PLAN TO REVIVE THE POLICE BILL

Effort May Be Made in the House to Reconsider Reorganizer

Revival of the Powell bill reorganizing the State Police Department and adding one troop may be undertaken in the House to-night by State Administration forces.

This will be a most important week for the Legislature and it may see a date for final adjournment agreed upon if not actually fixed by the two Houses.

Among hearings scheduled for the week will be on the mine cave and English advertisement bills in Senate committees and on the House side on the bills to tax capital investment in manufacturing which is now exempt.

Chairman of House Committee expect to begin "house cleaning" as the time for presenting new bills expires on Wednesday.

Plans for the House this week call for sessions to begin Monday night and for two to be held on Tuesday and Wednesday with possibly one to advance bills on Thursday morning.

The bulk of the bills on the Senate calendar are on third reading. Among them are the bills requiring lights on all vehicles at night, establishing military training, the Philadelphia election bills, creating the State township highway bureau, reorganizing the Department of Public Grounds and Buildings and establishing children's homes in each county.

In the House an attempt will be made to reconsider the defeat of the Powell bill reorganizing the State Police Department and to have the House act again on the bill to repeal the non-partisan clause of the third class city code.
