

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

ANOTHER SMITH BILL IS PASSED

Measure to Change Third-Class City Garbage Collection Law

The Smith Senate bill to authorize third-class cities to collect and dispose of ashes, garbage and waste matter was passed in the House by 147 to 0 last night. Mr. Willson, Allegheny, asked about the measure and Mr. Walker, Philadelphia, said it gave third-class cities the option to collect ashes, etc., which in his opinion they should have.

The House also passed the Senate bill adding four deputies at $2,500 each to the State Bureau of Standards.

The Senate resolution providing for a Constitutional Revision Commission of twenty-five to be appointed by the Governor and to report to the next session, was favorably reported to the House by the appropriation committee. It carries an appropriation of $50,000.

This action means that bills for conventions to draft a new constitution are dead.

The House passed the Bieler bill increasing salary of the deputy superintendent of public instruction from $3,000 to $4,000, but laid over the Sterling bill providing for increasing salaries of clerks, stenographers, attendance officers and nurses employed by school districts.

By a vote of 146 to 5 the House passed the Fowler bill rendering unenforceable insurance contracts of insurance or indemnity for death or injury of minors illegally employed.

The House cleared the third reading calendar and adjourned at 10 p. m. until 9 a. m. Monday night. Among the bills passed were:

Requiring standard provisions in policies of insurance against damage or loss through operation of any vehicle.

Regulating admission to medical practice of men in army or navy.

Providing for free recording of discharges of soldiers, sailors and marines by county recorders.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE BEST THING FOR THIN PEOPLE

Women Need It to Bring Pink Glow of Health to Pale Cheeks and Feet. Men Need It to Make Strong, Vigorous Bodies and Steady Nerves.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphorus than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

Phosphated Iron enriches your blood and nerves, putting them in shape for work. Improves your color, increases your appetite and gives you strength, vigor and power to enjoy both work and pleasure, makes you feel like doing things once more.

Phosphated Iron is prescribed by leading doctors for all who are worn out, run down, nervous, weak and thin-blooded people in all walks of life, they have learned to depend on it for honest results.

COL. RICKARDS SPEAKS IN HOUSE

Commander of the 112th Regiment Addresses Legislators; Praises Stewart

Colonel George C. Rickards, of Oil City, who commanded the One Hundred and Twelfth Regiment in France, was recorded a reception in the House of Representatives last night and made an address from the rostrum, in which he praised the men of the Eight and Sixteenth Regiments of the National Guard, which were consolidated into the One Hundred and Twelfth, and said that the legislative support should be given his men in civil life.

The Colonel was given a hearty welcome by Speaker Spangler and said in part: "It is unnecessary for me to go back over the history of the events enacted by the Twenty-Eighth, your Pennsylvania Division, in the war with Germany. It is all too fresh in your mind. I want to press on you, however, that had it not been for the recognition on the part of this House and the executive officers of this State, and the guiding hand of that glorious man, General Thomas J. Stewart, that the Nation would have lost one of the strongest elements in its make-up for warfare. I bring to you and your good people of Pennsylvania, nothing but the highest words of commendation and appreciation from the men of my command."

"It was my honor to command the troops which were originally organized in the northwestern part of Pennsylvania, afterwards amalgamated with those of the central part, the Eighth Regiment, whose headquarters was in this city. At the time went on the regiment was represented by men of every State of the Union, and here is an opportunity I want to take; I want to impress on your minds, as forcibly as it is in my power to do, that these young men who have been abroad, and not only them, but those who have been waiting on the fields in the South and in the training camps, wherever they have been, only waiting for the word to carry them across, ready to serve their country in any capacity. I want to commend them to your earnest consideration, remembering that they have done a valorous duty, that they are worthy of every consideration it is possible for you to extend to them; that many of them, in fact, all of them are young men. They have learned the lessons of discipline; they have learned the lessons of war; they have learned, in a measure, to govern themselves, and in this respect have fitted themselves better for the social life, for the citizenship, than they were before. So that I ask you, wherever these men may come before you asking for your counsel, for your aid, whatever it may be, that you give them a listening ear and extend the hand of help wherever you can. I thank you for this privilege."

Senators Want Orchestra to Play

The concert given in the hall of the House last night by the State Capitol orchestra was so well rendered and made such a big hit among legislators and their families, that the last number had barely been given before a request for a concert in the Senate was made.

The orchestra, which is composed entirely of men connected with the State government, was directed by Howard C. Fry and his work was highly praised by everyone. The playing was spirited and the more difficult pieces were rendered in a manner that aroused the commendation of music lovers among the legislators and newspapermen, some of whom have had wide experience. John S. Rilling, the honorary president, and Director Fry were congratulated.

HESS BILLS GO TO COMMITTEE

Judiciary Local Will Consider Appellate Court Removal Measures Next Week

The Hess bills providing for establishment of the Supreme and Superior courts of Pennsylvania at the State Capital, as is the case in New York, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and other States, were last night referred to the House Judiciary committee by Speaker Spangler. The committee will meet next week and consider the bills, which have been given very general approval throughout the State and are in line with the program of Governor William C. Sproul for concentration of the State government in Harrisburg. Sentiment among the members of the House is very general in the events enacted by the Twenty-Eighth, your Pennsylvania Division, in the war with Germany. It is all too fresh in your mind. I want to press on you, however, that had it not been for the recognition on the part of this House and the executive officers of this State, and the guiding hand of that glorious man, General Thomas J. Golder Bill Sent to the Graveyard

The Golder bill requiring all mutual fire insurance companies to limit policies to assets was dropped from the calendar at request of its sponsor, who read a statement from Insurance Commissioner Donaldson that representatives of 200 companies had agreed at conferences to reach a plan to meet the desires of his department. The agreement was read to the House with this statement:

"As result of conference held throughout the State and are in line with the program of Governor William C. Sproul for concentration of the State and the Insurance Department, at request of the mutual companies, House Bill Number 1554, is withdrawn. Representatives of the mutual companies have expressed their full interest in the Insurance Department's efforts to place the mutuals of this State on a high plane and have agreed to appoint representatives with full power to act for purposes of providing under direction of the insurance commissioner, a standard form of mutual fire insurance policy, to subject themselves to control by the department, and to standardize, under direction of the department, their methods of underwriting and accounting on practicable lines. The mutuals are well aware that many abuses have been prevalent and are most desirous of keeping the mutual fire above criticism and complaint."

The "Noes" Have it in the Biennial Ball Game

The "Noes" won the biennial baseball game of the Legislature yesterday. At least they were announced as having it. The "Ayes" made an effort, but did not reach the score was 7 to 2 in favor of Captain Pike's team, Captain McCullum's teamers losing because they could neither hit, run bases, bulldoze the umpire and other essential things.

The battery for the winners was Quigley and McIntyre and for the losers, Brady and Willson.

From all accounts there were many features.

Representatives Wallace, Sarig, Stark and others appeared in a patrol wagon disguised as policemen and arrested the pitchers at intervals. Then they arrested Representative Ramsey, umpire on the bases, disregarding a tin star as large as the end of a tomato can which he said gave him authority. He was informed that while he could boss the House as chairman of the rules committee, he could not dominate the diamond. Representative Heffernan, the umpire behind the bat, found the police squad of use in protection.

Over $150 for Harrisburg charities was raised.
