

MRS. WILSON IS INTERESTED IN YANKS' WELFARE

Visits Red Cross Tent City On Champs de Mars— Greets Soldiers

Paris, May 13.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is showing much interest in the welfare and comfort of American soldiers on leave in Paris. Recently she visited the American Red Cross tent city on the Champ de Mars where accommodations have been established for 1,600 of them.

The wife of the President made a thorough tour of the Red Cross camp, making inquiries of the Red Cross women concerning the preparation of the food and the methods of serving. When a cation loaded with fresh, warm apple pies arrived from a Red Cross kitchen Mrs. Wilson sampled the pastry.

Given Bouquet
During her tour a bouquet of flowers tied with the French national colors was presented to Mrs. Wilson. A French soldier with an armless sleeve, but a happy smile, made the presentation speech. Mrs. Wilson carried the flowers in her arms during the remainder of her visit. She showed an enthusiastic interest in everything, giving special praise and commendation to the recreation huts, where dances are held, the reading and writing rooms, and the arrangement of the fifty large canvas dormitories.

Shakes Hands Many Times
She was received by Major Francis Boyer, manager of the North-eastern Zone of the Red Cross, Miss Ethel Burnett, directrice of the tent city, and Miss Lila McClellan, of Texas.

Noticing the number of men gathered to salute her as she left, Mrs. Wilson expressed the wish to greet them personally. An informal reception was held in front of the camp, the soldiers forming in line and shaking hands with the President's wife as they filed past.

Courboin Plays Widor's Sixth Symphony on World's Largest Organ to 10,000

Charles M. Courboin, formerly organist of the Antwerp Cathedral and who is to give a recital in Bethlehem Lutheran Church next Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Harrisburg Organists' Association, recently played the Sixth Widor Symphony for the first time in America with orchestra at an epoch-making concert given in the Wanamaker store in Philadelphia. The Philadelphia Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Leopold Stokowski, played with infinite finesse and beauty. The effect of the first movement of the symphony can only be described as oceanic in its grandeur. The Wanamaker organ is the largest organ in the world. It was originally made for the St. Louis Exposition, but has been rebuilt and increased in size very greatly. The Musical Assembly was given in a situation only and drew 10,000 music lovers, including many distinguished guests from other cities. Giovanni Martinelli, the tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, was also a guest of honor.

Blackhand Fight Over Pool Division Saved Girl's Life

Chester, Pa., May 13.—Detectives last night unearthed a wholesale plot for the slaying of each member of the family of State Detective James Mell. A pool representing $1,500 was to be the price for killing Mildred Mell, a daughter, aged 17 years. It was the division of the spoils which saved the girl's life after a horrible outrage had been committed on her in a woods near Marcus Hook Sunday, May 5. These facts were unmasked after the arrest of eleven Italians here yesterday by a cordon of officers under Detective O'Toole.

The most damaging evidence against the band of Italians arrested, according to one of the detectives, is the finding of a photograph of Angelina Mell. This photograph was taken from Mildred Mell, it is asserted, at the time of her assault. The man who "squealed" on the clique is said to live in Marcus Hook. When he was placed under a third degree examination, it is asserted, he broke down and named the people implicated in the crime. It was asserted last night that the men who attacked Mildred Mell in Welsh street were not negroes, as first supposed, but two Italians with burnt cork faces.

Pullman Car Bomb Was Only Parachute Rocket

New York, May 13.—After the 7 A. M. Montreal express had unloaded at the Grand Central Terminal yesterday, James Walker, a porter, found a long, round package in one of the sleeping car berths and turned it over to Constable Robert Klein, who took it to the lost property clerk's office.

It remained there several hours until some one "discovered" that there was a bomb in the package. Then it was cautiously moved to the room of Edward J. Miles, the New York Central's chief detective. After he had inspected it, the police of the East Fifty-first street station were notified.

Fear Fatal to Driver After Motor Car Skids

Shamokin, Pa., May 13.—His automobile skidding from the road at Elysburg, near here, James S. Caldwell, of Trenton, fire investigator for the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, became so unnerved and excited that he fell dead by the side of the car after it had been jacked back upon the highway. Death was due to acute dilation of the heart, caused by excitement and overexertion, the coroner found.
