Manager C. J. Householder Tells Fans | SNOODLES of West End's Splendid Prospects

The regular meeting of the West End Twilight League was held at the office of Alderman C. J. Housholder, Friday evening when a large and entusiastic representation of the four clubs were present. Some very important business was gone over and settled, the umpire question in particular, when Al. Baxter, a local man, was selected to officiate at all league games. The directors feel very fortunate in having secured his services for "Al" is known throughout the State as a competent umpire.

The treasurer of the league, "Bille" Wykoff, made a report and showed that the financial aid asked of the sport loving public was bringing results, while there are many who have not been heard from as yet. The League, as stated in a previous article, will be strictly amateur, and depends entirely on the sport lovers for its support. Some of the fans are under the wrong impression that they must contribute large sums of money. The directors want them to know that any contribution whether large or small, will help to make the League a success and be highly appreciated.

The schedules for the season were issued to the managers for distribution, they being in vest pocket form. Thomas Taylor, a prominent jewelpr of 10 South Second street, having jewelp with a later meeting.

on the Question of Non-Resident Players

A stormy session is promised when auphin-Perry League delegates meet Dauphin-Perry League delegates meet in the Shenk and Tittle store on Thursday evening to make final arrangements for the opening of the season on May 17. The number of non-resident players to be played at the same time in any one game promises to be the bone of bitter contention. Rules, as amended at the last meeting, provide for the playing of five non-resident players at the some time, but considerable opposition has been aroused against this rule. The Newport association at a meeting last has been aroused against this rule. The Newport association at a meeting last week went on record as being absolutely opposed to the rule and threatens to withdraw from the circuit unless an amendment is made which will permit the playing of no more than three non-resident players.

Both Mifflin and Marysville have like feelings concerning the five-player ruling, although neither of them have gone so far as to threaten to withdraw from the circuit, Both, however, are making the circuit. Both, however, are making plans to play no more than three non-resident players. At the league meeting when the rule was adopted, Mifflin and Marysville voted for a three-player limit while Newport was unrepresented, although sending a letter in which it was stated that she favored three players. Rules of the league did not permit the accepting of this as a vote.

Duncannon, Reedsville and Millersburg, the other three towns of the circuit, voted in favor of the five non-resident player limit. Millersburg, however, will play few non-resident players. Reedsville, with a number of small towns surrounding it, will be able to draw high class players from them at I small expense, and is highly in favor of the ruling.
