

HOG CHOLERA THE ONLY TROUBLE

Good Reports on Live Stock Made by Agricultural Department Experts Now

According to officials of the State Department of Agriculture, the reports made on Pennsylvania live stock this spring show generally good conditions.

In a bulletin issued to-day Secretary Rasmussen says: "The estimated losses of livestock in Pennsylvania from disease during the winter and spring, according to reports compiled by the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Agriculture, is expressed in percentage of the whole number as follows: Horses—the loss is estimated at 2 per cent., or twenty horses on an average out of every thousand. The losses last year were 2.5 per cent. Cattle—losses, 2 per cent., compared with 2.6 per cent. last year. Sheep—losses, 2.2 per cent., compared with 2.7 per cent. last year. Swine—losses, 3.1 per cent., compared with 3.2 per cent. last year. There were no outbreaks of any importance except an epidemic of hog cholera, which prevails in seventeen southeastern counties and has been under quarantine for some time. Reports coming to the Department show that the disease is under control and again demonstrates the wisdom of quarantine."

The Secretary also says: "Corn planting is well advanced throughout the State. Truck crops and tobacco growing slowly on account of cool, cloudy weather. Wheat and rye are in fine condition."
