Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce Membership Luncheon

12 O'clock, Wednesday, May 21, 1919 PENN-HARRISHOTEL-75 CENTS

SPEAKER: Dr. George Drayton Strayer New York City

President of the National Educational Association SUBJECT: "EMERGENCY IN EDUCATION"

Everyone in Harrisburg should be familiar with school affairs. Everyone is interested, directly or indirectly, in the administration of the public school system, either through the taxes he pays, or through his children in the schools. Dr. Strayer is a foremost authority on education, and is thoroughly familiar with every phase of the subject. His address will be one of vital interest to all Harrisburgers, and every member of the Chamber of Commerce should be present.

One of the most important questions in America today, is that of the conduct of the public schools. One of the most vital institutions in the life of any nation, is the public school. The subject concerns every citizen, and is of vast importance, especially at this time when, due to conditions brought about by the war, the old order of things is changing, and leaders of every movement are shaping their policies on broader lines.

Dr. George Drayton Strayer, president of the National Educational Association, can, as well as any other man in America, discuss the requirements, the opportunities, and the responsibilities, of the school of the future. Dr. Strayer is a speaker of recognized ability and is thoroughly conversant with all questions pertaining to education.

As supervisor of training camp educational work in France, he secured an accurate knowledge of the changed conditions which the war has brought about, and the larger field of endeavor into which school can extend their activities. Moreover, thoroughly familiar with school conditions all over the country, as he is, he is taking an active part in the campaign to create a Department of Education in the Federal Government, and elevate the head of the department to a position in the cabinet, along with the heads of the other departments of the National Government. He believes that inasmuch as the school systems constitute one of the most vital factors of the national life, they should occupy a position equal to those of other governmental departments.

While Dr. Strayer is professor of Educational Administration at Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York, his address is not academic, but is intensely interesting.

Important Notice: Reservations must be made on or before 9.00 A. M. of the day of the luncheon. Under no circumstances can reservations be made after this hour. This rule positively will be enforced. Reservations will not be held after 12.15 P. M. but will be sold to those without reservations.
