Make Bill So Drastic They Hope It Will Be Unpopular and Inoperative

Despite the efforts that have been made to banish it from continued serious consideration in the Legislature, the liquor question now presents itself as one of the most present and important matters of next week because of "the search and seizure" amendment made to the Fox Enforcement Bill by the liquor interests.

DOCTORS HAND OUT LIVE TIPS

Take Public Into Confidence

Prominent physicians claim people fall in life because of "nervous hunger" that is the active principle of the nervous man or woman who is "there" at work or play.

Strong, well nourished nerves is the great secret of success, health and happiness.

Men and women try to live regardless of health, strength, ambition, energy and hope, they exceed the speed limits, waste nerve strength and energy and fail to store up reserve force, afterwards they only exist, life has no joys.

Without energy, ambition, strong nerves, and pure blood one cannot hope to enjoy the fullest measure of success and happiness.

A noted specialist says, "Phosphated Iron brings strength to the blood, nerves and brain, it is a perfect combination of vital elements of great tonic qualities when taken by 'Nerve-sick humans' that it will increase body and nerve energy, restore ambition and sustain powers."

He also says: "If you are the victim of overwork, worry, excess of mental and physical forces, have the blues, and the pleasures of life are no longer enjoyable, that you need Phosphated Iron to brace, build you up and put you on your feet again."

Special Notice—To insure physicians and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we put up in capsules to do not allow dealers to substitute any pills or tablets.

"IT DID WONDERS," IS THIS LADY'S REPORT

Mrs. Susan Hankele, 14 W. Rockland street, Philadelphia, is enthusiastic over the splendid results she obtained in the case of Tanlac. "For many years I suffered from stomach trouble, indigestion and nervousness," she says. "I got so I couldn't sleep at night, I tried all kinds of medicine without relief, until one day I heard about a lady who had the same trouble and was relieved by Tanlac. I thought I would try Tanlac as a last resort. It proved to be the very thing I wanted. Thank goodness, Tanlac has done wonders for me and I gladly recommend it."

The genuine J. I. Gore Co. Tanlac is sold here by George's "Gargas," Kramer's, Kennedy's and Steever's, and other leading druggists in every community.

Court-Martial Ordered and Offenders Are Adjudged to Be Shot; Soldiers Break Into Prison at Munich and Execute Score of Persons Detained, Dispatch Reveals

By Associated Press. Copenhagen, May 8.—A Munich dispatch received here states that following the arrest of some thirty citizens here for holding a prohibited meeting, a party of Bavarian soldiers broke into the prison last night and killed twenty-one of the persons under detention.

It is said that the soldiers believed the prisoners were Spartacists. A court martial has been ordered and a command has been issued that the soldiers found guilty of causing the death of the persons held in jail be shot.

search and seizure idea. They refrained from placing those features in the Fox bill when it was drafted and see that the attitude of the wets is merely to becloud the issue and drag the subject out. It is likely that the amendment will be eliminated from the bill in the Senate.

The question came up in the Law and Order Committee yesterday when Mr. Vickerman by a 13 to 9 vote, had the amendment declared eliminated from the bill. William T. Ramsey took the stand that the committee could not eliminate an amendment inserted by the House of Representatives. It is a fine parliamentary point and will be heard from later.

The committee negated the Hough Sunday baseball bill; the bill to allow certain establishments open a part of Sunday and the bill for amateur sports on Sunday. Later in the day two concert bills, permitting that kind of entertainment on Sunday. Later in the day two concert bills, permitting that kind of entertainment on Sunday were introduced by the House.

formation regarding the extent was lacking. "It remains to be seen how far we are called upon to assume the financial and economic responsibilities and how far we are permitted in the United States will tolerate such assumption," said he. "Except in the fact that the menace of German militarism is removed, the American people do not seem to be getting any substantial results out of the treaty in the way of indemnities, reparations or other compensation," continued the Senator, who said that the article in the League of Nations covenant which stands out "most prominently as a source of trouble," is article ten guaranteeing the present boundaries and integrity of nations. "That the geography of the world should be fixed on an inflexible and unalterable basis is open to grave question as being opposed to the progress and development of civilization," continued the Senator. "Moreover such a proposition destroys all hope for oppressed peoples or dissatisfied peoples, such as those in Korea and Ireland, whose grievances, real or alleged, do not secure any consideration or relief from the Peace Conference and whose case does not seem to be technically before the conference.

"Such an international doctrine at the time of the American Revolution would have prevented the independence of the United States without which event having happened, perhaps, the present Peace Conference would never have occurred.

Harmony in Senate The Senator said that the Republican majority would not be recommended. "The Republicans have two majorities in the Senate and the expectation is that the majority will act harmoniously and in spirit of patriotism, realizing the importance in the present crisis of united action. "As far as I am personally concerned," said the Senator, "I favor any arrangements that will diminish the chances of war. At the same time I do not believe we have any power to reach the stage of human development when wars may not occur at any time. Recent events in Paris when Belgium, Italy and Japan were in the verge of remaining permanently out of the conference, illustrate this danger. The United States must have adequate preparedness both military and naval. I shall not vote for any treaty or League of Nations which impose unreasonable or undesirable obligations on the United States or which infringe on the Monroe Doctrine or even makes it dependent on a treaty or acquiescence of other nations.

"I cannot approve of any stipulation infringing our right to regulate immigration. Above all I cannot approve of any stipulation or covenant which affects in any way the absolute independence of the United States. Ours is a federal government and the Presidents and Congress have no power under these circumstances to barter away our sovereignty entrusted to them for any consideration or to any group of nations."

Lee Company Relinquishes Option on Upper End Mines

The George F. Lee Coal Company, of Wilkes-Barre, has relinquished its option on the lands of the Susquehanna Collieries Company in the Lykens Valley, and the Susquehanna Company announces that there are no buyers for the properties at the figure offered, $1,500,000.

The company announces that it will extend the time in which prospective purchasers may accept the offer, but not unreasonably for the reason that if no buyer comes forward it must resume its improvements, whereby it hopes to make the mines profitable, it being the contention of the company that the mines as operated are a losing proposition. CHORAL UNION TO SING Haydn's "Creation" will be sung by a chorus of a hundred voices of the Harrisburg Christian Endeavor Choral Union, in the Technical High school auditorium this evening. The oratorio will be the annual presentation by the choral union. Soloists will be Mrs. Roy G. Cox, M. D. Holtenbaugh and Elmer H. Ley. Admission is by ticket which may be secured without charge. A offering will be taken.

NATION SOON TO FACE A SERIOUS LABOR SHORTAGE

Kiwanis Club Hears Federal Expert Tell of Prosperity to Come

"America is going to face the greatest labor shortage she has ever known. Great things are ahead. We need to prepare at once by building, regardless of the cost!" Leslie Willis Sprague of the Division of Information, United States Department of Labor and Industry, made this assertion in an address before the Kiwanis Club of Harrisburg in their noon-day luncheon at the Penn-Harris Hotel.

He urged better housing conditions and called upon the businessmen of this State to get behind the great reconstruction program that America is opening. At the opening of his address Mr. Sprague paid tribute to Governor Sprout and his cabinet who he declared had "set an example to the rest of the nation by opening their immense road building program."

He urged that public school buildings, offices and private structures be begun at once, despite the present high cost. Common labor of the wheelbarrow class, he said, is plentiful now but there will be a shortage in the very near future. "We are faced with this inevitable shortage, and our industries will be sorely taxed by the demands from home and abroad. Prosperity is ahead."

In the absence of the president, L. F. Neefe, who is in Birmingham, Alabama, attending the national convention, Al K. Thomas, vice-president, presided and offered the opening prayer. Ernest B. Eppley won the attendance prize, a "surprise," donated by Charles L. Schmidt.

Germany Silent on Pact; Hun Courier Is on Way to Berlin With the Text

By Associated Press. Paris, May 8.—Germany has not yet submitted any communication with regard to the peace treaty. All the exchanges between the delegation at Versailles and the home government are being kept secret.

A copy of the treaty is well on its way to Berlin. A German courier left at 9 o'clock last night bearing it with Count Von Brockdorff-Rantau's first report on the negotiations.

Intimations reaching the Peace Conference from Versailles lead to the belief that two or three members of the German peace delegation will probably return to Germany to consult their government, the others remaining at Versailles.

THE FINAL PLANS

Final plans for the new State office building to be erected in Capitol Park will be laid before the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings next week by Arnold W. Brunner, the architect commissioned for the work. The bill authorizing construction is now in the hands of a legislative committee and will be reported out soon.

"Get's-It" Peels My Corns Off!

Any Corn or Callous Comes Off Peacefully, Painlessly, Never Falls.

It's almost a picnic to get rid of a corn or callous the "Get's-It" way. You spend only 2 or 3 seconds putting on 2 or 3 drops of "Get's-It," about as simple as putting on your hat. "Get's-It" does away forever with "contraptions," "wrappy" plasters, greasy ointments that rub off, bloodstaining knives, and scissors that snip into the "quick." "Get's-It" eases pain. Your "jumpy" corn shrinks, dries, loosens from the toe. You peel the corn painlessly from your toe in one complete piece. That's where the picnic comes in—you peel it off as you would a banana peel. Nothing else but "Get's-It" get peaceful, common-sense "Get's-It."

Funeral Services Are Held For Miss Bigler

Many prominent people were present at the funeral services for Mrs. Annie Haldeman Bigler, daughter of the former United States Minister to Norway and Sweden, held at her late home, 215 South Front street, this afternoon.

The Rev. George Edward Hawes, pastor of the Market Square Presbyterian Church, officiated. Burial was made in the Harrisburg cemetery.

Mrs. Bigler was long a resident of Harrisburg and had a host of friends here. She was educated in Paris and spent a year with her parents in Stockholm before they returned to America. She was a teacher in the Market Square Presbyterian Sunday school and was prominent in civic and religious work for many years.

TO REDUCE DANGEROUS VARICOSE VEINS

People who have swollen veins or bunches should not wait until they reach the bursting point, which means much suffering and loss of time, but should at once secure from any reliable druggist a two-ounce original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength).

By using this powerful, yet harmless germicide treatment improvement is noticed in a few days and by its regular use swollen veins will return to their normal size and sufferers will cease to worry. Moore's Emerald Oil treatment is used by physicians and in hospitals and is guaranteed to accomplish results or money returned.

It reduces all kinds of enlarged glands, goiters and wens and is used exclusively in many large factories as an unfailing first aid to the injured antiseptic. Your druggist can supply you.

NO MORE EVENING SHOPPING. RETAIL STORES CLOSE Week Days, 5:30 P. M. SATURDAYS, 6:00 P. M. THE RETAIL STORES of this city in their efforts to lessen the labor of their many employes will hereafter close at 6 P. M. Saturdays of each week. This is done voluntarily on the part of the different employers who firmly believe that it will receive the the unqualified support of the shopping public, and that those persons who heretofore have planned their shopping for Saturday evenings' will hereafter confine their purchases to mornings and afternoons throughout the week. You are asked to assist in this movement that means so much to the several thousand employes of York's foremost stores, many of whom, no doubt, are personal friends of yours, and all of them will be given only what so many others are now enjoying--an evening of rest and recreation after a long day's work. This you can easily do by simply confining your shopping to the daytime. Shop Where You Will, But Shop Early Retail Merchants Bureau, York Chamber of Commerce

York Typographical Union has endorsed the movement of the retail merchants to close the stores on Saturday at 6 P. M. The argument is advanced that any movement tending to reduce the hours of labor for any employes, whether organized or not should have the support of any organized body.—York Dispatch.

Beginning to-day the Saturday night closing of stores goes into effect in this city, and will continue all the year, and not merely for the summer season, as many persons have supposed. The closing agreement, it is stated, has been entered into by 98 per cent. of the dealers in non-perishable goods, department stores, retail dealers in dry goods, shoes, millinery, etc.

Marching to the cadence of martial music furnished by two bands, more than 600 clerks, employed in the local stores, paraded last evening through the principal streets of the city, to publicly show their appreciation of the concession made to them by their employers in entering into the movement.

Several thousand interested spectators lined the curb along the route of march and viewed the parade. The fact that most of the marchers were women attracted the interest of the onlookers.

That the clerks are greatly pleased with the prospect of having the stores closed Saturday nights was indicated by the expressions of pleasure heard on every hand. One young woman was heard to say, "Just think of it. We'll be able to walk up and down George street on Saturday evening just like regular human beings." Numerous other expressions of a similar character were heard from the liberated clerks.—The York Dispatch.

That the shoppers of the city are inclined to co-operate heartily with local merchants in the Saturday night closing movement inaugurated last Saturday evening was the opinion expressed by several of the leading merchants of the city this morning.

The shopper, as well as the merchant and his employes, will benefit by the change according to a statement made by the head of one of the leading department stores of the city. The more equal distribution of trade which is bound to result from the Saturday closing movement, he said, will be productive of better service and better buying. Since a satisfied customer is always a returning customer, this will eventually result in increased business for the local merchants, he averred.

"Heretofore," this merchant said, "shoppers waited until late Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening to do their shopping. This plan resulted in a big rush which could not be adequately handled even with augmented forces of employes. Impairment of the efficiency of the sales forces and general dissatisfaction to the customer were the results of this condition."—York Dispatch.
