

GERMANY HAS COUNTER PLANS TO THE LEAGUE

Proposal Would Include All States Who Signed the Hague Treaty

By Associated Press
Copenhagen, April 25.—The German counter proposals to the League of Nations are outlined in a long dispatch from Berlin. The German draft proposed that the league shall embrace all belligerent states and all neutral states which were signatories to the Hague treaty; other states to be admitted by the consent of a majority of the members of the league but the Holy See to be admitted without this condition.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from their ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows: Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmin (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 3 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective. Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

SADLER GIVES DETOUR NOTICE

Urges Pennsylvania People to Be Patient Because of Extensive Road Building

People of Pennsylvania were today warned by Highway Commissioner Lewis S. Sadler that "there will be more detours this summer than there have ever been for the simple reason that there will be more road building."

"In the selection of detours the State Highway department will choose the shortest and best roads possible. Detour signs will be placed so that there will be no possibility of mistakes on the part of road users," says the Commissioner. "The department will make every effort to lessen inconvenience and asks of Pennsylvanians that they be patient during the period of construction." Heretofore contractors have arranged detour routes, but this year the State will take charge of it.

Rolling on Nimes—In an opinion given to Insurance Commissioner Thomas B. Donaldson today the Attorney General's Department says that the Commissioner has the right to pass upon the name of any proposed change of name of an insurance company adopted under an amendment, but at the same time the Secretary of the Commonwealth has the right to use his discretion as to whether the new name would conflict with the name of any existing company. It is suggested that in such cases the Secretary and the Commissioner can arrange procedure. Influenza Lingered—The fact that influenza lingered into December is shown by a statement of deaths in that month issued by the State Health Department today. In all there were 17,828 deaths, 6,178 being due to the epidemic, while 2,303 died from pneumonia. Tuberculosis caused 1,067 deaths and Bright's disease 847. There were 2,524 births in December, an unusually high number.

Increases Filed—The Public Service Commission has issued these certificates of notification attesting to increases of bonds or stock by utility companies: Scranton Electric Co., Scranton, bonds $650,000; Interborough Water Co., Tarentum, stock, $5,000; Triborough Water Co., Tarentum, common stock, $50,000; preferred stock $100,000; bonds $50,000; The Philadelphia Co., Pittsburgh, preferred stock $1,261,700; Pittsburgh, Youngstown and Ashtabula Railway, Pittsburgh, bonds $453,000.

Bridges Approved—The State Water Supply Commission has approved the following plans for bridges: Lycoming county commissioners for Hepburn, Lycoming, Wolf, Moreland, Mill Creek, Penn and Lewis townships; Chartiers Southern railway for a bridge in Cumberland township, Greene county.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR WHY IT INCREASES

Hair growth is stimulated and its frequent removal is necessary when merely removed from the surface of the skin. The only logical and practical way to remove hair is to attack it under the skin. DeMiracle, the original sanitary liquid, does this by absorption.

DEBT OWED TO SOLDIERS

By Jacob Lightner, Director of the State Employment Bureau, Which Is Placing Many Men

In seeking solutions of complex problems, we are prone to look at them from the angles which are most familiar. I may be pardoned, therefore, for thinking that the most important question to be considered in this country at the present time is the lack of continuous, well paid employment for the millions of our ex-servicemen who are reaching after a survey of world conditions as they come to us through the press and other current literature, and from personal observation. Believing this to be so, I feel that I can say that the cause of our soldiers' unemployment, the safety of its people, and the welfare of the Nation, are largely dependent upon the degree to which its citizens are permanently employed in industry and commerce.

Philadelphians Are Calling Names Again

The Philadelphia legislative controversy is back at the name calling stage again. Senator Vare and the registration commissioners yesterday answered Senator Penrose's remarks of Wednesday in a series of interviews in which most of the names they have heretofore called the Senator were repeated. The Philadelphia Bulletin says Senator Penrose is to see Governor Sprout at Chester Sunday and the Philadelphia Record says that Senator Vare is "eagerly" awaiting the return of the Governor.

5,000 Soldiers Pass Through Harrisburg

Five thousand soldiers on seven troop trains passed through the city last night enroute to Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, for demobilization. The veterans who had returned from overseas included officers and soldiers of the 332 Infantry, 144th Machine Gun Battalion and 361st Infantry. The men are from Ohio, Western Pennsylvania, and Middle Western states.

Two of the soldiers were removed from the train here and were taken to the Harrisburg hospital, Clyde Sexton, Detroit, was suffering from inflammation of the face; and Harold Jones, Mookato, Minn., from cramps. Red Cross members of this city served coffee, doughnuts, sandwiches and cigars to the troops. The soldiers greeted them with cheers when they came to the trains.

... of the length of time he was formerly in the employ of the corporation. Above all no work in which the Government is interested, wholly or in part, should make a difference in favor of civilians over soldiers, if the latter be equally qualified to fill the positions. I say this because there are well authenticated cases in which the civilian has received the preference from what were undoubtedly personal reasons. This perhaps is the exception rather than the rule, because we know of government work where soldiers have always been given the preference. In the matter of discriminating or not discriminating between men, it may be wise to have to let a rule that all men should be considered not their merit and qualifications stand, but if the scales lean to either side it should certainly be to the side of the man who has responded to the call of his country.

Telegraph Battalion in Review at Philadelphia; to Be Discharged Soon
This afternoon the first parade of a returned military organization will take place in Philadelphia, when the Four Hundred and sixth Telegraph Battalion, composed of former employees of The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, of which a number of Harrisburg boys are members, returns after nearly two years of active service with the American Expeditionary Forces on the western front.

The battalion arrived at Hoboken last Sunday on the cruiser Seattle, and immediately went to the New York Hotel where they were transferred to Camp Dix to await demobilization. Their former associates in telephone work have seized this opportunity to bring them to Philadelphia for the parade, a reception and dinner at the Scottish Rite Hall this afternoon, after which the battalion will return to Camp Dix to be discharged from service. Upon their arrival in Philadelphia they will parade to Grand street from South street to City Hall, thence on the Parkway to the Bell Telephone Building, at 41st and Arch streets, where they will be reviewed and will receive their final discharge. The standards and guidons which were carried before the battalion sailed two years ago, are in the hands of the Bell Telephone Company, will receive the same treatment.

Immediately permanent custody of the standards will be taken to Scottish Rite Hall by the reception committee and held for their members and their families, this being the first opportunity to see their loved ones since they were sent to France in 1917. At 5 o'clock dinner will be served in the banquet hall of the Scottish Rite Building, and it is expected that nearly 1,000 people will be present. Upon the conclusion of the festivities the battalion will return during the evening to Camp Dix for prompt demobilization.

We are anxious to convey to employers the idea that they should give the advantage of every possible opening. The matter of taking an extra employe or two, may seem of small importance to them, and a thing that can be done next week as well as this, but if each employer will take on at once as many men as he consistently can, the aggregate will be sufficient to make an impression on the ranks of the unemployed. This is a matter in which the old adage "That every little bit helps" is most applicable.

THIS WOMAN FOUND HEALTH
And Escaped an Operation by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Hazelhurst, Ga.—"I have used your remedies for only ten months, and they saved me from an operation. Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was so ill from a female trouble that I was forced to stay in bed for a week at a time with the most excruciating pain, and your medicine has done so much for me that I am recommending it to all suffering women. It certainly is a great medicine and is a sure road to health for women. You may publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. W. C. LITTLE, R. F. D. A, Hazelhurst, Ga.

Women who suffer from headaches, nervousness, backache, the blues and other symptoms of a functional derangement should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such ailments of women after other medicines have failed.

If you want special suggestions in regard to your condition, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medical Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of long experience is at your service, and your letter will be held in strict confidence.

DIGNITARIES ENTERTAINED
Baltimore, April 25.—Two hundred Methodist clergymen and laymen were hosts at a luncheon at the Emerson Hotel yesterday in honor of Bishop Theodore S. Henderson and Thomas Tiplady, British field chaplain, just returned from abroad. Bishop Henderson and Chaplain Tiplady came to Baltimore at the invitation of Methodist Centenary leaders.

DEAR FOLKS:

I SPENT so many happy days with the workers in the Wilson & Co. plant, Chicago, that I find myself thinking about them very often—even to the point of waking up at 3 o'clock in the morning, as I did just now, and recalled what a worker said to me one day after I had commented on the habit of the workers in smiling at their tasks. This is what he said:

"OH, THIS IS A SMILE ORGANIZATION."
I said to myself, I am going to get up and go to my den, where I have written most of these letters to you, and jot down a few thoughts about this remark of the smiling workmen, and these are the things I jotted down:

If 25,000 workers smile only once an hour eight hours a day, they smile 200,000 smiles in a working day. If each smile averages three inches (and I think this is the average distance between the corners of the mouth when it is engaged in smiling), they smile 600,000 inches of smiles in a day, or nearly 10 miles of smiles.

Then the thought occurred to me that you and I ought to feel mighty good to know that Wilson & Co. food products, which come to our table, are better products because they are prepared for us under the right kind of conditions.

Don't you think that we ought to feel the greatest confidence in the food we eat when we think of the fact that it comes to us accompanied by the smiles of the men and women who prepared it for us? Don't forget that a smile is a token of contentment and confidence, and faith, and integrity—four elements that you and I welcome in the production of the foods we eat.

Now let me tell you why it is that everything that is done by the workers in the Wilson & Co. organization is prompted by a desire to put their heart, their soul and their intelligence into their work.

The best illustration I can give you is to print here some excerpts from a recent talk (informal) made by Mr. Wilson to the foremen and workers in his Chicago plant on April 23 last:

LICKETY-SPLIT! Valves, pistons and bearings going lickety-split! Hot or cold—fast or slow—it's a hard job to keep them all smoothly lubricated. But it's a job that Atlantic Motor Oils do—and do well. The thin film of oil that is the true lubricating cushion, never breaks down. Atlantic adds new life—and smooth life—to every motor. Ask for Polarine or Atlantic Light, Medium or Heavy.

TO MEET HERE
A meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania Medical Association will be held at the Penn-Harris hotel next Wednesday.

DEAR FOLKS:

"By our own conduct will we be judged by the people working for us and by the people outside who buy our products."

"We must maintain the standard adopted by this Company, which places us in a conspicuous position. I want you all to feel that the Company is back of you and with you to the last man. I want you to boost in every way you can, and never let there be any question about the quality of the products we are handling."

"We must help one another. We must never be afraid to help the other fellow and give him a lift. You must always be careful to accord the men working under you just and fair and manly treatment."

"I know how much a kind word is worth. I remember when I started to work in the stock yards—I got twenty dollars a week at my first job. It was hard work in those words of praise when I deserved it. You men are all making more than twenty dollars a week, but you can remember when your pay was small, and you know as well as I do how much it has helped you to have those under whom you worked give you credit for good work, and encourage you to do better work, and that is how you can help many others to develop. Let us all praise the good words and the back to help us get by passing it along to those who deserve it today."

"Just now we are featuring our new 'Certified' products—ham and bacon, and I hope you will all do your full share to make these Certified brands the outstanding ones in our line."

"I want you all to feel that this mine, I want you as much as it is mine. I want you to feel that its success will give you as much satisfaction as it does me. If you all do your part we will all be benefited."

"Please remember that it is easy to waste in many ways. We must let our products go to the public as economical as possible, and at the same time give them quality."

"Let me conclude by suggesting to you that you treat the workers under you with the same consideration that you expect for yourselves. You can be of tremendous help to me and you can command my respect and the loyalty, and enthusiasm of the workers that are going along with you day after day. Make them feel the spirit of this business, which is equality to all and a square deal to all."

Now, dear folks, there is nothing "frilly" about this talk by Mr. Wilson to his associate workers, is there? Doesn't it give you a real man talking to other real men? Can't you see why every worker in the Wilson & Co. organization is led on to do his best because he has respect for his chief, and because he realizes that in this chief he sees a human being like himself, impelled to do the big things, by the same human impulses that guide all other human beings?

Don't you feel as I do that you can buy Wilson & Co. products with safety? Don't you feel that the slogan of the Company, "The Wilson Label Protects Your Table," has an unusual significance? Don't you believe that any products coming from the Wilson & Co. plant bearing the label "Certified," or the imprint of the slogan, or both, is a guarantee of quality?

Sincerely,
WILLIAM C. FREEMAN,
250 Fifth Avenue, New York City.
