

AIRSHIPS BEST FOR COMMERCE

Limitations of Airplane Too Small For Any Practical Purpose

London, April 25.—British experts, seeking to forecast the future possibilities of aircraft, seem to agree that it is to the airship of rigid construction, not to the airplane, that one must look for the maximum of commercial usefulness. The limitations of airplanes designed on present principles are definitely known. Technically, it is an accepted fact that an airplane cannot be produced which is capable of transporting a commercially adequate load for a longer nonstop flight than 1,000 miles. For practical purposes 500 to 800 miles are regarded as the workable limits. But the prospects of airships are much less easy to diagnose. It is recognized that rigid airships can fly for distances of 2,500 miles carrying a commercial load of approximately fifteen tons and that they are enabled to undertake long flights now believed to be impossible of attainment by airplanes. Every increase in the size of airships is accompanied by greater relative efficiency, but the medium-sized airships have greater advantages, it is said, than is generally supposed. For example, the "North Sea class" of 500 horse-power is capable of transporting a load of more than three tons, whereas the four-engined giant airplane of 1100 horse-power is able to lift less than four tons and burns twice as much gasoline.

GERMANS PLAN TO PUSH TRADE

"Made in Germany" Labels Make Appearance in London

London, April 25.—London business men and British manufacturers whose plants are located outside of London are alarmed lest the German should again obtain a profitable foothold in the country, and wide publicity is being given all information which tends to show that Germany again expects to do business here. The latest is the publication of labels which Germans have prepared for the expected trade and which have been sent to London by soldiers with the Army of Occupation at Coblenz. "Superior scissors made of the best double refined caststeel. Made in Germany" reads one label, and "finest hollow-ground razors, set ready for use, warranted; made in Germany" is another. Still others carry the guarantee of the German manufacturing firm, and all of them bear the place of origin. According to an announcement by the Board of Trade, the regulations against the importation of German goods in Great Britain are still in force, and there is no danger of a German trade invasion until these have been removed. The British are jealously guarding their home trade from the German.

Ukrainians Believe Allied Mission Was Favorable to Poles

Stanislaw, Capital of West Ukraine, April 25.—Failure of the Inter-Allied Mission to conclude an armistice between the Ukrainians and Poles at Lemberg is attributed by Premier Lesiore Holubowicz of the Ukraine to suspicion by Ukrainian leaders that the mission was disposed to be favorable to the Poles. "It was due to our belief that this mission came prejudiced by Polish views," said the premier to the correspondent of The Associated Press in an interview in which he discussed the determination of the Ukrainians to fight for Lemberg to the bitter end. "They did not come direct to us," continued the premier; "but by the way of Poland and they stayed with us relatively only a few hours. They appeared to regard us as Bolsheviks."

REPORTS WILL BE BIENNIALS

Governor Signs Bill to Improve the State Printing of Reports

Annual reports of the departments of the State government of Pennsylvania, which have been the rule for many years and have often appeared in print twelve to twenty months late, are abolished and biennial reports ordained under the terms of an administration bill announced as approved by the Governor. The bill stipulates that all annual reports required are now to be made biennially and to be sent to the Governor before the 1st of June in each odd numbered year, to be printed and distributed "only on order of the Governor." The act, which exempts presentation of bills and the legislative handbook, is designed to put the State's publications on a better basis and will be followed by reduction of size and issue of printed reports. At the same time it is expected to place bulletins upon a more up-to-date basis.

The Governor has also approved the bill establishing a bureau of statistics and information in the Department of Internal Affairs, one of the bills drafted by Secretary of Internal Affairs-elect James F. Woodward. The bureau is designated to be a clearing house for all industrial and other information and will transfer to the department, the statistical bureau now in the Department of Labor and Industry. Information asked must be furnished under penalty of a fine of $100. The scope of the bureau will include data relative to labor, mining, oil and gas, production, manufacturing, industry, commercial operations, public service except railroads and other business interests of the State. There is to be a chief of bureau at $5,000 and a staff of assistants, statisticians and others.

The following Senate bills have also been signed:
Providing that attorneys admitted to other courts of the State. Authorizing courts to decree sale of real estate for the payment of purposes and reinvestment of proceeds, in counties having less than 150,000 population.
Relative to sales of normal schools to the State and dissolution of normal school corporations.
Fixing a charge of one cent an acre on State forest lands for benefit to counties wherein located.

Providing that inmates of prisons may be employed on county poor farms after the close of the war.
Making testimony part of record on appeal to appellate courts.
Authorizing electric light and power companies to merge with street railway companies.
These House bills were approved: Authorizing motor power companies owing stock of street railway companies to acquire such company's properties, rights and franchises.
Empowering school districts to name delegates to conventions of school directors.
Providing payment of $4 per day to teachers attending institutes in addition to contract salaries.
Validating sales of real estate for nonpayment of taxes where technical irregularities in proceedings occurred.
Fixing fifteen cents as mileage of judges in judicial districts containing more than one county.
Adding to the State Legislative Reference Bureau state compilers, bill drafters, bill reading clerk and two stenographers with requirements that certain ones shall be lawyers and increasing certain salaries.
Authorizing registers of wills in counties having between 500,000 and 1,500,000 population to fix salaries of assistant clerks of orphan courts.
The Governor also approved the Lafferty bill increasing penalty for felonious assault with intent to rob and robbery in which violence is done to fine of not over $5,000 and not more than twenty years in prison.

City Spends $100,000 to Overcome Distress Due to Influenza

Sydney, April 25.—The city of Sydney has spent nearly $100,000 since the beginning of the Spanish influenza epidemic in dealing with distress due to unemployment because of the disease.

Sixty-four depots have been established throughout the metropolitan district with officials at their head authorized to extend rent relief and provide lodgings and board to those made homeless or penniless through the disease.

Up to date 16,989 persons have received relief through the agency of these depots.

Yorkshire Girl Wants to Cross Ocean by Airship

Selby, Eng., April 25.—A Yorkshire girl has applied to the builders of the British airship, R-33, for position as a stewardess on that craft and added that she would be glad of an opportunity to cross the Atlantic by airship.

Will Watch Alleged Trading With Rum

Havana, Cuba, April 25.—The captain of the Port of Havana has notified firms which furnish supplies for fishing vessels that watch will be kept over such shipping and that visits of inspection will be made to see that they carry no more food and liquor supplies when leaving port than is necessary for their own use.

This measure is due to information received by the port official that several vessels have taken quantities of rum and other liquors aboard to be exchanged in American jurisdictional waters for other merchandise.

DISQUALIFIED
A man's reason for giving or refusing his vote are often subtle, as candidates are likely to discover. Take the authentic case, at a former election of a county squire who solicited the support of a notorious poacher whom he had once sent to prison. The man refused. "But that little poaching affair was years ago," urged the magistrate candidate; "let bygones be bygones."
"It isn't because you sent me to jail," replied the man, "but the reason for which you did it. You said it was a rabbit I shot, and it was a hare. The man who don't know the difference between a rabbit and a hare isn't fit to sit in Parliament."—London Chronicle.
