

HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH & NEWSPAPER FOR THE HOME

Published evenings except Sunday by THE TELEGRAPH PRINTING CO. Telegraph Building, Federal Square

E. J. STACKPOLE President and Editor-in-Chief F. R. OYSTER, Business Manager GUS M. STEINMETZ, Managing Editor A. R. MICHENER, Circulation Manager

Members of the Associated Press-The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

Member American Newspaper Publishers Association, the Audit Bureau of Circulation and Pennsylvania Associated Presses Eastern office: Finley, Fifth Avenue Building, New York City Western office: Story, Brooks & People, G. A. Building, Chicago, Ill.

Entered at the Post Office in Harrisburg, Pa., as second class matter. By carrier, ten cents a week; by mail, $3.00 a year in advance.

SATURDAY, MAY 24, 1919

But tonight is so utterly cheerless That we may not look for the dawn. —Phoebe Carey.

LOOKING FOR A "GOAT"

Of course we all know that the Railroad Administration has fallen down on its job. That's the reason President Wilson is so desirous of getting the roads back into the hands of their owners.

Now it is unquestionably true that train service has been slowed up since the Government took charge. Nobody would deny that for a moment.

You will note, also, that the passenger trainmen raise no objections to the tight skirts. They are mostly bright, good-looking young men who know a good thing when they see it.

McAdoo has been retained by heirs to break the will of a multi-millionaire out in the Pacific Northwest. Perhaps he has given up having the Presidency bequeathed to him, and isn't afraid of establishing precedents in the will-breaking process.

GERMANY WAILING GERMANY continues to wail over the peace terms imposed by the Paris conference, but even in Hun land there are those who comment with disgust on the protests of their countrymen.

President Wilson is constantly quoted as the one to whom the unregenerate Hun looks for aid and comfort and it is even intimated that he has in a telegram to a lot of pacifists at Berne intimated that the peace treaty which he has been assisting in formulating is rather harsh in its terms.

AS TO MEMORIALS GOVERNOR SPROUL'S views on permanent memorials to the heroes of the war, as expressed in his inaugural address, are emphasized in a special bulletin of the American Civic Association, which likewise urges care in the selection of these memorials even if such care involves delay in their erection.

YOUNG MEN OF THE WHITE HOUSE The man in the White House to cease. He has invited the turning on of the light through Congressional investigation and the super-man idea is due for a severe jolt when the people learn the truth.

Secretary Redfield thinks it strange that laws to prevent restraint of trade combinations for promotion of trade. Was it not his party that denounced the "trusts" which organized in such a manner as to enable them to take advantage of any opportunity to market their surplus products in other lands?

Secretary Redfield thinks it strange that laws to prevent restraint of trade combinations for promotion of trade. Was it not his party that denounced the "trusts" which organized in such a manner as to enable them to take advantage of any opportunity to market their surplus products in other lands?

Secretary Redfield thinks it strange that laws to prevent restraint of trade combinations for promotion of trade. Was it not his party that denounced the "trusts" which organized in such a manner as to enable them to take advantage of any opportunity to market their surplus products in other lands?

OLD AGE PENSIONS

THE Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce has just issued a pamphlet for the benefit of its members, the Legislature and the public at large, dealing with old age pensions and health insurance, that covers the subject in a most thorough manner and should be read by everybody interested.

Anything which tends to increase the burdens of taxation or to limit the rewards of legitimate effort or to reduce the self-respect of the people is contrary to good public policy. A new principle is, however, coming to be recognized by the Legislature.

Anything which tends to increase the burdens of taxation or to limit the rewards of legitimate effort or to reduce the self-respect of the people is contrary to good public policy. A new principle is, however, coming to be recognized by the Legislature.

Anything which tends to increase the burdens of taxation or to limit the rewards of legitimate effort or to reduce the self-respect of the people is contrary to good public policy. A new principle is, however, coming to be recognized by the Legislature.

Anything which tends to increase the burdens of taxation or to limit the rewards of legitimate effort or to reduce the self-respect of the people is contrary to good public policy. A new principle is, however, coming to be recognized by the Legislature.

Anything which tends to increase the burdens of taxation or to limit the rewards of legitimate effort or to reduce the self-respect of the people is contrary to good public policy. A new principle is, however, coming to be recognized by the Legislature.

Anything which tends to increase the burdens of taxation or to limit the rewards of legitimate effort or to reduce the self-respect of the people is contrary to good public policy. A new principle is, however, coming to be recognized by the Legislature.

Anything which tends to increase the burdens of taxation or to limit the rewards of legitimate effort or to reduce the self-respect of the people is contrary to good public policy. A new principle is, however, coming to be recognized by the Legislature.

Anything which tends to increase the burdens of taxation or to limit the rewards of legitimate effort or to reduce the self-respect of the people is contrary to good public policy. A new principle is, however, coming to be recognized by the Legislature.

Anything which tends to increase the burdens of taxation or to limit the rewards of legitimate effort or to reduce the self-respect of the people is contrary to good public policy. A new principle is, however, coming to be recognized by the Legislature.

Anything which tends to increase the burdens of taxation or to limit the rewards of legitimate effort or to reduce the self-respect of the people is contrary to good public policy. A new principle is, however, coming to be recognized by the Legislature.

Anything which tends to increase the burdens of taxation or to limit the rewards of legitimate effort or to reduce the self-respect of the people is contrary to good public policy. A new principle is, however, coming to be recognized by the Legislature.

Politics in Pennsylvania

No action is likely to be taken by the Senate committee in charge of the House resolution to fix June 19 for final adjournment during the coming week, but work will be done up to the session as soon as possible.

Members of the House will ask that the Senate act upon the resolution and there is talk of a request for June 12. Some expressions of opinion that the Legislature may not adjourn until June 26 are heard.

Members of the House will ask that the Senate act upon the resolution and there is talk of a request for June 12. Some expressions of opinion that the Legislature may not adjourn until June 26 are heard.

Members of the House will ask that the Senate act upon the resolution and there is talk of a request for June 12. Some expressions of opinion that the Legislature may not adjourn until June 26 are heard.

Members of the House will ask that the Senate act upon the resolution and there is talk of a request for June 12. Some expressions of opinion that the Legislature may not adjourn until June 26 are heard.

Members of the House will ask that the Senate act upon the resolution and there is talk of a request for June 12. Some expressions of opinion that the Legislature may not adjourn until June 26 are heard.

Members of the House will ask that the Senate act upon the resolution and there is talk of a request for June 12. Some expressions of opinion that the Legislature may not adjourn until June 26 are heard.

Members of the House will ask that the Senate act upon the resolution and there is talk of a request for June 12. Some expressions of opinion that the Legislature may not adjourn until June 26 are heard.

Members of the House will ask that the Senate act upon the resolution and there is talk of a request for June 12. Some expressions of opinion that the Legislature may not adjourn until June 26 are heard.

Members of the House will ask that the Senate act upon the resolution and there is talk of a request for June 12. Some expressions of opinion that the Legislature may not adjourn until June 26 are heard.

Members of the House will ask that the Senate act upon the resolution and there is talk of a request for June 12. Some expressions of opinion that the Legislature may not adjourn until June 26 are heard.

DAYS OF REAL SPORT

THE FIRST BAREFOOT OF THE SEASON

state Commerce, Foreign Relations and Elections committees, but in compliance with requests from the Democratic conference, agreed to reduce the Republican majority on other committees to two members.

Saga of the Flying Fleet

Into the fog of the Banks they zoomed, where the winds blew cold and the billows boomed. Over the old wrecks sand entombed.

Into the fog of the Banks they zoomed, where the winds blew cold and the billows boomed. Over the old wrecks sand entombed.

Into the fog of the Banks they zoomed, where the winds blew cold and the billows boomed. Over the old wrecks sand entombed.

Into the fog of the Banks they zoomed, where the winds blew cold and the billows boomed. Over the old wrecks sand entombed.

Into the fog of the Banks they zoomed, where the winds blew cold and the billows boomed. Over the old wrecks sand entombed.

Into the fog of the Banks they zoomed, where the winds blew cold and the billows boomed. Over the old wrecks sand entombed.

Into the fog of the Banks they zoomed, where the winds blew cold and the billows boomed. Over the old wrecks sand entombed.

Into the fog of the Banks they zoomed, where the winds blew cold and the billows boomed. Over the old wrecks sand entombed.

FLYING SIX MILES HIGH

HOW it feels to fly approximately six miles high is explained by Major R. W. Schroeder, who believes that, with due preparation he can climb to an altitude of more than 30,000 feet.

HOW it feels to fly approximately six miles high is explained by Major R. W. Schroeder, who believes that, with due preparation he can climb to an altitude of more than 30,000 feet.

HOW it feels to fly approximately six miles high is explained by Major R. W. Schroeder, who believes that, with due preparation he can climb to an altitude of more than 30,000 feet.

HOW it feels to fly approximately six miles high is explained by Major R. W. Schroeder, who believes that, with due preparation he can climb to an altitude of more than 30,000 feet.

HOW it feels to fly approximately six miles high is explained by Major R. W. Schroeder, who believes that, with due preparation he can climb to an altitude of more than 30,000 feet.

HOW it feels to fly approximately six miles high is explained by Major R. W. Schroeder, who believes that, with due preparation he can climb to an altitude of more than 30,000 feet.

HOW it feels to fly approximately six miles high is explained by Major R. W. Schroeder, who believes that, with due preparation he can climb to an altitude of more than 30,000 feet.

HOW it feels to fly approximately six miles high is explained by Major R. W. Schroeder, who believes that, with due preparation he can climb to an altitude of more than 30,000 feet.

HOW it feels to fly approximately six miles high is explained by Major R. W. Schroeder, who believes that, with due preparation he can climb to an altitude of more than 30,000 feet.

HOW it feels to fly approximately six miles high is explained by Major R. W. Schroeder, who believes that, with due preparation he can climb to an altitude of more than 30,000 feet.

Has Haig Forgotten?

[From the Pittsburgh Dispatch] The complete report of Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, copies of which have reached Washington, is being held in abeyance by American officials.

[From the Pittsburgh Dispatch] The complete report of Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, copies of which have reached Washington, is being held in abeyance by American officials.

[From the Pittsburgh Dispatch] The complete report of Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, copies of which have reached Washington, is being held in abeyance by American officials.

[From the Pittsburgh Dispatch] The complete report of Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, copies of which have reached Washington, is being held in abeyance by American officials.

[From the Pittsburgh Dispatch] The complete report of Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, copies of which have reached Washington, is being held in abeyance by American officials.

[From the Pittsburgh Dispatch] The complete report of Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, copies of which have reached Washington, is being held in abeyance by American officials.

[From the Pittsburgh Dispatch] The complete report of Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, copies of which have reached Washington, is being held in abeyance by American officials.

[From the Pittsburgh Dispatch] The complete report of Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, copies of which have reached Washington, is being held in abeyance by American officials.

[From the Pittsburgh Dispatch] The complete report of Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, copies of which have reached Washington, is being held in abeyance by American officials.

[From the Pittsburgh Dispatch] The complete report of Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, copies of which have reached Washington, is being held in abeyance by American officials.

Evening Chat

More co-operation between farmers, cattle dealers and veterinarians has been obtained in the last three weeks by the State Department of Agriculture as the result of a drastic quarantine against hog cholera in sixteen counties than ever known before.

The average man who is connected with Capitol Hill these days is regarded by the general public as a busy man. While the nation's men in uniform are in the States offices get all kinds of inquiries from how to get jobs on and off the Hill, the method of applying for positions is being studied by the personnel of the State government.

District Attorney Charles H. Clippinger, of Franklin county, who also is chief draft inspector at the State Selective Service Commission, has been short and stout, but alert and, when the occasions demands, can be pugnacious. He doesn't mind being short and that his appearance is short and stout, but alert and, when the occasions demands, can be pugnacious.

Highway Commissioner Lewis S. Sadler has a fine sense of humor and a full appreciation of the difficulty of pleasing everybody interested in good roads. He is particularly successful in meeting the requirements of those who favor improved highways, is a compliment to his keen intelligence and a tribute to the persons themselves.

SOMETIMES Sometimes, when going a weary mile, We wonder, if we should rest awhile And seek old friends whom we used to know.

Notwithstanding the fact that the State draft headquarters is closed in Harrisburg, the Allies of the War Department, telephone calls and telegrams are coming to this city from people wanting to talk to Major Murdock. Because of the wide effect of the draft, the Major became a sort of guide, counselor and friend of lots of people and they cannot understand why they cannot consult him now about the record of relatives and the numerous other matters which arose in the administration of the draft and which, while not of importance except to the persons themselves, demand attention from the Major. The result is that there are numerous inquiries which are suspended somewhere with the Major's office closed and the inquirers having no place else to go.

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE

Col. W. H. Zeldt, well known in National Guard circles, is in charge of the new employment service in Wilkes-Barre. He recently returned from France. Warren P. Laird, University of Pennsylvania professor of architecture, is working on plans for the new Delaware River bridge. Provost Edgar F. Smith, of the University of Pennsylvania, has received telegrams from university alumni all over the State yesterday in honor of his birthday. W. A. Kessler, who presided at the convention of Pennsylvania draftmasters, is postmaster of Homestead.

DO YOU KNOW

—That Harrisburg ships has been used for cargo steel for the new merchant marine? HISTORIC HARRISBURG Harrisburg was a center of evangelistic effort over 150 years ago, meetings being held on the river bank.