Miss Jean Rauch, whose beautiful voice never fails to charm her audi-ence, sang "The Doughnut Girl." As-sisting her was a chorus composed of ten of the convalescents from the hospital at Carlisle. As Miss Rauch finished, her song she stepped back and joined their ranks just as John A. Tully, Red Cross associate field director at Carlisle, came for-ward to sing, in a voice of great beauty and power, "Salvation Lassie of Mine." Uproarious applause greeted this number, expressing the delight of the listeners.

Before They Loosen and Fall Out-Tender, Bleeding Gums Are Warn-ing Signals of Dangerous Riggs Disease. How to Treat at Home

Don't lose your teeth from Pyor-rhoea or Riggs Disease. It's unneces-sary now. There is no reason why everybody cannot have good firm teeth and healthy gums and be free of the humiliation of sore, diseased gums and unsightly, decaying teeth. You needn't have your teeth pulled or wear false ones. Simply go to H. C. Kennedy, Geo. A. FULL-PAGE COLORED MAP OF NEW FRANCE, BELGIUM, LUXEMBURG by the Peace Treaty-Alsace-Lorraine, Rhenish-Prussia, the Sarre Basin, etc.

The latest and bitterest blow to German hopes, successively disappointed in the Zeppelins, the submarines and the Kaiser, is the discovery that President Wilson and the American people have not secured for Germany a "soft peace." German leaders and German papers angrily protest that America has "betrayed" the German people. President Ebert declares that in the Peace Treaty President Wilson "has deserted his fourteen points," while Lundendorff declares after reading the terms that "if this is peace, America can go to hell!"

In the leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, May 24th, German and American public opinion, as represented by the statements in the leading journals of both countries, is presented. Each of the fourteen points is carefully analyzed in its relation to the terms of the Peace Treaty so that the reader may readily understand just how much justification there is in Germany's protestations.

and cooked just right. Baked potatoes, done to a 'turn" were served with the steak. Hot biscuits, made by the hostess herself, were also served. There were ripe olives, tomato ketchup, coffee and delicious butter which made the biscuits taste exceptionally. fine. For dessert were served some wonderful canned peaches and a large piece of chocolate cake, also made by the hostess.

I was privileged to be one of the guests at this Sunday, night meal. I expressed my appreciation of the very good food and the splendid cooking and the hostess said:

Thank you, but I have served ou with a plain meal, as you know, yet somehow I take greater pleasure in serving a plain meal because my guests usually like it better and besides I think THE BEST THINGS ARE PLAIN.

'Right," said I, "The simple, substantial dishes are always the most satisfactory."

I then remarked to my hostess:

'The steak you served tastes as though it came from Wilson & Co., Chicago. You know I was in Chicago several weeks, going through the Wilson & Co. plant and I saw how they handle their beef. The Beef Department is a wonderful place. I saw how, the beef goes through its several processes of treatment before it is shipped, how it is carefully guarded and inspected before it is allowed to go to the public, and I want to tell you that I never felt so sure of the quality of the steaks and roasts I eat as I did after my inspection of the Wilson & Co. Meat Department. I assume that others in the packing industry are equally careful, but I know what Wilson & Co. do to protect the consumers, so I am naturally predisposed in their favor.

"And the ripe olives you served and the butter and the canned peaches and the ketchup all tasted to me like Wilson & Co. products.'

Then the hostess gave me a very great surprise by saying, with a smile:

"You are right about the steak. It did come from from Wilson &

The Literary Digest An Ideal Mental Bracer

Even the wisest of us are more or less prone to get into grooves as regards our thinking on the great questions of the day. We tend to read the same papers, to listen to the views of the same people, to cling to the same ideas. A novel thought or a fresh conception on any subject of real importance to us finds many barriers of habit and personal bias to break down ere it can find lodgment in our minds. All this makes for stag-nation and shuts out progress. What we need is a mental fillip, the stimulus of a quickening tonic that shall remake our conceptions of things, readjust our conclusions, put sanity and vigor into our whole out-

"That's a wonderful trade-mark when one thinks of it and grasps its full meaning. I do all of the mar-keting for our home and I am very glad that you introduced me to the Wilson & Co. products through your letters. You have told so many nice things about the workers and the fine spirit they show, and you have told us so much about Mr. Wilson and how fair and just he is that I just can't help supporting a house whose principles of business are so fine."
