WAR TRUCKS FOR STATE HIGHWAYS

National Government to Turn Over More Than 250 For Use on Pennsylvania Roads

Over 250 motor trucks will be turned over to the State of Pennsylvania for work in connection with improvement of roads with Federal aid within a short time.

There will be 252 trucks in all, 169 being now at Indianapolis; five at Atlanta, 35 at Cleveland and 43 at Baltimore, the latter being heavy three-ton aviation trucks. The trucks will be distributed from Harrisburg and sent where needed, being used preferably where national aid is being employed to complete main thoroughfares.

Gross Receipts Taxes

Many thousands of dollars are reaching the State Treasury now as State taxes on gross receipts, this being the period of the year when such taxes are payable.

The tax is levied at the rate of eight mills and owing to the increase of receipts of numerous companies, especially utilities, the State income from that source will be higher.

Settlements of a number of taxes in dispute have also been effected by auditor General Charles A. Snyder.

Big Perch Hatch

What is declared by State Commissioner of Fisheries, N. R. Bulles to be the largest perch hatchery in the world for distribution into the lakes and streams of the State has just been completed at the State fish hatcheries and at some establishments have been so extensive that the facilities will be hard put to care for all of them.

The aggregate is declared to be double that of the best previous season and to run far into the millions. Distribution, however, will be made mainly from yearling fish so that there will be a minimum of loss.

The department is now making big distributions of young perch, trout and salmon. It is expected that the distribution will be undertaken this fall will be very extensive. Between two and three million fish were put out last season.

Grade Crossing Cases

Complaints of the State Highway Department against grade crossings in Lerneer and Schuylkill county, which are part of a series of yellow actions launched to abolish dangerous places on main highways will be heard here Tuesday by the Public Service Commissioners.

The following day a similar proceeding regarding a crossing at Marcus Hook will come up. Among the complaints listed for hearing will be interesting charges, including charges that the Fayette County Gas Company has not complied with orders of the commission in previous complaints and reparation asked from a Perry county narrow gauge railroad which had charged under the act of 1917.

Complaints about West Chester street railway service and Tamaqua gas and electric rates are also to come up. The commission has listed for Philadelphia on Thursday complaints of the United States Emergency Fleet Corporation against the Delaware County Electric company, and complaints against trolley fares in Holmesburg and electric extension rates in Philadelphia.

Officers Named

Commissioner of Health Edward Martin has appointed the following health officers: H. C. Sumner, Shenon, for Hickory township, Mercer county, William K. Bechtel, Bakers Summit, Bedford county, Bloomfield, Woodbury and South Woodbury townships, Bedford county; F. B. Schure, Laurelton, for Lewis and Hartley townships, Union county; R. Bryan Thomas, Parker's Landing, for Allegheny and Parker townships, Armstrong county; L. D. Watson, for Lenwood, appointed registrar of statistics for Gregg township, Union county.

For Standard Baskets—Standardization baskets and similar receptacles for fruits and vegetables is to be undertaken by the State Department of Agriculture through its bureau of markets it was announced here today when arrangements made for a general meeting of fruit growers, farmers and others interested here next Thursday.

This is the result of complaints about the difficulty in size of baskets which seems to be the only thing noticed by buyers, although capacity is often printed on the sides. Some of the complaints have come from people who have the big peach crop and berry crops of Pennsylvania, which have been increasing in size and variety the last few years. It is the plan to set standards and recommend standards of weights and have them established by orders of the Standards and Markets Bureau.

Fred P. Downing, of the United States Bureau of Markets, and J. E. Stacey, of the Railroad Administration, have accepted invitations to attend the conference.

General Vaccination—Steps to bring the general vaccination in Cumberland Valley sections where smallpox has recently appeared have been taken by the State Department of Health, owing to discovery that men who worked on delivery wagons have been taken ill. The infection is believed to have been brought from Hagerstown.

Work on Farms

The House Education Committee has reported the Woner bill to amend the compulsory education feature of the school code so that pupils living 70 per cent of the school season so that it will apply only to pupils over 14 years of age. The original bill removed the provision that children could be kept out of school to work on the farm 70 per cent of the school term and required compulsory attendance the whole school year.
