New U. S. Wheat Director Who Believes Five-cent Loaf Will Not Come Back

That the five-cent loaf of bread not only will not come back this year but probably never will come back, is the opinion of Julius H. Barnes, newly appointed United States Wheat Director. He predicts a drop in the price of wheat within the next two months, since it is now above the figure guaranteed to the producers by the Government, but he explained that wheat would have to drop 25 per cent. In price to bring the cheaper loaf. Mr. Barnes will administer the $1,000,000,000,000 appropriated by Congress to take care of the 1919 crop under the guaranteed price.
