Warning Sent Out by Berlin Police Against Riots

Most of the German protests against the Peace Treaty terms received by the Allies are said to impress the Allied chiefs as ganda. It is pointed 'out that the German notes bear evidence of having been written before the German delegation had seen the treaty, the text of the document not being quoted. No further notes were presented by the enemy representatives on

A peremptory answer to the German note registering objections to the treaty arrangements for the left bank of the Rhine and the Sarre Valley has been drafted by the special commission on territorial affairs, presided over by Andre Tardieu, it was reported this morning.

One of the delegates is quoted as saying there is nothing else to do but affix the signature of the German President and attach the seal to the document.

Premier Absent

Owing to the absence of Premier Lloyd George from Paris, the Peace Conference Council of Four did not meet to-day. Finns Drive on Petrograd
A Finnish army, under the leadership of General Mannerheim, the Premier, is reported by Copenhagen to be advancing on Petrograd. A Helifingfors dispatch received Thursday stated that the people of Petrograd had been advised by the Soviet government to leave the city without delay, announcement being made that all the government departments will be removed from the interior capital by July 1.

Further south, the forces of the all-Russian government at Omsk have captured the important sity of Samara, in the Volga valley; while General Denikine has captured Rostov on Don, at the head of the Sea of Azov.

Nothing to Do But Sign

Versailles, May 16 .- A distinct impression among some of the subordinate members of the German Peace Mission that the Germans will sign the Peace Treaty, is reflected in the remark of one of the secretaries, who is quoted as saying: "What else can we do but sign? Mrs. S. F. Dunkle and Mrs. Charles P. Prince Tell of Experience at Military Hospital

How the protecting and helping arms of the Red Cross not only reach out to the wounded boys, protecting them after they have gone through the hell of shot and shrappel across the seas, but also comforts them when they come to the hospitals in the United States, is told in a colorful story narrated by Mrs. S. F. Dunkle, captain of the Motor Service Corps of the Harrisburg Manufacturing and Boiler Company, in a summary of activities made to Mrs. Lyman D. Gilbert, president of the Red Cross Chapter.

Mrs. Dunkle's report deals mainly with her experiences when, in company with Mrs. Charles P. Prince, a member of the Motor Service Corps, she went to Cape May recently to help in cheering and brightening the wounded soldiers in the hospital there.

Get the doughnut dip. Learn how the soldier in the front trenches seized and masticated a doughnut. This delectable eats will be plenty on next Wednesday. You will show your loyalty and love for the humble folks who dared Hun shells and air-ships to serve American soldiers right in the front trenches, by buying and eating doughnuts.

The Kiwanis and Rotary Club jazz artists, under captainship of Al. K. Thomas and Eli N. Hershey, will compete on opposite street corners at Market Square, a fat prize being in store for the winner. Doughnuts will be carried to corner grocery stores in all sections by forty of the "prettiest girls in Harrisburg." This is real stuff; they have been selected with greatest shrewdness.

A huge athletic show is planned for Saturday, the last day of the drive at Chestnut Street Auditorium, where fast and exciting wrestling and boxing will be staged by famous athletes, who volunteer their services, for it must be known that rugged sports helped to make American soldiers.

The executive committee of the approaching Salvation Home Service campaign which swings wide open on Monday next, have arranged an uncommon program which is sure to appeal to Harrisburg, if for no other reason than because all her returned heroes sanction it. A soldier campaign, this will be, with Captain E. J. Stackpole, Jr., at the head and Captain Henry M. Stine looking after things just at the moment, as Captain Stackpole received an imperative order to return to the military hospital for a few days.

Businessmen of the city are fervently urged by these soldier canvassers to give response when Boy Scouts on Saturday morning start distributing the big posters. They are of good size, but William H. German, who is the dynamo of this activity, asks that houses make a sacrifice. The Harrisburg Gas Company is setting the pace by flashing (Continued on Page 4)

Colonel Edward Martin, in command of the regiment at the time, says: "During the first heavy engagement in which the regiment took part at Courmont, July 28, 29 and 30, Captain Stackpole distinguished himself by his conspicuous bravery and his thorough grasp of the tactical situation. I had so much confidence in his ability that I assigned him the duty of organizing the west half of the ground captured by our regiment to resist the counter-attack, which duty he performed with marked success."

Further Colonel Martin says the Harrisburg officer led his company under heavy machine gun and artillery, fire on the Vesle river and while painfully wounded refused to leave the field until his mission was accomplished "after several hours of the hardest and most dangerous fighting."
