

BEAUTIFUL TALES ON THE PROGRAM

Story League of City Invites Friends to Hour of Delight on Monday Evening

Invitations have been issued by members of the Harrisburg branch of the National Story Tellers League for an evening of story telling by the members on Monday evening, May 26, in the assembly room of the Civic Club House at 8 o'clock. The event is planned complimentary to the associate members of the league and the many friends who have been interested in the work of the organization.

The program will consist of miscellaneous stories, the beautiful and unusual kind, which the league members are noted for telling. At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Keffer, the retiring president, will turn the affairs of the league over to the new president, Mrs. David J. Reese, after which the active members of the league will meet their guests informally.

The story program will include: "The Firefly," a Japanese story, told by Mrs. Mary Snyder Rowland; "Blind Bartimaeus" (Kate Twiner Bryce), told by Mrs. Roberta Swartz Harling; "The Pied Piper" (Robert Browning), told by Miss Helen Alteman; "The Cross-eyed Bear" (original), told by Mrs. Anna Hamilton Wood; "The Rest of the Story" (John Woodseer), told by Mrs. David J. Reese; "The Thundercloud Giant" told by Miss Rhedna Mayer; "The Shut-up Poo" (Annie Trumbull Sloan), told by Mrs. Keffer.

Your Hat Should Be In Style--- Also In Your Style

"Individuality" is a word so worn out by usage in advertising that we dislike to employ it. Like "distinctive," "discriminating," "women of discernment" and other similar words and phrases, it's threadbare. But we can't think of any other which exactly conveys our thought regarding millinery. Nothing is, or should be, quite so individual as your hat. And nothing makes quite so much difference in your looks.

The millinery department of this shop has scored a phenomenal success. Miss Golden has just that touch of genius allied to a sound foundation of good taste which makes a famous designer. Robert Louis Stevenson said that the great problem in writing was to know what to leave out. That's what Miss Golden has mastered. She knows what to leave out. Her hats are never over-trimmed.

Let us select a model for you which will be individual—which will truly express you. You'll be agreeably surprised at the prices.

STUDY CLUB IN CLOSING SESSION

Members and Guests Enjoy
Programs Completing Year's Work on Modern America

Members of the Study Club and their guests were invited to the residence of Mrs. William Rufus McCord, Bellevue Park, yesterday afternoon and evening for the closing sessions.

Mrs. George Edward Reed, the retiring president, was presented with a bouquet of flowers and a program on "Modern American Composers" arranged by Mrs. Edwin H. Gottschall was successful presented, with a six o'clock supper intervening.

The program opened with "American Songs" a Victrola number, followed by an introductory address on "Music" read by Mrs. Reed. Miss Mary Stuart Blair played delightfully, "Song of the Brook," a waltz of her own composition and "Arietta d' Balletto," Gluck-Joseffy. As illustrations of Indian and Negro folk songs, Mrs. Edwin J. Deceve sang "John's Gone Down on the Island," Burleigh, "Indian Lullaby," Lieurance and "Like Dew on the Grass," Edwin J. Deceve. Tribal melodies on the Victrola were followed by Miss Blair, including "To a Wild Rose" and "Will O' the Wisp" from "Woodland Sketches" and "Polonaise in G Minor." Miss Blair plays with rare grace and interpretation, giving much pleasure by her part of the program. Mrs. Deceve's sweet soprano was heard again in a song of the Wyoming Tribe and Harold McCord gave "Dear Old Pal of Mine" to the delight of the gathering. Mrs. T. S. Blair in her secretary's report gave an interesting resume of the year's work and Marlin O. Sparrow, of Mississippi, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Olmsted, who has been serving with the Engineers in France, spoke of some of the high lights of the war. Part of this interesting program was heard by the husbands of the members who came in for the evening. The pleasures closed with refreshments.

Miss Phyllis Owens and her sister, Miss Frances Owens, went home to Brooklyn this morning after spending a month among relatives in this vicinity.

GYM EXHIBITION THIS EVENING

Members of Physical Department of Y.W.C.A. to Present Pleasing Spectacle

The exhibition to be given this evening in Chestnut street auditorium by members of the physical department of the Y. W. C. A., under the direction of Miss Marjorie E. Bolles, promises to be the best event of its kind ever presented in this city. An elaborate program, featuring many new and interesting numbers, has been prepared as follows:

Part 1, exercises and drills—dumb bells, 1919 Business Girls' Class and Club Girls; Indian Clubs, Advanced Juniors; Wand Drill, 1918 Business Girls' Class and 1919 High School Class; Exercises, Juniors, 5 to 10 years; Free Arm Exercises, 1919 Junior Class; Wand Drill, Advanced Business Girls' Class and Advanced High School Class.

Part 2, Folk and Classic Dancing—May Pole, Club Girls; Couple Dance, Margaret Pollock and Grace Robinson; Sailor Hornpipe, 1919 High School Class; Smiles, Advanced Business Girls' Class and Advanced High School Class; Sleepy Time, 1919 Juniors; Farm Frolics, Juniors, 5 to 10 years; Dance of the Balloons, 1918 Business Girls' Class; Solo, Virginia Shair; Fairy Ballet, Grace Robinson, Fair Hospital Unit, No. 26, in the Misses Simplicity, Advanced Juniors; 1919 Schottische, 1919 Business Girls' Class and 1919 High School class; Skirt Dance, Advanced Business Girls' Class and 1919 High School Class; Solo, Lucy Ord Kemper; Finale, Patriotism, all Classes.

PICNIC IS POSTPONED
Once again, owing to the dampness, the picnic of the primary department of the Market Square Sunday school, is postponed. The youngsters were to go to-morrow to Foxleigh, the summer place of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Fox, and due notice of the new date will be given.

HOME TO DAUPHIN
Corporal Frederick C. Putt, who has been in France one year, has returned to his home, in Dauphin. Mr. Putt was with Company A, Three Hundred and Seventh Engineers, of the Eighty-second Division, and has just received his discharge.

For Saturday's Selling

We are going to offer these garments at prices that will insure quick selling. We feel sure from the way our former sales have been attended that this one will be a large success, as we know that the women that have attended our former sales have found that it pays to come here, as they find that when we advertise any special article that the value is all we claim and in many cases worth more than we claim, so we invite your attention to the following special items for Friday and Saturday. Some lots are not large and we would suggest early shopping.

25 Dresses
Worth Up to $25.00

Some even more. These Dresses are the last of lots, and in most cases are just one of a style and size; the shades are Navy, Taupe, Black and a few other shades. These Dresses are actually less than wholesale cost.

Your Choice at $12.50

25 Misses' & Ladies' Sweaters At $3.95

Worth $5.00, $6.00 and $7.00

These Sweaters are all new Spring models and are all desirable shades and styles at this price. You will buy one even though you did not intend to do so. Remember this lot is limited and will not last long.

30 Dolmans, Capes and Straight Line Coats At $15.00

Former Prices Up to $25.00, $30.00 and $35.00

This lot includes practically all our remaining stock and the former prices are not considered. Our only thought is to make the price such that will insure selling the entire lot quickly. We think we have done so. These garments are serviceable for evenings during the Summer months as well as now.

All Remaining Spring Suits At $17.50 and $25.00

There are still some very desirable suits to select from, mostly Navy Blue, and if you need a Suit this is surely a chance to secure a really good Suit at the prices most stores ask for poorly made and cheap materials.
