

HAWKER GIVEN BIG RECEPTION BY LONDONERS

His Plucky Little Wife Gets Great Ovation at Railroad Station

London, May 28.—Harry G. Hawker and Lieutenant Commander Mackenzie Grieve were given a remarkable reception on their arrival in London last night from Northern Scotland, where they were landed Monday morning after their unsuccessful attempt to fly across the Atlantic ocean from Newfoundland to Ireland in an airplane.

Such enthusiasm as was shown in the greetings of the two intrepid aviators, for whose safety after they had failed to arrive at their destination on scheduled time the world had been fearful, probably never has been exceeded, except in the times of coronations.

A forerunner of the great welcome that the aviators were to receive came during the afternoon when Mrs. Hawker went to the railway station to proceed to Grantham to meet her husband. The throng about the station loudly cheered the plucky little woman, who never gave up confidence that her husband, although he would be rescued, even though the hours he was overdue grew into days and finally reached a week.

Arriving in London, headed by an Austrian band and a body of Australian troops and a large number of automobiles, Hawker and Grieve passed through the densely packed streets on the way to the Aero Club. Another delegation in the parade, which was accompanied by a band, was composed of workers from the Sopwith works, where the machine in which Hawker and Grieve attempted to span the ocean was constructed.

The first official welcome was accorded the aviators on the station at St. Pancras by the Mayor of that borough, but still another was given them inside the Aero Club building. After the ceremony at the Aero Club the aviators were entertained by the Sopwith workers.

Like Mrs. Hawker, Mr. and Mrs. Grieve proceeded up the line and met their son and had him welcome and congratulated him on his rescue before he reached London.

Asked whether he would make another attempt to fly across the Atlantic Hawker said last night: "I don't know. It depends upon the support firm."

WOMAN'S CONDITION CRITICAL

Reports today that Mrs. Rosie Levinson, 2134 North Sixth street, is in a serious condition as a result of drinking oxalic acid in mistake for medicine on Monday afternoon.

Doctors prescribe Father John's medicine for children who need building up.

Let us talk plain English; let us call a spade a spade. Your food ferments and your stomach isn't strong enough to digest the food you put into it, so the food sour and forms poisonous gases, and when these gases leave your stomach it has not furnished proper nourishment to the blood, and has left the stomach in a flabby condition.

Take Mi-o-na stomach tablets if you want to change your flabby stomach to a healthy, clean, purified one.

Mi-o-na falls to relieve your indigestion, rid you of dizziness, biliousness and sick headache, your dealer will cheerfully refund your money.

If you want to make your stomach strong that it will digest a hearty meal without distress, and you want to be without that drowsy, all tired feeling.

KOREAN PEOPLE GO WILD OVER JAPANESE RULE

Become Reckless Through Cruel Military Lawlessness

Peking, May 28.—Conditions in Korea resulting from the independence movement there where the Koreans are endeavoring to shake off the rule of Japan, are becoming worse, according to the Rev. Edward W. Thwing, Oriental secretary of the International Reform Bureau, who has just returned from Korea.

"The Koreans began the independence movement with the intention of using only peaceful methods," the Rev. Thwing told the Associated Press correspondent, "but the Japanese soldiers have so treated them and stirred them up that they are now wild and reckless. No one can tell what will come next. Seeds of hate and future trouble are being widely sown. Christians often suffer most. I have visited several places in Korea during the uprising and everywhere it is the same kind of cruel military lawlessness. One Korean Christian pastor said: 'We cannot stand it. They beat us like pigs and cattle; and we are men.'"

"The Japanese are always trying to discover supposed plots and conspiracies," continued the Rev. Mr. Thwing. "They even claim to believe that the missionaries started the revolution. They try to get Korean spies to go into the houses of foreigners. They search the houses of American missionaries, looking for no one knows what. In a town that I recently visited, we were shadowed by a Korean who was described to me by a missionary as 'the cleverest spy in town.'"

SPIDERS SHORT CIRCUIT CABLE LINES IN SOUTH

Buenos Aires, May 28.—Spiders are working havoc with cable communication between the United States and Argentina, Brazil and parts of Chile, as well as paralyzing interior telegraphic routes.

The ground spider spins a heavy web, which the wind sometimes wraps around the wires. These masses become very damp during a humid spell and short circuits are thus caused.

Large forces of linemen are following the wires across the pampas and the mountains to-night, removing the accumulations.

Knights of Columbus Thanked by Pershing For Work With Army

A letter from General Pershing, received by William J. Mulligan, Chairman of Knights of Columbus War Activities, expressed in warm terms appreciation for what the Knights of Columbus have done for the American Army abroad, before and since the armistice was signed. General Pershing, in his letter said: "I wish to express through you to the Knights of Columbus my appreciation and that of the officers and men under my command for the valuable services rendered by your organization to the American Expeditionary Forces," wrote General Pershing.

"The active work of your organization in France began early in 1918, was well under way by the spring of that year, and has been increasing in scope ever since. Before the cessation of hostilities the workers were attached to many of the combat divisions and recreation huts had been opened in the principal American concentration centers. Numerous commanding officers have commended the devotion to duty of your personnel, and have testified to their popularity and helpfulness among the troops whom they served."

"During the armistice, it has been particularly active in the promotion of athletics, a most valuable factor for health and contentment. It has also contributed to the success of the entertainment program by numerous appropriations for musical instruments and equipment of soldier shows, has increased its general recreational activities, helping materially to maintain the morale of the Army during the inevitable period of waiting to go home."

SCHOOL TAX MAY GO TO 14 1-2 MILLS WITH NEW YEAR

Board Not Assured Thirteen and One-Half Mills is Sufficient

Raising the tax rate from 11 1-2 to 13 1-2 mills the city school board yesterday afternoon by a vote of seven to two, approved the budget for the 1919-1920 season and provided revenue to meet it and to pay the deficit of $55,000 which will exist at the close of the present school year.

Director John F. Dapp during the special board meeting yesterday afternoon predicted that next year the board would in all probability face the necessity of another millage increase of at least one mill, provided the present program of school development is carried out.

Only Way Out
Dr. F. E. Downes also told the directors that because of the inconvenience and difficulty in arranging schedules for teachers at the Central High school for the double sessions, a force of instructors must be maintained there, which is about one-third larger than would be needed in a new high school with only one session.

Directors George A. Werner and Dr. C. E. L. Keen were the only two opposing the tax increase. Both declared they were in accord with every expenditure provided in the budget, but did not favor a two-mill jump in the tax charge. Dr. Keen attempted to have the rate fixed at 12 1-2 mills, one mill higher than at present, as Director Werner opposed any increase, urging the board to continue to operate under the present rate and accumulate a deficit of about $115,000, to be met next year.

He suggested the sale of property at Third and Harris streets and the present continuation school, this money to be used for general expenses. Other officials of the board declared that they could not legally use funds from the sale of the properties for general maintenance.

Want No Reduction
At the opening of the session a letter from the Chamber of Commerce urging the Board not to reduce the appropriation for community center work was read by Secretary D. D. Hammelbaugh.

As soon as the budget was mentioned, Director Dapp said that the careful investment of the school district funds they would earn $12,000 interest in a year, instead of $5,000, the amount listed in estimated revenue for next year. A lengthy discussion followed in which the majority of the members participated and it was finally decided to take action at the next regular meeting.

Director Werner commended the committee in preparing the complete budget this year, but declared the deficit should certainly be carried over until conditions are "more settled" predicting they will be next year.

Poor Business
It was evident by the time Mr. Werner stopped speaking that a sufficient majority of the directors favored a two-mill increase so that there would be no deficiency next year. President Robert A. Enders and Directors Cameron L. Baer and

MR. MONTGOMERY CELEBRATES HIS 85TH BIRTHDAY

One of City's Oldest Businessmen Receives Many Congratulations

JOSEPH MONTGOMERY

Saturday was the eighty-fifth birthday anniversary of Joseph Montgomery, one of Harrisburg's oldest business men and volunteer firemen, and in the evening, a delegation of members of the Citizen Fire Company No. 3, called at the home, 237 State street, to congratulate their oldest and most esteemed veteran member. They went to the Montgomery home with their chemical truck and steam fire engine and took with them a box of Mr. Montgomery's favorite cigars. The committee, headed by President Charles P. Meek, consisted of Dr. William E. Vallerchamp, Frank Ferguson, James Brady, Robert Wilson, Charles Six and others. The visit was a surprise to Mr. Montgomery, and he gave his fellow members a hearty welcome. Director Dapp presented the veteran fireman with the box of cigars as a testimonial from the Citizen Company, and the visitors remained there for some time, while Mr. Montgomery talked of the work of this old volunteer fire organization with which he had been actively connected from the time of the hand engine, hand-pulled, on to the apparatus drawn by horses and now to the up-to-date motor-driven engine and chemical.

Mr. Montgomery joined the Citizen Fire Company February 1, 1850, when he was sixteen years old, and has been a member more than sixty-nine years. When first admitted to the company membership he was one of the "torch carriers," a position usually filled by the youngest members. Mr. Montgomery was elected first assistant engineer of the Harrisburg Fire Department in 1868, when the department was first organized, and the next year he was re-elected for the full term.

On the evening of February 17, 1868, Mr. Montgomery was seriously injured at a fire at the hardware store of Anthony King, at the corner of Third and Market streets, where the Kunkel Building now stands. An explosion of benzine or oil took place in the cellar of the store, wrecking the building. Twenty firemen, including Mr. Montgomery, were hurt. Three of them were members of the Citizen, ten of the Washington, six of the Friendship and one of the Hope. Mr. Montgomery at that time was president of the Citizen Company, and his injuries were the most serious, disabling him for several weeks.

Joseph Montgomery, a son of James and Sarah A. (Pelpher) Montgomery, was born in Harrisburg, May 24, 1834. He was educated in the public schools of his native city and in his boyhood entered the employ of the Peiper East Freight Line, with which he remained until his retirement from active work a few years ago, although he is still the senior member and president of Montgomery and Company.

MAN'S VOICE LOUD AS GUN WITH WIRELESS BOOSTER

Vacuum Valve Makes It Possible to Magnify Sounds to Tremendous Extent—Used by Navy

San Francisco, May 28.—A man's voice can be made as loud as the cannon's roar; it can be heard two or twenty miles. The ticking of a watch can be amplified until it sounds like breakers on an ocean cliff.

"It's no trick at all to magnify sound four or five million times, or indefinitely," said Tom Lambert, a wireless telephone engineer, to-day. "All that is needful is to connect a number of vacuum valves in multiple with a wireless receiving set, and the thing is done. At the first receiving contact a voice will be normal. Cut in one vacuum valve and it is raised seven times; therefore it squares itself—seven times seven to forty-nine for the next vacuum valve, and forty-nine times forty-nine for the next, and so on."

"I mean volume of sound, not power of transmission," explained Lambert. "In a test recently a phonograph was connected with an amplifier at midnight, and we were lifting it up gradually to supply all San Francisco with song and amusement when the police urged us to desist."

"In the stadium at Golden Gate Park the ticking of a watch was made audible all over the grandstand while an athletic meet was in progress. Captain Robert W. A. Brewer, an experimenter, moved off 2,000 feet and spoke quietly to his dog, and the dog couldn't be held. A wireless station which I am not permitted to name recently received a telephone message from Europe, and through its amplifier started duck hunters in the marshes eight miles away."

Mr. Lambert exhibited one of the vacuum valves. Its exterior resembled an ordinary sixteen-candle electric light bulb. Through the glass, however, could be seen electric winding that was dissimilar. Around a filament was wound convolutions of wire called a "grid." About the grid was an encircling metallic plate. The current, it was explained, passed through each in the order described. The incoming wireless signals travel down the aerial wire to the tuning set and then to the vacuum valve, which is a "detector," or receiver.

For practical purposes the vacuum valve has its use as in warships, where the wireless telephone speaks its message through a horn to several officers, instead of to one using earpieces. It can be availed of in any other way that we should adhere to the calendar order unless the bills are revenue measures or something like that."

Consideration of several bills on the first reading calendar of the House was prevented to-day because they were not on the files. When the bills were reached, Mr. Fox, Philadelphia, raised objections, which were sustained.

SMITH COMPENSATION BILL
Senator Frank A. Smith, Dauphin, this morning reported out in the Senate the remaining two bills amending the workmen's compensation act, which he introduced some time ago. The measures will come up for action next Monday evening.

Dr. Keen then made a statement in which he praised President Enders and Dr. F. E. Downes, city superintendent, to remark that such a proceeding would not be legal if the money were to be used for general expenses.

"I know it is always an unpopular move to increase a tax rate, but in this case it has to be done, as we can't do with less money. In order to bring this question to a head I will move that the rate be made 13 1/2 mills." Director Dapp said at the close of the discussion about selling school property.

Several members seconded, but Mr. Baer was recorded as doing so. Dr. Keen then moved to amend the motion and make the rate 12 1/2 mills. Mr. Dapp said he would second the amendment motion in order to get it before the Board for a vote, but also stated he would not vote for the 12 1/2 mill rate.

Dr. Keen then made a statement in which he praised President Enders and Dr. F. E. Downes, city superintendent, to remark that such a proceeding would not be legal if the money were to be used for general expenses.

Continuing his statement Dr. Keen predicted a rate of 14 1/2 mills next year if the Board continued to spend money at the present rate. Director Dapp at once replied that if the Board carried out the program now under way an increase of one mill next year might be necessary.

Dr. Keen was the only one to vote for the amendment to make the rate 14 1/2 mills, the other eight members

Hartman, choir leader, will sing Kipling's "Recessional" and the choir under his leadership will render Buck's "Te Deum."

Consideration of Bills Out of Order Stopped

Chairman Ramsey, of the House rules committee, served notice on members of the House that he would object to consideration of bills out of order. Mr. Mallory, Venango, had moved to bring up a bill far down on the list.

"I object," said Mr. Ramsey. "This would establish a bad precedent. I think that we should adhere to the calendar order unless the bills are revenue measures or something like that."

Consideration of several bills on the first reading calendar of the House was prevented to-day because they were not on the files. When the bills were reached, Mr. Fox, Philadelphia, raised objections, which were sustained.
