Last Night's Score—St. Mary's, 1; Galahad, 0.

To-night—Reading vs. Rosewood. Umpire—Dick Nebinger.

For the sixth time in the eight contests played to date, an Allison Hill baseball contest was won by the narrowest of margins, a single run.

St. Mary's nosed out Galahad in a pitcher's battle, 1 to 0. It was a pitching duel between "Lefty" Hummel and Zerbe, recently discharged from the Navy. He is a former Tech and East End athlete.

For six innings, neither team could gain an advantage. In the latter part of this inning, Hohn doubled, went to third on a fielder's choice, and came home with the victory when Captain Sam Books cracked one on the nose for a drive over second base.

Another large crowd was on hand to see the battle that was either team's until the last man was retired. Hits were as scarce as hen's teeth. St. Mary's had five while Galahad smashed but three. But one mis-play was made during the entire fray.

Books cracked the bat while Rabbit Zerbe was the star fielder. The entire Galahad nine played swift ball, and a little more punch at the bat would have landed the contest. It was the third game that Galahad lost by a lone tally.

Wednesday night will be "Doughnut Night," officers of the league have announced. Salvation Army lassies will be on hand to serve the crowd. So come early, before blowing up the international bridge of the Canadian Pacific railway between Vanceboro, Me., and McAdam, N. B., early in 1917, is to be tried here for the crime.

Sheriff Hawthorne, of York county, has gone to the United States boundary to receive the prisoner from American officers.

contribute, and those who support the movement will be given a button that will entitle them to a reserved seat in the best part of the grandstand. To those who support the movement a seat is promised for the remainder of the season. It has been estimated that if 100 fans will contribute ten cents a game for a reserved seat, enough money will be in sight to erect a commodious bleacher that will accommodate the entire crowd and give all a chance to see the games.

To-night Reading and Rosewood will play. No other teams in the league are keener rivals than these two aggregations.

SNOODLES

Stricker Pitches Swell Ball; West End Beating Commonwealth

Ed. Stricker, one of the greatest near-great baseball pitchers in the country, hypnotized a couple thousand fans at the West End Twilight League grounds last evening, and also put the jinx on Commonwealth, who did well to score three runs to West End's six. This Stricker phenom used to work in old Chambersburg; he had a tryout with Connie Mack and in 1917 he pitched Newport to a pennant in the Dauphin-Perry. He comes within an ace of being a nationally famous twirler.

He squeezed Commonwealth down to four hits last evening, his splitter being in fine control. Commonwealth put up a battle all the way, leading in the score up to the fourth. In the fifth West End tallied a brace on successive hits. The victory was decided in the seventh with two more runs, and the huge crowd had the best run of the season.

The hitting of Fields, Evans, Levan, McKeever and Wrightstone featured the game, the latter having a four-base clout to his credit.

ROLLER-DRAAK TONIGHT

Dr. B. F. Roller, famous wrestling doctor, will meet Tommy Draak, Belgian Netherlands mat champion, to-night in a grapple to the finish at catch-as-catch-can style of wrestling in the Chestnut Street Auditorium.

Draak arrived in Harrisburg yesterday in the pink of condition and Roller is due here early this afternoon from New York. Both men will weigh in singside within a few pounds of the other and the youth and strength of Draak will counter-balance the experience and cleverness of Roller. So the match will be as even a one as could be desired. The two famous grapplers have not met in a ring since the New York State tournament in 1916 when they wrestled to a two-hour draw.

"Strangler" Lewis Defeats Zbyszko and Will Now Meet Earl Caddock

Chicago, May 20.—Ed ("Strangler") Lewis defeated Wladek Zbyszko last night in a wrestling match and thereby won the right to meet Sergeant Earl Caddock for the championship when he returns from service in the Army overseas.

The giant Pole won the first fall after one hour, thirty-six minutes and fifty-two seconds with a reverse body hold and flying throw. Lewis won the second fall in forty-eight minutes and thirty-five seconds with a headlock. Lewis won the third fall also with a headlock in twelve minutes and fifty-six seconds.

Misses Four Targets Out of Even Hundred

Reading, Pa., May 20.—Edward H. Adams, amateur target champion of Berks and Lehigh counties, defeated Harry S. Coldren, former Berks target and live bird title holder, in a 100-target match at the traps of the Spring Valley Shooting Association.

Adams cracked 96 of his quota of 100 targets, while Coldren recorded 88 breaks. The match was for $50 a side. Adams showed great form. He missed his eighth target and then made a run of twenty-two, missing the thirty-first. Then he cracked twenty-eight in a row, missing his sixtieth. A run of twenty-four followed broken, when he slipped up on the eighty-fourth target. He rounded out of his quota with a run of fifteen. The shoot was witnessed by a large gallery.

Six other events were shot off between the four legs of the main shoot. Lebo finished first with a total of 93 out of 100 breaks. Brubaker was second with 80, and Ball, third, with 87. Lebo issued a challenge to the winner of the Adams-Coldren match.

Good Roads and Good Gasoline

"They shall not pass" was a noble resolve against an unscrupulous oppressor; but it is an expensive slogan for the nation's highways.

Acting on this belief, the Pennsylvania legislature recently passed a measure authorizing the expenditure of fifty million dollars for road-building and improvement.

Good roads and Atlantic Gasoline—there's a combination that spells maximum efficiency in truck and passenger-car operation.

For there's terrific energy in every drop of Atlantic Gasoline. Tremendous power—more power than you need for the hills and more than you will care to use on the straightaways.

Use Atlantic Gasoline in your trucks and passenger-cars. Take figures off your gasoline-bill and put them on your speedometer where they show to better advantage.
