

BOND INTEREST DUE NEXT WEEK

Total of Seventy-Eight Million Dollars Will Be Paid on Second Loan Issue

Philadelphia, May 8.—On Thursday, May 15, America will have another great payday, when $78,000,000 interest will be paid on the Second Liberty Loan bonds bearing 4 per cent. and on the 4 1/2 per cent. bonds into which some of the Second Loan bonds were converted, according to a statement received at W. S. S. headquarters today.

If every bondholder clips his interest coupons promptly and re-invests them in War Savings Stamps at any post office or W. S. S. agency, the interest will grow fifteen millions of dollars by January 1, 1924. The statement received today from the Savings Division of the Treasury Department by E. McLean Watters, Director of the W. S. S. in the Third Federal Reserve District, reads: "May 15th is the day the Government pays $78,000,000 interest on the 4 per cent. and 4 1/2 per cent.

bonds converted of the Second Liberty Loan. Liberty Bond holders are offered an opportunity to place their interest immediately at work for the Government at a lucrative interest rate. Liberty Bond interest coupons, as such, do not earn interest, but, invested in War Savings Stamps, they earn 4 per cent. compounded quarterly, are safely invested and will always be available for any emergency in ten days' time. "Two $100 bond coupons of the Second Loan, which pay six months' interest at the rate of 4 per cent. and sixteen cents additional, will purchase one War Savings Stamp. Two $100 bond interest coupons of the Second Loan converted, which call for $212 each, will pay for one War Savings Stamp and leave six cents extra, which can be used to start on a new Thrift Stamp. "Thriftless money is of no benefit to the individual. It should be placed where it can earn more money in a safe way, and there is no safer way than investing in War Savings Stamps."

FIREMAN AN INCENDIARY Corry, Pa., May 8.—By a confession made yesterday by Claude Kelly, a member of the fire department, he is said to admit being the mysterious firebug who has baffled a score of detectives for a year. Kelly is alleged to have confessed setting fourteen fires, aggregating a loss of many thousand dollars. He denies starting the city hall fire, where a life was lost.

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

BROOKS SEEKS MORE REVENUE

Would Tax Artificial Gas Companies—Many Bills in House Closing Period

Two new revenue raising bills, based upon recommendations of the Joint Legislative Revenue Commission of several years ago, were introduced into the House by Mr. Brooks, York. They provide a tax of five mills on the capital stock of artificial gas companies and eight mills tax on the gross receipts of artificial gas, water and water power companies, which are now held to be exempt under the manufacturing capital exemption decisions. It is believed that they will raise many thousands of dollars which the York member desires to see used for increase of teachers' salaries.

The commission was composed of the late Senators J. P. McNichol and W. H. Keyser, Governor William C. Sprout, Secretary of Internal Affairs James F. Woodward, Ex-Speaker George E. Alter and Congressman M. W. Shreve. It recommended that gas companies should be taxed as indicated in the bills presented, holding that they were "a natural subject of taxation."

These bills appeared among the final list of House bills, the time for presentation of new legislation in the lower branch ending last night.

Among the bills passed by the House were those reorganizing the Department of Internal Affairs and also providing that county commissioners, tax collectors and assessors shall furnish to the secretary statistics relative to assessment of taxes. This is in addition to the requirement for statistics of production, etc., covered by other bills approved or pending. The bulk of the bills relative to the Department have been passed and the reorganization will take place in a month or so.

Important Legislation Two important bills in the final hour included: A scale of salaries for borough councilmen to date from January 1 in a bill introduced by Mr. Ruddy, Lackawanna. The list is: Boroughs having less than 1,000 population, $50 per year; 1,000 to 5,000 population, $100; 5,000 to 10,000, $250, and over 10,000, $500. The other was a resolution to create a commission of eleven to investigate rates paid to hospitals, etc., in the various States for treatment of persons unable to pay, presented by Mr. Wallace, Philadelphia. The commission is given $15,000 to make the investigation and is to report to the next Legislature suggestions for changes in the Pennsylvania system.

The new Bureau of Markets bill of the Department of Agriculture was presented by Chairman Hollingsworth, one of the committee on re-enacting many provisions of the present act and providing for a system of licenses, new classifications and appeals from them. Plans for extensive reports are also outlined. The bill is designed to be a companion to the Jordan co-operative association bill presented a few days ago.

A bill making a new codification of the laws of the State relative to contagious diseases and broadening the powers of the State Commissioner of Health was presented by Chairman Gans, of the Health and sanitation committee. The bill, which was drawn by Colonel Edward Martin, State Commissioner of Health, not only extends powers during epidemics, with particular attention to conditions such as arose in the course of the influenza outbreak, but gives control of venereal diseases.

Mr. Zanders, Carbon, presented a bill to provide comfort arrangements at all railroad crossing watch houses. The railroads are to pay for them.

A bill declaring wilful and unlawful mining and removal of coal to be larceny was introduced by Mr. Jones, Lackawanna, who also presented a bill for registration as law students of honorably discharged soldiers who may apply.

Mr. Golder, Philadelphia, introduced a bill fixing license fees for brokers and others engaged in the insurance business. Other bills presented were: Mr. Miller, Luzerne—Extending charters of manufacturing corporations incorporated for 25 years to 50 years.

Mr. Baldi, Philadelphia—Appropriating $50,000 to the trustees of the Third Regiment armory, Philadelphia, for debt, repairs, etc.

Mr. Comer, Fulton—Regulating rights of way through unenclosed woodlands.

Mr. Vickerman, Allegheny—Empowering counties to make contracts with municipalities for maintenance of free bridges.

Mr. Horne, Cambria—Abolishing requirements for publication of mercantile appraisers' list.

Mr. Sinclair, Fayette—A new county officers' fee bill; placing clerks of quarter session in charge of issuance of hunters' licenses and dog and kennel licenses.

Mr. Wallace, Lackawanna—Including chief sanitary officers, sanitary police, food inspectors and superintendent of garage in third-class city civil service.

Mr. Ramsey, Delaware—Fixing $5,000 as a salary of county commissioners in counties having between 150,000 and 250,000 population.

Mr. Crum, Huntingdon—Placing the red squirrel on the unprotected list.

SPANGLER AFTER BIG POWER DAM

Wants Either Fish or Suit Started By State and House Supports Him

After a speech by Speaker Spangler, in which he declared the owners of the McCall's Ferry dam in the more recent their dam on the Susquehanna than in Capitol Park, the House late yesterday passed the Spangler bill providing that the Attorney General enter suit if fish cannot pass the dam. The speaker gave the history of the dam and declared that had fishing above the dam had been destroyed and that other fish could not pass the structure.

The "search and seizure" clause added to the Fox prohibition enforcement bill while under consideration in the House on Tuesday, was stricken out by the House law and order committee during redrafting of the bill at a session held during the legislative recess. Other amendments presented by Mr. Alexander, Delaware, to the bill, were also eliminated. The bill now goes back to the Senate, where it will take its place with the Vickerman bill. They may be made special orders later on, the Vickerman bill having been postponed when reached on the calendar today to allow the Fox bill to be acted upon in committee.

The "near beer" bill, which would legalize beverages with half of one per cent of alcohol, was referred to the committee with instructions to report next Tuesday.

The Hough and Sowers Sunday baseball bills and the Sowers bill to allow business places to keep open part of Sunday, were negatively reported.

The bill regulating the manufacture of ethyl alcohol for medicinal, scientific and other lawful purposes under State license, was laid over. The bill for discharge of defendants where indictments are not found in six months was also laid over.

The House passed the Golder bill providing for annual registration by dentists.

Bills passed finally included: Establishing Bureau of Topographical and Geological Survey in Internal Affairs Department.

Creating an orphans' court for Washington county.

Eric county district attorney bills. Authorizing boroughs to make debts for monuments to soldiers. Regulating fees of notaries.

Establishing procedure for pay of deputy constables. Regulating cancellation of certificates issued to firms doing business under assumed names.

Authorizing first-class school districts to levy taxes for recreation grounds.

Giving building and loan associations right to enter the Federal home loan bank system.

Allowing Federal or State bonds to be deposited as bail.

The House passed finally the Davis bill to pay jurors $3 and witness $2, which had been recalled from the Governor.

After clearing the greater part of the third reading calendar, the House postponed the Philadelphia District Attorney, Daix cold storage and Miller cemetery bills and adjourned at 5 p. m.

$5,000 Reward for Terrorist Crooks

Resolutions directing that $5,000 be placed at the disposal of the Auditor General and State Treasurer for "payment of rewards for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons guilty of sending through the mails deadly instruments and devices and letters threatening the lives of prominent citizens and the destruction of property" were presented in the House at the opening of the evening session by John Davis, Indiana. The measure went to the appropriations committee. The resolutions recite that several attempts have been made upon lives of prominent citizens by sending devices through the mails and that "numerous threatening letters have been mailed within the last few days to prominent citizens threatening the lives of these citizens and the destruction of property."

COMPENSATION BILLS IN HAND

Attorney General Drafts a Bill Which it is Hoped to Make Basis for Changes

Four bills making radical changes in the State workmen's compensation laws were presented to the Senate just before it adjourned for the week by Senator Frank A. Smith, Dauphin. One of them is a measure drafted by Attorney General William I. Schaffer after consultation with employers and employees and various persons interested, which has been offered as a basis for an agreement. The joint committee, named three weeks ago to consider suggested amendments, failed to reach any agreement. Mr. Schaffer said that the bill was given to Mr. Smith to present so that something would be at hand upon which to work.

The bill provides for an increase in the rate of compensation from fifty to sixty per cent of wages; cuts the waiting period from fourteen days to ten; provides for payments to dependents under certain regulations; wipes out distinction between major and minor operations; makes the period of free medical attendance thirty days instead of fourteen, and establishes a limit of $100 in addition to hospital charges, and makes a number of other changes.

A second bill reorganizes the Bureau of Compensation, but does not make it a separate department.

The third bill provides the proposed system of rehabilitation which has been outlined by Chairman Harry A. Mackey.

The fourth bill establishes a two per cent tax on self insurers, the tax to be based upon the premium that would have been charged against the pay roll in case insurance policies were taken out.

Steel Trade Not Excited by Today's Meeting in New York on Prices

New York, May 8.—The steel trade is taking only a mild interest in the meeting of Railroad Administration representatives with the steel makers' committee in New York today. That a $2 concession on rails would meet the industry free from deadweight, but such a reduction has been once refused by the rail mills, with an accompanying exhibit of costs, and today, with output still falling, overhead, as the producers may show on Thursday, has brought costs up higher.

If this week's meeting can only bring the cutting of the knot and save the industry free from deadweight Government paltering, there are signs that betterment will be seen. Whatever its results in the way of railroad buying, the interview is not expected to influence greatly, if at all, the general price level.

The fact that the steel market is so sharply at variance with mercantile conditions throughout the country, coupled with the steady depletion of ultimate stocks in all forms, is bringing out reminders of other periods in which contraction was overdue.

Liquor Dealers Appeal to Wilson to Suspend Dry Law

Atlantic City, May 8.—A protest to President Wilson against the enforcement of the July 1 dry executive order was adopted yesterday by the National Liquor Dealers' Association, in session here.

The association requests the President to suspend the order which "would add 2,000,000 men to the army of the unemployed in the nation." It is set forth that there are $5,000 liquor dealers "who would be subjected to an unexcusable injustice, a sacrilegious and tyrannical crucifixion of their business rights, and besides the government would lose the taxes on 50,000,000 gallons of stock on hand."

MOTHER'S DAY ADDRESS Hummelstown, Pa., May 8.—A delightful program is being arranged by the members of the Methodist Episcopal Church in commemoration of Mother's Day next Sunday. Special music will be rendered by the choir, besides a number of recitations. The morning address will be delivered at 10.30 o'clock by Frank G. Black, of Dickinson College.
