By BRIGGS

USE

MY LINE

Published evenings except Sunday by THE TELEGRAPH PRINTING CO.
Telegraph Building, Federal Square

President and Editor-in-Chief R. OYSTER, Business Manager GUS. M. STEINMETZ, Managing Editor A. R. MICHENER, Circulation Manager Executive Board 7. P. McCULLOUGH, BOYD M. OGLESBY.

OYSTER GUS. M. STEINMETZ

Members of the Associated Press—The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

Newspaper Pub-lishers' Associa-tion, the Audit Bureau of Circu-lation and Penn-

Eastern office.
Story, Brooks &
Finley, Fifth Avenue Building,
New York City;
Western office.
Story, Brooks &
Finley, People's
G a S Building,
Chicago, Ill.

Entered at the Post Office in Harris burg, Pa., as second class matter.

[Continued on Page 19.]

If you have a task worth doing, Do it now! In delay there's danger brewing,

Do it now! Don't be a "by-and-byer"

COMMENCEMENT

C ENTRAL High School seniors

Grand Opera House never beheld a prettier sight than when the curain went up, revealing to the eyes of admiring friends in the full glare of the footlights, rank after rank of young men in black and young women in white, with the faculty grouped in the rear and dear old "Uncle Henry" Houck smilingly oction reception the evening following, which was one of the big social afsought. It will be a fine thing, in-those days. But don't understand that combig event in the career of any boy committee meets next year. girl, and an important mile-stone

SATURDAY EVENING.

GIVE THEM THEIR JOBS

S THE situation becomes better understood among employers of all classes, there is an acreasing disposition to provide places for the returning soldiers and those employed in the national service and war work suddenly thrown out of environments, by the editor of the returning soldiers and Democrats.

The Record also says that Mr. Palmer would not say whether he would be a candidate for national out of employment by the ending of the war. There are still many deserving cases, however, which appeal to those who understand the circumstances. We have in mind committee an according to the presidential nomination. It is several worthy young soldiers who the presidential nomination served with distinction overseas and who are now without employment. They find that the jobs which they hoped to get have already been thied or the positions tendered to them are not of the character to interest any ambitious soldier.

that they might have more, and it would do little good if anybody did ask it. Mr. Barnes is in closer touch with public sentiment in America than is Mr. Hoover.

| Ard Eric met a fisher lass A-walkin on the sands; the Salvation Army cannot spare the time from their enlarged duties. Instead, an annual "drive" for funds and wed him to the land.

want their commencement exercises held during the day, instead of in the evening, and they make out a pretty good case for themselves. They have other plans for the evening that have been manuform themselves. They have been manuform themselves are dependently at the very great good the Salvation Army has done and can yet do not the soldiers and sailors. Its workers dig for the root of discontent and unhappiness and apply the remedy there. Their success has a long the laughed and, kissed a woman's lips and found them fresh and warm—And went across the little hills and went across the little hills and want across the little hills. themselves. They have other plans for the evening that have been maturing for months and they do not want them disturbed.

There was a time, and not so many years ago, either, when commencement exercises were always held in the evening and the stage of the old.

The world of this simple tale is plain enough to see:
There is no oath to bind a man From woman's witchery—At least I know that it is so in Merri, by the sea.

Politics in Pennsylvania

By the Ex-Committeeman

Attorney General A. Mitchell Palcupying a center position as the ora-tor of the evening. In those days commencement was second only in importance to the Alumni Associasylvania has been received considerable gratification by the rairs of the spring season and to partisans of Judge Eugene C. Bon-niwhich invitations were eagerly niwell, late Democratic candidate for Governor and sincere enemy of deed, if the alumni association or- the Attorney General, because it inganized this week can bring back dicates to them that the reorganithe old interest that prevailed in zation machine is in worse shape than generally believed. The Bonniwell people have taken heart and mencement has lost any of its im-propose to do a little reorganizing portance. Bless you, no. It is a on their own account when the State

When Mr. Palmer was elevated mary next year when his successor will be elected at the polls by the stead, an annual drive for lunds will be instituted. Next month the American public will be asked to contribute $12,000,000.

See August a control of the control

It would be difficult to exagger-late the very great good the Salvate the very great good the Salvate for the sa in the life of parents who see their to the attorney generalship it was lads and lassies take their first steps generally believed that he would lads and lassies have toward separation from the home to those who are in the graduating class. It is the day toward which they have been progressing through years of school life, and the Telegraph is happy to note that the board has granted the request which will be the last they will make as a class.

Telegraph is happy to note that the board has granted the request which will be the last they will make as a class. national committee from Pennsylvania." The Bonniwell people interpret this to mean that Palmer is afraid to go to the mat in a contest for the seat this year and that he will hold on until the May primary next year that the may primary next year that the may primary next year.

WHY MEN ARE LEAVING HOME

JOE - IF IT'S THE COME ON JOE LISTEN TO ME JOE - YOU TAKE UP GOLF AND LIFE - I'M GOING TO PLAY GOLF-NO I DON'T DRAG YOU OUT TO A COME ON CARE FOR 1 TELL GOLF COURSE AND You'LL GO DIPPY GOOD BE A THE GAME MAKE YOU PLAY OVER IT YOU BILL GUY 1. DON'T TMAW TO PLAY

LISTEN DEAR - BETTER NOT WAIT DINNER ON ME - I'M IN THE MIDDLE OF A MATCH GAME AND I CAN'T RUN OUT ON THEM - I TOLD EM I QUE TOLD 'EM I QUENTA BE HOME - BUT I STAND- YEH-Y Bolshevism Weakens

Washington a Music Lover

Newspapers and the Loan

"On the eve of another Liberty Loan campaign I am glad to express the appreciation of the Treasury Department of the patriotic co-operation rendered by publishers in all the loan campaigns. The newspapers, the press associations and the magazines carried the message of the Government into every home. Their assistance was invaluable and without it the loans could not have been the great triumphs they were. "The work which remains to be done is fully as important as that which has already been done. Our fighting men have finished their task, but it is essential that the war bills be paid and that the honor of America be kept unsullied. I have no doubt that the publishers of America will give to the Victory Loan the same patriotic support that marked their effective assistance in the past."—Secretary of the Treasury Glass in Fourth Estate.

Feverish buying ceased-stability was put to the

For the month of March, 1919, the circulation of the

A remarkable tribute to its stability and influence. Daily Average, March—29,214 the peak month of the war. .

Harrisburg Telegraph WAS GREATER than for the month of October, 1918,-next to

Driving the other day through a large town in Pennsylvania my guide and friend pointing to a beautiful new home in the fashionable section observed:

"Built on junk."
The gulf that separated the junk dealer of yesterday from the millionaire of to-day looked deep and wide, but leaping such gulfs is the American habit ican habit.

Frank Roma, an Italian immigrant, now a solid citizen of the United States, is a member of the big business club. His fortune was built on nickel shoe shines. But Philadelphia gave him equal opportunity.

Ebening Chat

Signs of spring may have been retarded to a certain extent by the high winds and ice forming in the water pans, in chicken yards, and people wearing overcoats, which smell as though they had been hastily taken out of summer quarters, but they are here and the people may take heart. The organ grinders have arrived. We do not have Teutonic bands any more even when they play the Star Spangled Banner and specialize in National airs and even try to play "Abide With Me," in a manner calculated to disarm suspicion. The last German band to visit this city arrived just about two years. The capital of Pennsylvania was getting ready for war, and the band which alighted in our midst, wore those costumes we have associated with itinerant musical groups from the Rhine for years. They even had those little dicky bird caps that cartoonists have tied to the German for ever more. This band stayed a day. It essayed to play at Fourth and Market about the time the steel workers were coming home in special cars. But the organ grinder, barring any feelings over Fiume is a different proposition. the time the steel workers were coming home in special cars. But the organ grinder, barring any feelings over Fiume is a different proposition. He has been a part of Harrisburg life for a quarter of a century, and as essential to spring, as the violets from Hoffman's woods or Dr. Fager's hypatica. The first organ grinder arrived here Wednesday. He was a wise one. He went to the Capitol and played several airs. He reaped a collection from Legislators, and exhausted his repertoric and his arm. The answer was that he had an old hand organ and it was loaded arm. The answer was that he had an old hand organ and it was loaded with such old favorites as "Sweet Rosie O'Grady." "Two Little Girls in Blue" and "Tramp, tramp, tramp."
Another organ that was holding Another organ that was holding forth near the Reading station, was so strictly up-to-date that no one paid any attention to it, even when it splashed forth a medley of patriotic airs.

Speaking of organ-grinders, recalls the misfortune that befell a thrifty old grocer who used to have a store on North Seventh street. In an effort to escape the tribute of a penny or two to the begging monkey which entered the front door of his store, at the end of a long rope, the grocer slipped into a back room, hoping the monkey would take the hint and go out. But the monkey smelt food and he was hungry. The spicy odors of apple-butter reached him from a crock on a nearby shelf, and nimbly climbing to it he thrust an arm, shoulder deep, into the

-That Harrisburg has a big representation in the marines, who will be coming home soon?

HISTORIC HARRISBURG —Men from this section accom-panied Sullivan and Wayne on their expeditions against the Indians.

THE USUAL THING

spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of United States, is a member of the big business club. His fortune was built on nickel shoe shines. But Philadelphia gave him equal opportunity.

Of the 48,000 storckeepers in Philadelphia more than 47,500 began their careers at financial zero.—Girard in Philadelphia Press.

Tempson J. Daft in Kansas City Star.