BANKING CODE BECOMES A LAW

Commissioner Fisher Will Be Named to Head Reorganized Department

The first State banking code enacted for Pennsylvania, was approved by Governor William C. Sproul last night, and appointment of Banking Commissioner John S. Fisher, to head the reorganized department is expected to be announced within a few days.

The commission was composed of George D. Edwards, Pittsburgh; Representative James A. Walker, Philadelphia; Grover C. Ladner, Philadelphia; Ex-Lieutenant-Governor John M. Reynolds, Bedford, and Mayor A. T. Conney, Harrisburg.

HOUSE FAILS TO KEEP A QUORUM

Plans For Extension of Sessions Fall Because Legislators Leave

Barely a quorum of the House of Representatives was present at the start of the afternoon session yesterday at 4 o'clock, and after a brief sitting to receive reports of committees and an adjournment until Monday night.

Among the bills reported from committee yesterday was that of the Auditor General's departmental bills, including those for the Auditor General to appoint the mercantile appraisers in Philadelphia and Allegheny counties and clarifying the collection laws for mercantile and other taxes so as to increase efficiency of revenue raising.

During the afternoon a hearing was held by the House health and sanitation committee on the anti-vice bill, which was then definitely postponed. Colonel Edward Martin, State Commissioner of Health; Dr. A. S. Van Syle, of the State Medical Society; and Dr. M. A. Lewis, of the Navy, opposed the bill, which was urged by ex-Judge William K. Stevens, of Reading; P. P. Rafferty and A. L. Logan, of Philadelphia.

COMMUTATION FOR THREE MEN

Board of Pardons Disposes of An Unusual Number of Homicide Cases

Only three applicants for the clemency of the State Board of Pardons in homicide cases were recommended for mercy by the tribunal as the result of the hearings held yesterday. More homicide cases of various degrees were submitted yesterday than known at any meeting in a long time.

The men recommended included two who were saved from the electric chair, R. A. Whiting, Fayette, and Anebaldo Lombardi, Mercer, while John, alias, Shine Parker, of Dauphin county, convicted of second degree murder in 1911, was granted pardon.

Decisions were announced as follows: George Mercer, mischief, Lehigh; Heiman Moritz, receiving stolen goods, Erie; Joseph Friel, larceny, Philadelphia; John Parker, second degree murder, Dauphin; John Rogaski, burglary, Philadelphia; James Albright, resisting officer and mayhem, Somerset.

Refused, James Gibson, first degree murder, Allegheny; Robert Henry Brown, first degree murder, Allegheny; Bertie Franklin Mook, first degree murder, Somerset; Joseph Zavarella, second degree murder, Erie; Karl Schwarz, robbery, Allegheny; Anthony McGowan, first degree murder, committed, Allegheny; Rigo Olivieri, manslaughter, Lackawanna; James Shetton, assault with intent to kill, Forest; Harold John Shaner, robbery, Washington; Charles W. Rose, robbery, Washington; Harry Hutchinson, larceny, Philadelphia; Jacob Pesendfer, first degree murder, committed, Philadelphia; Joseph D'Angelo, perjury, Philadelphia; D. Frank Kline, abortion, Lancaster.

WILL BUILD 65 MILES OF ROAD

State Highway Department Arranges For Big Letting in June

Calls for bids for construction of 65 more miles of State highway have been issued by Commissioner Lewis S. Sadler, to be opened on June 17. On May 26, bids for 53 miles and when these two lettings are worked out, it is expected that 325 miles of road will be under contract for reconstruction. Plans are being worked out for building at least 150 more miles.

One of the big projects on which bids have been asked, is for improvement of a part of the main highway from Harrisburg to Gettysburg, while another is between Mt. Joy and Lancaster, others being in vicinity of Erie, Bellefonte, Grove City, Ebensburg and Meadville.

In a summary of the projects issued, the Department says: "The Harrisburg-Gettysburg road, through Cumberland and York counties, will be permanentized almost from end to end. A contract has been let and work started on improvement in Adams county; and in the letting of June 17, bids are asked for 24,275 feet of concrete and brick in Upper Allen township, Cumberland county; and 40,712 feet of similar construction in York county, in Carroll and Franklin townships.

Bids are asked for 37,684 feet of concrete, with a bituminous top, on the Lancaster county end of the Harrisburg-Lancaster road, one of the most important market and tourist roads in the State. This construction begins at a point near Mt. Joy and continues to Lancaster. Other jobs are: In Center county, between Bellefonte and Snowgoose; Chester county, Oxford borough; Crawford county, from Meadville north on the Erie road; in Erie county, 4,660 feet on the trans-State thoroughfare connecting New York and Ohio systems; Lycoming county, from the line of Williamsport city 39,319 feet toward Lock Haven; Mercer county, Grove City borough; Potter county, from the McKean-Potter counties line to Coudersport. There are also two State-aid projects in Erie county. The proposed new roads are for the most part 18 feet wide.

"Announcement will be made in a day or so of 43 bridges of various sizes to be built in 11 different counties.

"The road projects for which bids will be opened June 17 are as follows: Blair county, Gaysport borough, 890 feet; Blair county, Logan township, 23,073 feet; Bradford county, Athens township, 6,640 feet; Cambria county, Jackson township, 32,185 feet; Centre, Boggs township, 27,940 feet; Chester county, Oxford borough, 2,822 feet; Cumberland county, Upper Allen township, 24,275 feet; Crawford county, Woodcock and Hayfield townships, 9,067 feet; Erie county, Girard borough and Girard township, 4,854 feet; Erie county, Wayne township, 20,200 feet; Erie county, Union township, 9,154 feet; Erie county, Mill Creek and Fairview townships, 27,460 feet; Lancaster county, West Hempfield, East Hempfield and Manheim townships, 37,684 feet; Lycoming county, Plant and Woodward townships, 39,319 feet; Mercer county, Grove City borough, 3,678 feet; Potter county, Eulalia and Roulette townships, 26,400 feet; Warren county, Youngsville borough, 5,544 feet; York county, Carroll and Franklin townships, 40,712 feet."

Senate Adjourns For the Week, Too

The Senate adjourned at 5:20 p. m. yesterday until next Monday night at 9 o'clock after receiving from committee the report of the committee in charge declining to recommend the increased salaries. The bill was also amended to provide for an actuary at $5,000.

Senator William Beales, of Adams county, late yesterday introduced in the Senate a bill providing for changes in State highway route No. 32 between Harrisburg and Gettysburg. The new route goes over some existing routes and shortens construction and maintenance necessities. The route will hereafter be Carlele to Mount Holly, York Springs, Hanover, Gettysburg, Newman's Corner, Bridgeville, Arendtsville, Biglerville, Heidelberg and Harrisburg.

Governor Again Assures Teachers

Following a conference with a committee of educators from all parts of the State, which was attended by Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, the new State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Governor William C. Sproul said that he hoped to see enacted before long legislation that would give the teachers of the State a substantial increase in salaries, averaging about twenty per cent. It all depends on the revenue, said the Governor, who said that the Woodruff bill would be the basis of the legislation and that the matter which was holding it up was the revenue. "I think that we shall be able to fall in a week what money we can appropriate. I want to see the districts share in the responsibility in meeting the increase, the State giving ten per cent, and the districts ten, for instance," said the Governor.

Dr. Finegan discussed various phases of educational work with the teachers who met the Governor, going into the problems of rural schools on which he has had wide experience. He will have further meetings at which matters relative to development of the system will be considered.

WOOL GATHERING "Where shall I drop you?" absent-mindedly asked the owner of an air limousine who was taking a friend out for a little ride. "Jog on a few hundred miles further," said the friend. "We've over the Atlantic ocean now" — Birmingham Age-Herald.
