drinks and medicines. Class legislation, they call it, and they are confident that the tax will be removed sooner or later, as it is an imposition on the vast public. Every five-cent drink imposes a tax of one penny and this must be reported to Washington in the case of every sale.

Soda fountain merchants here expect this season to mark the greatest consumption; the soft drink establishments are rapidly gathering place. Since the lifting of the embargo on ammonia they figure that there will be plenty of manufactured ice; thus drinks will have their usual cold temperature, so much demanded by Americans.
