ROME BUTTER MAD; MOBS FIGHT FOR IT

Rome, May 28.—Octonarians of both sexes participate every day in Rome in spirited melees for fresh butter. The fights occur at 6 o'clock each morning and 7 each evening. Butter is so scarce in Rome that when any is put on sale at a creamery the place is stormed by buyers. Aged men and women, girls, boys, persons of all ages, engage in a scramble for it. Women have part of their clothing torn off and scream from pain in the pressure of the mob. They emerge with disheveled hair and raging countenances, fire mad at the roughness of the others. If a woman is successful she receives two ounces of butter for which she pays thirty cents.

tons of marketable product. It was explained that the company had discovered several new pockets of coal since then that can be mined. Mr. Sekol fixed the amount of coal as yet unmined as 65,000,000 tons. Of this figure that 60 per cent. could be taken out and of that of this 60 per cent. only 75 per cent. would be placed on the market, leaving the final total of 29,000,000 tons which he gave as his revised figure. Mr. Sekol has spent two weeks on the coal properties, studying acreage and tonnage. He will occupy the coming week figuring on costs of production, all factors considered, and the price which the company gets on the open market, in an effort to find the actual valuations of the coal.

and Monday. The two Mitchells, herself and Alverda Williams, colorblind, participated, she said. The Williams woman was arrested later with Abbie Smith. She is held by the police until the result of the post-mortem on Mitchell's body is determined. Released From Jail Mitchell and his wife had been released from the Dauphin county jail on Sunday morning after completing their thirty-day sentence on a disorderly-practice conviction. Shortly after their release they went to the Smith woman's rooms. The "dope" party started almost immediately. Liberal quantities of cocaine, morphine and heroin were used. Mitchell used all three of the drugs freely, it is said, and it is believed that the drugs were the cause of his collapse. Mitchell had been in jail for thirty days. It is not believed he had received any drugs during that time. There is a possibility that the drug got into an artery.

Third Term For Wilson Hinges on League Fate, Party Chairman Thinks

Chicago, May 28.—President Wilson's candidacy for a third term will be determined largely by the fate of the League of Nations, in the opinion of Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, who came to Chicago to-day to preside at a two days' session of that body. "While I have no information regarding President Wilson's intentions about becoming a candidate for a third term, I believe that the question largely rests on the fate of the League of Nations," said Chairman Cummings. "If the League of Nations should by any chance be defeated, and this to mind is unthinkable, the president would be obliged to run again would be very great, and I feel certain that he would be re-elected. If the League of Nations is successful, I do not think the pressure would be nearly as great."
