BOLSHEVISTS OF INDIANA COUNTY KEEPING QUIET

Presence of State Police Has Good Effect on Disorderly Element; No Fear Felt

Homer City, where it was reported preigners had organized a Bolshevist council or soviet, has been a very quiet Police.

Homer City is in Indiana County, not far from Blairsville and the foreign population has been extremely strong there. A number of flannel-mouthed orators have been among the men stirring them with revolutionary teachings and calling upon them for a demonstration of strength on May 1.

About 700 citizens of American birth learning what was in the wind also organized themselves and threatened to "shoot up" the Bolshevists if they attempted to parade, and as the Americans are armed the district attorney of that county called on the State Police. that county called on the State Police to quiet the trouble before it started. The State Police have been in the town for several weeks and in Farrell, another western Pennsylvania mining town where disorderly elements were at work. The foreigners have been telling the members of their organization to "wait until May 1." but those on the inside do not believe they will attempt a demonstration as the trouble lies principally with a few ring leaders and the rest are merely being led along.

Trouble is also expected in Chester on May day, where a Bolshevist element has appeared, but they are only a few among many and the American eliment for several weeks and in Farrell, an-

has appeared, but they are only a few among many and the American eliment of the population will be able to handle disorders that may arise, the authorities believe. Several soviets in Philadelphia have decided to march May 1, whether or not they get a police permit, but it is generally believed their efforts will amount to little, as they are all of foreign birth and most of them the victims of leaders who if removed or silenced will end the trouble. silenced will end the trouble
