

Class of Mutes Is Confirmed by Bishop

An interesting confirmation service was held in the Chapel of the Holy Spirit in the See House of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Harrisburg, last night, when Bishop James H. Darlington confirmed several deaf mutes. Mrs. Blanche W. Ladd, Edgar W. Shaffer and Maynard Robbins were presented by the Rev. Franklin C. Smelgers, missionary of the Harrisburg Diocese. Twenty-five deaf mutes were in attendance.

Plans are now under advisement for the building of a chapel and rectory for deaf mutes in the city. Bishop Darlington expressed his approval of these plans in his address. Light refreshments were served by Mrs. Darlington followed the service.

Would Trade Wife For a Ford, He Tells Judge

Chicago, May 9.—"I want to exchange my wife. I heard you could exchange your wife here on Thursday, and I want to swap mine for a Ford."

Mrs. Julia McGuire, of the complaint department of the court of domestic relations, could not make out if someone was trying to "put one over" or apparently in possession of all his senses.

Mrs. McGuire took the man, who said he was Stanley Szevzyk, to Judge Fry. "Well, if I can't exchange her I don't have to live with her," Stanley told Judge Fry. "I only had her two weeks."

"What's the matter with her?" asked the judge.

"She's a Bolshevik," he declared, shamelessly.

A sweet-faced, trim little woman entered the room at this point.

"I'm his wife, judge," she said. "I don't know what it is he's calling me, but I don't belong to anything but the Red Cross. I thought Bolsheviks were only bad men."

"You take that little wife home," thundered Judge Fry, "and live with her and treat her right." Adding as an afterthought: "Forget that trading proposition—it can't be done."
