

RENCH POLICE
FIND BONES OF
VICTIMS BURNED

earth Gruesome Evidences of Landru's Crimes in Villa at Gambass

By Associated Press.
Paris, May 9.—Calcined human bones are said to have been discovered by the police in the villa at Gambass owned by Henri Landru, who under arrest on suspicion of having murdered several women who have disappeared in the recent past.

According to the police, Landru used a furnace heated by some method as yet unknown to burn the trunks of his victims and destroyed their limbs in the fire places of his villa.
One of the most important discoveries made in the investigation of this mysterious case has been a mass of stones piled against a wall of the villa. These stones evidently belong to a furnace and clinging to them, it is said, were found bits of melted glass in which were pieces of bones which physicians have declared to be human. These bones are alleged to include three fragments of human skulls.
The floors of the villa are now being cleared and it is reported they show stains which are presumed to have been caused by blood. Suspicious stains, it is said, have been found on pieces of furniture in the house.

CHORAL UNION
PLEASES MANY
WITH CONCERT

Splendid Chorus Adds to the Effect of Well-Rendered Solos

Much interest was manifested by hundreds of music lovers at the Technical High School last evening, when Haydn oratorio "Creation" was rendered by one hundred talented singers, of the Harrisburg C. E. Choral Union, accompanied by a high-class orchestra. Prof. Frank A. Mc-Carroll directed the great chorus, and the various parts that accompanied it, with much satisfaction, and the applause were numerous.
At the opening of the program Frank S. Montgomery, president Harrisburg Christian Endeavor Union, spoke highly of the work accomplished by the Choral Union, which was followed with a prayer by the Rev. P. R. Koontz, pastor of Calvary United Brethren Church, Lemoyne.
The soloists, Mrs. Roy G. Cox, soprano; M. D. Hollenbaugh, tenor and Elmer H. Ley, bass, were at their best, and sang sweetly, and emphasized the various parts of the creation of the world.
The following orchestra did excellent work which harmonized with effect in rendition of the great creator: Piano, Mrs. Henry H. Lentz; violins, Claude R. Engle, C. W. Hardt, Harry Biles, Albert Benner, John H.
Wagner, Miss Dorothy Lenhart, Dr. J.
Moore Campbell, cello, Edward Heiges; French horn, Walter Manley; bass, J. J. Smith; flute, Samuel Tucci; cornets, C. A. Bender, H. T. Staley; trombone, Charles A. Stouffer.
The Union has given concerts and recitals as follows:
1910—The Prodigal Son, Berridge; 1911—The Shepherd King, Hall; 1912, Penitence, Pardon and Peace, Maunder; 1913—Bethany, Rhys-Herbert;

HINES WOULD MERGE R. R.'S INTO
LARGE SYSTEMS

Howard Elliott Also Makes Address to Economic Club of New York

New York, May 9.—Compulsory consolidation of all the railroads of the country, weak and strong, into 12 to 20 large competitive systems, privately owned, but operated under Government regulation was urged here to-night by Walker D. Hines, director general of railroads, as a solution of the railroad problem.
Speaking before the Economic Club, Mr. Hines declared that unless some excuse "as radical as the one proposed" were adopted, post war regulation would prove even more disappointing than the thoroughly unsatisfactory pre-war regulation.
Howard Elliott, president and chairman of the executive committee of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, also addressed the club, outlining features which the Association of Railway Executives hopes to see incorporated in the railroad bill.
Asserting that the labor question was "one of the most serious and difficult of the whole world," he urged that some method should be adopted giving "fair and reasonable Federal supervision and regulation of wages and working conditions."
Labor, he declared, now consumes more than 50 per cent. of the revenues of the railroads.
The executives, he said, would be willing to accept the plan Mr. Hines proposed for a fixed percentage of income, provided the railroads were permitted to name the percentage and the capitalization on which it would be computed.

ART COMMISSION
BILL BECOMES LAW

Governor Sproul Signs Measure For Supervision of State Memorials

A State art commission is created for the purpose of passing upon the designs and locations of all public monuments, memorial buildings and the like under terms of the Crow Senate bill, whose approval by the Governor was announced today. The bill was one of the State administration measures and provides for appointment of a commission of five citizens to serve without compensation and to act as an art supervisory body for memorials and monuments, whether erected by the State or any county, city, borough or township, except the cities of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Scranton, or donated by gift or constructed by subscription. The commission is to be a part of the Department of Public Grounds and Buildings.
Under terms of the bill not only monuments, courthouses, city halls and the like, but "no monument, memorial building or other structure belonging to any person or corporation shall be erected upon or extend over any public highway, stream, lake, square, park or other public place within any subdivision of this State except the design for and the location thereof shall have been approved by the commission."
Local Improvements There seems to be little doubt that the proposed city-county office building and various structures planned for the streets fronting the new Capitol park.

Other Bills Signed
The Governor has also approved the Heffernan bill providing that stock of building and loan association shall not be subject to stock transfer tax; Powell bill providing that all "judges of election, inspectors and clerks appointed by inspectors" of election shall come under the $5-a-day election pay bill; providing a $10 fee payable by counties for use of rooms used by third class city registrars on registration days; appropriating $30,000 for deficiency at Bloomsburg State Hospital and amending the Blakely poor district act, authorizing Lackawanna county court to name two auditors at $5 a day and fixing $1,000 at the salary of the directors.
