

NEWS OF CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA AND CITY'S SUBURBS

STREET CARNIVAL FOR ARMY FUND

Sunbury Opens Its Salvation Army Campaign and Prepares Soldier Welcome

Sunbury, Pa., May 23.—A three day street carnival is being staged in Sunbury for the benefit of the Salvation Army Home Service Drive, and it is anticipated that $15,000 will be raised in the borough for the fund.

Every civic and secret organization, as well as fire companies and anybody who is anybody is behind the carnival. Three bands of music, the Gaskins, Sunbury City and Central Pennsylvania Odd Fellows' Orphanage musical organization will give concerts.

Saturday, as a grand finale, a big welcome home parade will be staged for the returned heroes of the Twenty-eighth Division of the National Army. Major General Charles M. Clement, will make the address, and the cavalcade will be more than a mile long, according to arrangements. A service will follow, in which the Sunbury soldiers will be presented with service medals bought by popular subscriptions.

RALLY FOR SALVATION ARMY LIVERPOOL, Pa., May 23.—Sunbury district is measuring up to its quota. J. D. Snyder, H. A. S. Shuler and Wesley Coffman who are in charge of the drive are much encouraged with the loyal response the appeal is being met with in this district. Friday night in the Methodist church a big rally will be held and it is expected that the total subscribed will more than meet Liverpool quota, which is $400. The Liverpool Citizens' Band is taking an active part in the campaign and will furnish music at the rally.

FARMERS TRADE BUTTER FOR OLEO

Give Grocers One Pound in Exchange For Two at Chambersburg

Chambersburg, Pa., May 23.—Franklin county farmers come to town and buy butter and those who prefer it buy oleomargarine. Many farmers buy their butter, selling their milk to the creameries. It is not unusual to find farmers who do churn bringing their butter to the grocers and taking home oleo at two pounds of the latter for one of the former. The creameries have motor trucks covering routes all net-working the county and the consequence is that the farmers make more selling their milk than they used to from butter and save the work of the women churning. Which means good-by to schmerkase.

High Waters Continue in Mifflin County Streams

Lewistown, Pa., May 23.—High water that did so much damage on Tuesday night and Wednesday fell considerably on Wednesday night, but due to heavy rains again yesterday the river and other streams in this section are still high. Many houses in low sections in the county are flooded with water, chicken coops filled with chickens and several pigpens went down the river yesterday. Several persons had narrow escapes from drowning while trying to get stock from barns surrounded with water.

J. M. Yeager, of Yeagertown, is a heavy loser by the flood which reached his electric light plant and coal and wood yards at his home town. Just a short time ago fire did $15,000 worth of damage to his place of business.

Local trolley service was affected by the high water's between this place and Reedsville.

Miss Sara E. Daniel Bride of Leo Leonard

Lykens, Pa., May 23.—A pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in the Catholic church when Miss Sara Elizabeth Daniel, daughter of Mrs. Bertha G. Daniel, of North street, Lykens, and Leo Leonard, son of Michael Leonard, of Sheridan, were married by the Rev. Herscov. William Kute, of Tower City, was best man while the bride was attended by Miss Anna Border, of Main street. The bride was charming in a frock of white net over satin which was draped with the bridal veil, being gathered over the brow with garlands of orange blossoms. Her corsage bouquet was of lilies of valley. Lilies and candles adorned the altar. The wedding music, played by Miss Ursula Smuck, included the usual marches, and the children sang the wedding hymn. Following the services a wedding breakfast was served to the immediate families, after which the young couple left for a trip of several days. Upon their return they will live at Tower City where they will go to housekeeping in their newly furnished home.

"White Eagle" Comes East in Search of Employment

Columbia, Pa., May 23.—"White Eagle," a lone member of a Comanche Indian tribe, in Oklahoma, came to the banks of the Susquehanna river at this place yesterday, after a journey from the Far West and a visit to some of the Eastern cities. He was alone and without relatives or friends among his own people, and sought employment among the whites here. He was given work by a large manufacturing concern and will probably remain until he can raise sufficient funds to continue his journey to other points.
