He Could Hardly Breathe When His Bad Spells Came

"Sometimes after eating, my indigestion and biliousness would get so bad that I could hardly breathe and I would have to sit down until the spell passed off." This is how William Storie, of 749 Adams avenue, Scranton, felt just a short time ago, and the remarkable statement that he gave yesterday will bring encouragement to hundreds of workers here. "For years I have been a sufferer from indigestion and stomach trouble," this Scranton man explained. "I have had chronic constipation, too, for years and it seems as if I have taken barrels of physic." "Sometimes these attacks got so bad that I would get actually scared and would call in a doctor, but I could only get a little temporary relief and I felt as if my system was so poisoned and clogged up that I simply must find some medicine that would give me a chance to build up my strength and digestion again. "I read about Natonex in the Scranton papers and saw that it contained the roots, herbs and barks that I have known for years. I knew what these Nature remedies would do and so I got a box of Natonex. "Now I am just starting my sec-

Urge Congress to Retain War-Time Prohibition Act in Force

St. Louis, May 21.—President Wilson was arraigned yesterday by commissioners to the 131st General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., for requesting Congress to repeal or amend the war time prohibition act and a resolution was adopted urging Congress to sustain the law. President Wilson is an elder in the church. A copy of the resolution will be cabled to the President. It follows: "This assembly leans with pain that the President of the United States has recommended to Congress that it repeal a part of war time prohibition, and in view of this fact we most earnestly petition Congress that it not only retain the measure but that the measure be enforced to the fullest extent to the end that the needs of the world for food may be met, and that the efficiency and morale of our own people be preserved."

Secretary Daniels declared in a letter sent to-day to Secretary Baker, describing impressions of his visit to the battle fronts.

NAVAL HEAD PRAISES ARMY

Washington, May 21.—No one who remains at home in America can visualize the "magnitude of the achievement, the sublimeness of the courage and the lasting effect of the victory to which the American Army contributed," Secretary Daniels declared in a letter sent to-day to Secretary Baker, describing impressions of his visit to the battle fronts.

Women Are Careless

This has been proved over and over again during the war. They overestimate their physical strength and overtax it. Their ambition is commendable, but does not compensate for the hours and days of misery which they suffer from symptoms caused by female ailments brought on by overwork. Women who are weak, nervous, despondent, with headaches, backache and dragging-down pains should remember there is one tried and true remedy, that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, now recognized everywhere as the standard remedy for such ailments.

This Leaves the Skin Free From Hairy Growths

(Toilet Talks) A simple method for completely removing every trace of hair or fuzz is here given. This is painless and usually a single treatment will banish even stubborn growths. To remove hairs, make a thick paste with some powdered delatone and water, spread on hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method will not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be certain you get delatone.

Catarrhal Deafness May Be Overcome

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of our double strength, and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dripping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone having hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

British Girls Abandon Small Handkerchiefs

HIS SINE QUA NON

"Force of habit is a wonderful thing," said a Lewistown girl. "Now, my father smokes a pipe. Smokes a great deal, and when he is going away or anything, his pipe is his first consideration. Some time ago there was a fire in the neighborhood in the middle of the night. "Father was out of bed with the first stroke of the alarm and rushed downstairs. Mother and I were a little longer getting there. When we got downstairs we found father with a raincoat on over his nightdress, leaning a far out of the back door as he could, gazing wild-eyed at the blaze down the street. "When he heard us enter he brought read in long enough to exclaim: 'Great gosh, Alice, the Joneses' house is all afire and I can't find my pipe.'" —Kennebec Journal.

BAPTISTS MEET IN CONVENTION AT DENVER, COL.

Churches of North Discuss Finances and Reconstruction

Denver, May 21.—Two thousand delegates represent 10,000 Baptist churches in every state north of the Mason and Dixon line in the Northern Baptist Convention which began here to-day. New methods of financing the Baptist church and plans for increasing the church's activities in war-stricken countries of Europe are two of the important questions to be decided. The financial proposals overshadow all else before the convention. One of them contemplates the formation of a budget by committee to decide how much money is needed and divide the total among all the churches after the convention approves. Its plan was worked out by the national committee of Northern Baptist laymen appointed at the last convention.

The second financial proposal comes from the International Church Federation of New York and proposes that thirty denominations unite in a financing plan similar to that of the United War Work Campaign conducted by various relief organizations for the benefit of the soldiers in the war. Under this plan the money needed for all church denominations included in it would be raised in one lump sum and apportioned the denominations according to the membership of each. Extensive foreign mission plans are under consideration. These contemplate work for Baptist missionary and relief work by Baptists in every country on the globe, including a big reconstruction project to aid churches in Europe. There is a divergence of opinion over the financing proposals.

Two More Boys of the 28th Division Re-enlist in Army

Corporal Clarence F. Mohr, Company M, One Hundred and Ninety Infantry, of 206 South Front street, Lancaster, and Private William Dronberger, Battery E, One Hundred and Seventh Field Artillery, of 327 Chestnut street, re-enlisted to-day at the local recruiting station, 325 Market street. Corporal Mohr was captured by the Huns at the second Battle of Marne, and was confined in the German prison camp for more than five months. He relates the treatment accorded him during his incarceration by the Huns was frightful. Their food consisted of a thin soup, which, according to Mohr, was dishwater. But for the kindness of some of the American prisoners who had starved, he went on, and though his relatives in Lancaster, Pa., had written regularly, he only received one letter, the other having been lost. He had no contact with the outside world, and he requested an assignment with the infantry in the Philippines, which was readily granted by the commandant. Private Dronberger was in the trenches of the Vesle River and Chalade Woods. He has been from shell shock for several weeks and has entirely recovered. He has also been assigned to the infantry.

When questioned as to the re-enlistments of men lately returned from overseas, Colonel J. B. Kemper, in charge of the Harrisburg Recruiting District, said: "Let me quote for you from the report of the Army and Navy following: 'The Colonel read the following: 'A new campaign for recruiting the Regular Army of the United States is bearing good fruit. Many young men of fine type are flocking to the military service, including many who desire the advantages of instruction in various trades now offered by the Government, are applying for enlistment and re-enlistment. The general public in the past has too often held the erroneous idea that the man who joined the Regular Army did so because he had nothing else, and that he was a useless member of society. Nothing was ever further from the truth than this supposition, which has been an injustice to the service which has developed some of the greatest men in the history of the nation, and many of the best citizens in ordinary life. "A good soldier is a good citizen, and a man who has joined the Army and serves honorably and then returns to his civilian life as a citizen, is a man who has made a contribution to the nation. In the Army he gains physical fitness, hardening, discipline and regular habits. He has found a way for success in civil life should he conclude to leave the Army after serving his enlistment period. The high standards established for enlistment and the various attractions offered appeal to the soldierly men, and create the opportunities for vocational and educational training. A man in the Army has the incentive to live a clean, wholesome and useful life, and should leave the service with a self-respect and manhood that can never be shaken. "In addition to the educational opportunities afforded in the Army, there are undeniable opportunities offered by travel and sojourn in such countries as China, the Philippines, Hawaii, France and Germany, including Panama, the Canal Zone, Alaska, and our own great West."
