Harrisburg Sportsmen Break Many Targets Despite High Wind

The Harrisburg Sportsmen's As- land and Sheaffer. The official scor sociation held their weekly contest on the grounds at Second and Divion the grounds at Second and Division streets, but the weather was all against making good scores. Targets dipped and dived, making it almost impossible to locate them at times. No doubt the cold weather had a great deal to do with the size of the crowd, which under the circumstances was very good, and as much as one could expect for such a bad day. Hickok's shooting was very fine, and he broke his targets in excellent time, as did Hawkins, Free-ing Arms Co. (Professional).

acters are nimble-witted crocks. Their regeneration through the Christian influence of an old-fashion-ed praying mother, provides the underlying theme. "Turn to the Right!" will be presented here with the original cust and production, exactly as it ran for a solid year in both New York and Chicago. The company comes direct from the Garrick Theater, Philadelphia.

"Spotlight Sadie." Mae Marsh's new Goldwyn picture, which comes to the Colonial Theater to-day a at Colonial and to-morrow, is a at Colonial mest delightful comedy drama. For the most part there are moments of emotional intensity when the play becomes almost a tragedy. On the other hand amusing incidents punctuate it from beginning to end. Some of the best are contributed by a Japanese valet, whose faithfulness to an ideal causes a ripple of laughter whenever he appears. Wednesday and Thursday, the screen's most popular-star, Constance Talmadge, will be seen in a delightful comedy drama, "Experimental Matriage."

Doughboys Miss Woman Who Sewed Buttons on Clothes

Paris, April 28.—There's a vacant corner in the glittering mirrored Palais de Glace. Day after day the doughboy guests at the Y. M. C. A.'s great pleasure palace seek it out, linger a moment, then turn away. It was "Mother's Corner" once. The old cord-bottomed chairs are still grouped around the little table. But the arm-chair in the corner is empty.

The windup to-morrow night will complete a ripping program of bouts, which feature a bunch of fighters, all more or less famous. Joe McCarron, of Allentown, with Young Weyman, of Girardville, promises a real battle. Weyman is the pride of the coal regions and showed quality in bouts with Johnny Mahoney, Willie Jackson, Johnny Cobb, McCarron and Frankie Clark. He is to box Frankie Brown, of New York on May 2.

Sandwiched in the roster is one corking bout twixt Rube Bennett and Soldier McGoorty, of Allentown. Rube has the admiration of all Motive Power fans for his and Soldier McGoorty, of Allentown. Rube has the admiration of all Motive Power fans for his clean hard boxing. He has the punch, too, as Sam Looker and Lew Schupp discovered. He is native born for fair, being the son of Jack Bennett, the old H. A. C. first baseman.

The Eddie Loechner-Eddie Graney go, second preliminary, calls out a word from the Motive Power management which is timely and just. They remind the public that "Loechner was one of the best lightweights around these parts before the war and fought many windups. At the start of the war he enlisted and served in France, where he was gassed while in action in the Argonne forest. He is training to get back into his former condition, but has to be very careful of himself as he is still a casual in the service. He should have been applauded when he substituted at Steelton in a ten-round bout to save the fans from disappointment. He comes from an excellent family."

But the arm-chair in the corner is empty.

"Mother" has gone back to America, because the climate did not agree with her health.

"Mother" was Mrs. Louise Gregg Daniels, of 440 South Waiola avenue, La Grange, Ill. Every day for five months—save when she was ill, for only illness could make her leave "her boys"—she sat there to welcome them. And they came, hundreds of American soldiers and sailors, to sit near her. "Mother" was never alone in her corner of the mirrors, at the end of the soda bar.
